CHESTERTOWN:
SATURDAY MORNING.....Dec. 2, 1882.

Fox-Hunting Sport.

The "Elkridge Fox-Hunting Club," of Baltimore, is composed of both ladies and gentlemen, and their excursions in Baltimore and Howard counties are said to be the most delightful imaginable. But all are not found upon the backs of prancing steeds and leaping five-rail fences in the chase. The easy carriage finds its place in the hunt and not only are the ladies preferring but we are told many of the gents also linger about the wheeled vehicles.

The Baltimore papers of last Monday state that a number of fox-hunting dogs have been imported from England for the Elkridge Hunting Club, and that this Club were out last Saturday for a drag hunt, which turned out an agreeable surprise in the starting and capture of a live fox. The Sun gives the following particulars. The meet was at the kennels, Pimlico, at 3:30 P. M., and was attended by a large number of members of the club and spectators. Among the members mounted, and many of them in pink, were Messrs. Alex. Brown, master of hounds; Fred. Shriver, Geo. S. Brown, Joseph H. Voss, John B. Morris, Jr., Charles Lee Andrews, Harry Harwood, Frank S. Hambleton, John A. Morton and T. Swann Latrobe. Misses McTavish, McHenry and Andrews were also mounted. There were in carriages Miss, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Deford, Mrs. and Miss Montague, Misses Bonsal, Dr. and Mrs. Fitzgerald, Mrs. Jackson, Miss Belle Cross and the Misses Williams. Mr. Padelford's four-in-hand coach was occupied by a party among whom were Miss Lydia Morris, Mr. and Mrs. John C. George, Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Sigourney and Mr. Robert Riddle Brown. Mr. Osmun Latrobe and Miss Dana were mounted, but did not follow the hounds. The drag had been laid from the kennels across the Pimlico road, and thirty hounds were in the chase. Several fine jumps were well taken by the riders, though one or two of them went to grass. Near the old snuff factory a fine fox was suddenly started from cover and the hounds turned at once on his trail. The hunters followed at a very rapid pace, and after a run of fifteen minutes the fox was captured and killed in full view of the carriages. A high fence was between the riders and the hounds, which was cleared by Mr. Latrobe, who was first in at the death. Messrs. Harwood and Voss secured second and third places. Two riders fell in getting over the fence, but were not hurt. The brush of the fox was badly torn, but the mask was secured by Mr. Latrobe.

Curious Lawsuit.

A GEORGIA LANDLORD SUED FOR DAMAGES RESULTING FROM BITES OF A RAT.

From the Atlanta Constitution.

A singular suit has been held for trial in the City Court. The plaintiffs are Rev. George W. Baker and his wife, Mrs. Caroline H. Baker. They have instituted suit against Mr. W. A. Huff, propietor of the Markham House, for $10,000 as damages for several bites from a rat which Mrs. Baker received while a guest of the Markham in June last. In the petition, which is filed by Mr. Baker, he sets up that he is a Baptist minister and is engaged in the sale of books of a religious character, and at the time of the injury for which he seeks damages his wife was selling a book called the "Baptist Encyclopædia," on every subscription to which she received from $1 50 to $2 in commission: that her average monthly earnings were $200 up to the time at which she was bitten by the rat, and that without that injury she would have continued to earn that amount. The injury was received as follows: In the month of June, Mrs. Baker, in the prosecution of her work, came to Atlanta and became the guest of the Markham, of which hotel Mr. Huff is the proprietor. She was assigned to a room on the second floor, which she describes as one of the highest priced rooms in the house. At night she retired after extinguishing the light, when suddenly she felt the cover on the bed move. She reached out her left hand, when her arm was seized by a large rat, which, she says, was so infuriated that before she could take the hand away she was bitten in eight places. The wounds became inflamed and the arm became badly swollen, and erysipelas set in. The arm appeared as if it would mortify, and it seemed that Mrs. Baker would lose it and perhaps her life. Mr. Baker recites the trouble, expense and pain which have been caused to himself and wife, and puts the damages at $10,000, $600 of which is set down as an actual loss, as what would have been his wife's earnings for three months, and $500 as an expense for medical attention.

Maryland Oysters.

After the most thorough inspection of the oyster beds of the Chesapeake bay and its tributaries by the Commissioners appointed under the authority of the last Legislature, the commissioners find that the ratio of marketable oysters to dead shells is less in every case than the ratio, given by Messrs. Lugger and Winslow, of the U. S. Navy, who investigated the subject in 1878 and 1879. The scarcity of young oysters is very marked, and all beds give present evidences of exhaustion.

