SATURDAY MORNING.....JULY 28, 1883

VISITED AFTER LONG ABSENCE.

GALENA, July 22, 1883.

Editors of Kent News:—Gentlemen:—For the first time in many years I am making a lengthy visit to my native county. I have ridden over the greater part of the county, and am unable to say which is greatest, my surprise or delight at the many radical changes and decided improvements. The old-fashioned, long and low hip-roofed and dormer-windowed, white-washed houses are rapidly giving place to handsome modern painted residences. The venerable worm fences of the past are now as rare as well-trimmed hedges were formerly. Fields that I can remember as being little better than cow commons now produce thirty and even forty bushels of wheat per acre. The road from Still Pond to Betterton, which was considered unsafe to drive by reason of the steep hills, may now be trotted over with scarcely a slack in the speed of your horse. But the most radical change I note is in the number and character of amusements for the young. On Wednesday evening I attended the most enjoyable picnic of my life—where an excellent supper was served in the open air, and an opportunity given to dance by moonlight in good company. It was given by the Catholic Church at Galena, and held in McCauley's woods, near that place. This, I learn, is now an annual occurrence, but "it didn't use to be."

I feel fully repaid for a ride of over twenty miles by being present at an entertainment of a dramatic character, by the "F. F. Society" of Still Pond, on last Thursday evening. It opened with the old nursery story "Cinderella," which was well played throughout and would have done credit to actors of more experience and greater pretensions; Cinderella was just what she should be according to the fable, "the fairest lady in all the land," a perfect little beauty, whom it would need no fairy to transform into a charming city belle. Singing of "Kathleen Mavourneen" and Emmet's "Violet Song" followed "Cinderella," and was sweetly sung. Two tableaux, "The Harvest" and "The Old, Old Story" came next, and the program for the evening was concluded with the amusing farce "What's in a Name." The neighborhood folks seemed to appreciate the "F. F's" effort, for in spite of a threatening gust, the house was full enough for comfort; and the audience could have been no more orderly, refined and universally respectable, had they assembled to admire the lovely Langtry, or to listen to the enchanting voice of Patti. The sympathy and the character of the audience, no doubt was a source of just pride and inspiration to the "F. F's," and ought to serve to encourage them to other efforts, for such performances develop the mind, give grace to the deportment and cures one of their youthful bashfulness—thus combining profit with pleasure, an end always most desirable. Amusement is as necessary to human happiness as comfortable clothes, and the more refined the amusement the more enlightened will be the people who participate in it.

I have with pleasure observed many other changes which though new to me are old in the county, and will not mention now. I have been in most of the richest parts of this country, but have seen none which afford more pleasant homes nor a people with whom I could so easily fraternize, than those of old Kent. I am proud of my birthplace. URIE TOWNSEND.

LETTER TO THE NEWS.

The Nomination—A Bad Horse—The Grange Hall—Petty Depredations—Colored Picnic.

Messrs. Editors:—I have hesitated whether or not to congratulate my esteemed friend, your junior, on his nomination to the State Senate, "Uneasy lies the head that wears a crown" whether imperial or senatorial, and I call to mind the story of a good citizen who on receiving a nomination hastened with all celerity to consult his better half, and impress upon her the necessity of reminding him of all his youthful peccadilloes, that he might be ready to refute the slanders which he expected to be circulated to his detriment. I am very sure however that William Barger Usilton need have no fears on this score. He must allow an old friend to say, what his natural modesty would forbid him to say, that no man in Kent county could present a record cleaner than his, nor could his party have offered a candidate more acceptable to the voters of the county, so far as I am able to judge. Though my democracy is not quite strong and pronounced enough to secure a vote in the primary meeting (nor for that matter my republicanism), yet I hope to have the pleasure of casting one vote for him and a part of his ticket at the election.

A wicked horse is that driven by a drummer for the house of Levering & Co., coffee dealers at Baltimore. A few days ago I am informed that he kicked that prince of gentle ostlers in your town, Mr. Turbott. Last week he kicked Lemuel Pearce, ostler at Tolchester, a careful man with horses. The account of his injuries was greatly exaggerated, but he undoubtedly received an ugly wound in the face, cutting his lip so that he could make known his wants only by writing. Stablemen should look out for this vicious nag.

The materials for the Hall of Fairlee Grange are being placed on the ground and its completion is promised in September.

Allow your old friend a trifle of personality. Such are the petty depredations on property hereabout that it is useless to plant melons or sweet potatoes outside the pale of the garden, or for that matter within, and I desire to offer a reward in the way of coals of fire on his head to the individual who tore off my garden palings and trampled my vegetables. If he or she will come forward and own up I promise to give him, or them, the best lecture I can get up on the eighth commandment; and to the malicous gentleman who for pure mischief takes down my neighbor Kendall's bars to permit my cow to depasture his fruit trees and vegetables, I will present the best treatise I can find on the precept "do unto others as you would have them do unto you," and a decaying squash into the bargain.

A grand picnic of the colored Sabbath School of this vicinity took place at Woodland Hill on Saturday a week ago. A band of music and a crowd of visitors made things lively up to the "wee sma' hours." The design was to raise funds to build a room for the school. Wi·h what degree of success has not transpired. The school is in charge of Frisby Spencer. Yours for the nonce. SIMON SHARP, of Fairlee—not Locust Grove.

WESCOT LOVELL's carp pond, in Talbot county, nearly dried up during a drouth, and he concluded that the fish had all perished. After a recent rain he found the pond teeming with fish, some of them weighing over three pounds, and he now believes that the fish were buried in mud during the dry spell.

THE death of ex-Gov. Swann leaves the following ex-Governors of Maryland now living: Philip Francis Thomas, elected in 1847; Oden Bowie, elected in 1877; Wm. Pinkney Whyte, elected in 1872; James Black Groome, elected by the legislature in 1874; and John Lee Carroll, elected in 1875.

PLOWS! PLOWS!
The New REMINGTON CLIPPER
(CARBON METAL,)
is now acknowledged to be the culmination of Plow improvements. All we ask is for the farmer to take it home and try it before purchasing any other. He will say he has never seen its equal.
We respectfully refer farmers to J. Z. Clark, Fletcher Melvin, Lewis C. Justis, and others, as to the merit of the above Plow. For sale at city prices.

CITY TRADE.
"Yes, sir, I am from the country; but I entertain a modest suspicion that I am sufficiently intelligent to know the difference between ancient and modern styles. What I want is a suit of clothes that was made some time during the present century." "Certainly," says the polite salesman addressed. "You can be accommodated, for you are now at the GREAT CLOTHING EMPORIUM OF C. N. OEHM & SON, where everything is made for the City Trade; consequently there can be no distinction in showing goods to our friends from the country. Here the Styles are set, and, as you see, there is nothing old to select from. All the Patterns are new, novel and pleasing, and for Cut, Fit and Finish we are acknowledged without a rival. Your experience has evidently been among the expensive clothing houses, where they devote considerable time to window exhibitions and chromo distributions. With us there is no necessity for such devices. Our goods are all marked in plain figures, and our Prices always lower than any other house in the city."

Every Garment sold is guaranteed to be exactly as represented, or the money will be refunded by