This report of the Commissioners will be corroborated by every resident upon our water courses, by every packer and dealer, and by every dredger and tongsman in the State. The truth is—there are no bounds to the cupidity of man, and while the oyster beds of Maryland yield a dollar to the oystermen, they will be dredged and scraped until exhaustion leads to the starvation of those who follow this for a livelihood, and they will have to abandon it from sheer necessity. The day is not far distant when there will be no oysters except those reserved and protected in the planted beds of gentlemen living directly upon the water. We believe it to be impossible to protect by legislation or by a public oyster police, this great interest of our State, unless in the private coves and inlets where they are planted by individual enterprise. If the Commissioners, also, hold this opinion, they can do no better than to recommend such legislation as will foster and increase the number of such private or individual enterprises, for it is manifest that the oysters will ultimately be broken up and destroyed except in planted beds, which must be rigorously protected by law, if existing statutes are insufficient for such protection. We have bestowed no little reflection upon this subject, and we can arrive at no other conclusion.—Westminster Adv.

Advantages of Advertising.

If you want the best prices for your property at a sale—advertise—not only by attractive bills, but in the newspapers. No other mode of advertising equals that of a widely circulated newspaper. The increased number of bidders will pay your printing expenses many times over.

The truth is, few people appreciate, as they should, the advantages of advertising. If you want anything, advertise for it—make your wants known. If you have anything to sell—say so through the newspaper. That is what the newspaper is for—a medium of communication between the people, a vehicle of intelligence upon all subjects, and especially upon business subjects, of a local as well as a general character. It goes far and near, into every nook and corner, into every house and place of business, in town or country, and communicates with thousands of people who pour over its pages and scan its columns, receiving all it imparts, in the way of business as well as of local and general intelligence.

If you want to sell a farm,
If you want to buy or rent a farm,
If you want to buy, sell, or rent a house,
If you want to buy or sell stock,
If you want a farm laborer,
If you want a cook or other servant,
If there is anything to sell,
ADVERTISE, and thus make it known.

Tell the public through the newspaper, which is at once the cheapest, most expeditious, and most effectual way of communicating with the public, and the best of all agencies, whether you want to buy or sell. If you want success—advertise.

MR. HENDRICKS'S CONDITION.—An Indianapolis dispatch to the New York Times says the condition of ex-Gov. Thos A. Hendricks continues to improve, but very slowly. The Indianapolis Sentinel of Saturday says: "Those who are permitted to enter the chamber where this great man with patient serenity awaits the recuperative process of nature and skill have their confidence in his ultimate recovery strengthened, as everything betokens health except the foot where the troublesome disease is situated, and this infirmity is yielding to such remedial agents as the best medical skill can supply. Among the most intimate friends of the Governor, however, the probability of his ultimate death is freely admitted.

MATTRESSES made of needles from South Carolina pine boughs are said to cure pulmonary and rheumatic ailments, and an active trade in them has been established.

WHEN I have a baby at my breast nothing is so useful for quieting my nerves as Parker's Ginger Tonic. It prevents bowel complaints, and is better than any stimulant to give strength and appetite.—A Newark Mother.

LETTER FROM ROCK HALL.

Editors Kent News:—Doubtless you have heard of the burning of Mr. J. H. Edes' house, near Edesville, last Saturday morning, but I thought I would send you the particulars. The fire was first discovered about 8 A. M., but they think it must have been burning in about the chimney all night, for the oldest daughter, Miss Minnie, heard a cracking several times in the night and thought of fire and looked, but did not find it. They think it must have originated by a crack or crevice in the chimney, where there was a wood fire in the fireplace, on first floor. Mrs. J. H. Edes went up stairs to call Minnie, her daughter, who had been suffering with the toothache, on Friday night, and had taken an anodyne to deaden the pain, and found the room very warm, and concluded the house was on fire and gave the alarm. Almost certainly Minnie would have been burned to death if her mother had not gone up stairs at the moment of her imminent peril, for almost in a second after the flames burst out in that room. Mr. J. P. Edes and all the family went to work with buckets of water, and in a few moments the neighbors came in crowds to their help, but soon found they could not save the house from ashes, then they went for the goods to try to save as many as possible. They got out everthing on the first floor, among which was the desk of Mr. James H. Edes, containing some money and all of his valuable papers, indeed everything belonging to the old gentleman was saved, he lost absolutely nothing, (not even his tobacco box). Mr. John P. Edes, lost nearly all his furniture, about $25 in cash, all his clothes, except what he had on, all his books and papers. His is a specially sad case (afflicted as he is). Mrs. E. in her fright and efforts to help, got her back hurt very badly; it has not been long since she took her arm out of the sling, because it had been broken. She is certainly a brave woman, but so unfortunate. The smaller child, Hattie, lost all her clothes too. Minnie, the oldest daughter, did not save even a pocket-handkerchief. She lost all, every vestige of clothes. Some of them very costly, and some fine jewelry. Miss Minnie is a very worthy young lady and deserving of substantial sympathy. Mr. Edes is in his 83d year, but bears his loss well; he told me he built the house in 1842 and now saw the end of it. Mr. John P. Edes fell from the top of the house and it seemed providential that he was not killed. He was hurt right badly. He and his wife were taken in a carriage to the house of Mr. Ringgold, and tenderly cared for; they are better now, and have moved into an empty store house at Edesville, pro tem. The old gentleman proposes to built at an early date; Mrs. E. told me that the neighbors have been exceedingly kind, and they would extend their hearty thanks.

Yours truly, M. M. G.

REPORTED GOOD FORTUNE OF A MARYLANDER.—Referring to the item recently quoted in the Sun from the St. Louis Globe-Democrat, in which it was stated that John Durand, a French wig-maker, formerly of Fredericktown, Md., but now residing in the West, had fallen heir by the death of a relative in France to a fortune of $5,000,000, the Cecil (Md.) Democrat says: "The Durand family some years ago lived near New Leeds, Cecil county, and three of them are buried in the Catholic cemetery in this town. Two sisters, Miss Mary, who now lives in Jenkintown, Pa., and Miss Josephine, now living in Egg Harbor, are well known in Elkton, where they make occasional visits. One of their brothers moved South and died of yellow fever in New Orleans, and another brother moved West, and this is in all probability the one to whom, if the report is true, this fortune has been left.

HOLIDAY PRESENTS.—It is the custom of all who can afford it to make Presents to friends and loved ones at least once a year, and a real good habit it is. The only matter that bothers givers is what to buy. We come to the rescue, and suggest, is there anything more useful than a Suit for your boy or husband, especially when you can get quality, fit and the lowest prices in the State from C. N. OEHM & SON, Hanover and Pratt Sts., Baltimore.

BALTIMORE MARKET.—The Baltimore papers of Thursday quote as follows:

WHEAT—Longberry $1 10@1 15; Fultz $1 03@1 09 for fair to good. CORN—White, prime 52@70; yellow, 62@78. OATS, Maryland, 46.

CHARLES A. MILLER'S [TRADE MARK]
QUINTESSENCE OF
Phosphated Iron, Quinine & Strychnia
Put up in Pills and in Liquid Form,
And is a sure cure for DEBILITY resulting from any cause, thinness or sluggishness of the blood, derangement of the Digestive Organs, Diseases of the Nervous System, Typhus, Typhoid and Intermittent Fevers, Ague and Fever, and is the very best counteracter of malarial influences and cure for malarial diseases, and as a nervine and sedative, quieting the nervous system, and inducing Refreshing Sleep, it has no equal. It is endorsed by medical practitioners here and is frequently prescribed by them in their practice, and is considered one of the very best remedial agents known for the diseases for which we recommend it. We challenge the closest scrutiny into its composition and virtues. Read the following:
EXPLANATION OF THE ABOVE MEDICINE.
PHOSPHORUS—Means light, and medically imparts strength and vigor to the system, as the rays of the sun do to animal and vegetable life.
IRON—Is a purifier and enricher of the blood, the most important of the constituents of the human body.
QUININE—Is the Tonic of Tonics, and exercises a powerful and healthful influence upon the digestive organs, and finally STRYCHNIA—In very small proportions (as in this combination) is a most excellent nervine, acting upon and regulating the entire nervous system. Ask your physician about the above formula, and he will say it is good.
Price in large bottles $1; Trial bottles 35c.
Pills in boxes $1 per box, or six boxes for $5. Sent by mail to any point, free of charge, upon receipt of price. Prepared and sold by
DAVIS & MILLER,
No. 12 N. Howard St., Baltimore.
A pamphlet of full explanations of the above medicine, and treating of its composition and administration, and stating the diseases to which it is applicable, will be cheerfully given to any one who may call on me, it will be sent free to any address furnished by postal card, and will also hereafter accompany each bottle. o21y.
