SATURDAY MORNING.....JULY 28, 1883

GOV. HAMILTON has appointed Hon. Josiah H. Gordon judge in the fourth judicial circuit, in place of Judge Pearre, deceased.

SENATOR GROOME will accept our thanks for bound volumes of the Congressional Record and other valuable public documents.

HON. MONTGOMERY BLAIR died on Friday morning of last week at his home, Silver Springs, in Montgomery county, Md., aged 70 years.

THE Kentucky election takes place next Monday, and though the republicans have been making an aggressive campaign, there is but little doubt that the democrats will be successful.

THE Pennsylvania democratic State convention on Wednesday nominated Robert Taggart, of Warren county, for auditor-general, and Jos. Powell, of Bradford county, for State treasurer.

THE jury in the case of ex-Treasurer Polk, tried at Nashville, Tenn., for embezzlement of State funds, brought in a verdict of guilty, and fixed the penalty at twenty years' imprisonment in the penitentiary and a fine to the full amount of the embezzlement, which was about $400,000.

THE town of Cismicciola, on an island near Naples, in Italy, was almost entirely destroyed by an earthquake or subsidence of the ground last Saturday night, and two neighboring towns were much damaged. It is estimated that 5,000 persons were killed and a large number wounded.

JAMES CAREY, the informer in the Phœnix Park murder trials in Dublin, was shot dead last Sunday on the steamship Melrose while she was between Cape Town and Port Elizabeth, South Africa. The deed was committed by a fellow-passenger named O'Donnell. The London Daily Telegraph says the government have little doubt that Carey was followed from Dublin. They believe that the Fenians had taken most elaborate measures to prevent his escape. Carey was traveling under the name of Power and had his family with him. O'Donnell surrendered himself quietly. He was placed in irons and handed over to the police when the steamer arrived at Port Elizabeth. The news of Carey's death caused many exhibitions of delight on the streets in Dublin. A large crowd gathered in front of his late residence, cheering loudly because the informer was killed. The Dublin authorities believe that O'Donnell is a man who was implicated three years ago in the attempt to blow up the Mansion House in London, and who escaped with Coleman to New York. The government selected Africa as the safest place for Carey. It is doubtful if he knew his destination before sailing. Although the killing of Carey was a cold-blooded murder, few people will sigh at the terrible fate of the wretch who deliberately consigned his companions to the gallows to save himself.

THE PEACH CENTRE.—It is Moving from Delaware.—We find the following in a peninsula exchange:

A very intelligent peach-grower of Delaware, one who has been long in the business and has studied the subject thoroughly, said to the writer a few days ago:

"Do you know there is a peach centre, as clearly defined as the centre of population reported in the United States census? Well, there is, and it is very interesting to observe how it has fluctuated and changed year after year. The peach centre has been moving steadily southward for years; now, for two or three years, it has been disposed to deflect somewhat to the westward, moving in a course west of south. It used to be in New Jersey; then the peach centre got down into Delaware. It was held about Middletown for several years. Last year the peach centre was near Clayton; this year I think it will be found in Caroline county, probably about Henderson or Goldsborough.

"How is it found? Why, by carefully studying and comparing the statistics of shipments. After the season is over we know to a basket how many peaches were shipped by rail, where they were grown, and statistics nearly as accurate can be obtained from the water transportation lines. This, combined with data obtained by private investigations, will enable a careful calculator who has the patience to go through the work, to determine with much accuracy the peach centre of the peninsula, and if a similar data is obtained from all the peach growing districts of the country, and the proper calculations upon them made, you may determine just what point is the centre of the peach product."

Political Memoranda.

As will be seen by advertisement in this issue the Republican State Central Committee of Kent county have issued a call for district primaries to be held on Saturday, August 11, to select delegates to a county convention to meet in Chestertown on the following Tuesday to nominate a county ticket and elect delegates to the State convention.

Cecil county primaries Saturday, August 4; county convention Tuesday, August 7. The fight between Groome and Constable is watched with interest. Judge Stump's friends are working with Senator Groome in this fight, and it is the general opinion that Mr. Constable will be beaten this time.

Harford county primaries August 4, to nominate candidates for county offices on the Crawford county plan, and August 11 to elect delegates to the county convention to name representatives in the State convention.

Montgomery primaries Saturday, August 11, county convention Monday, August 13.

Dorchester primaries Saturday, August 18, convention Tuesday, August 21.

Caroline primaries Saturday, August 25, county convention Tuesday, August 28.

ANNE ARUNDEL PRIMARIES.

The Anne Arundel county primaries last Saturday resulted in the defeat of the Bannon ticket. The county convention was held on Tuesday, when five anti-Hamilton delegates were selected to the State convention. Dr. George Wells, the present incumbent, was nominated for the State Senate, and a compromise was effected by giving the Bannon men two of the four candidates for the House of Delegates. The reporter of the Baltimore Sun says:

The action of Bannon's delegation as shown by their votes, was accepted as proof that their chief proposed to go to his tent for a sulk. In the morning the Wells people held a conference and sent over to the Bannon side to offer a compromise of some sort. The latter wanted Mr. Bannon for Senator, and would not agree to his going for the lower house. Finding this would not go through, they agreed among themselves to present Judge Iglehart, who has standing as a conservative democrat. Dr. Wells was understood to be in the hands of his friends, who, without faltering, decided that he should be the senatorial nominee. He and Mr. Bannon had made the fight, and Dr. Wells, they said, had squarely won. It would not be chivalrous to give to another the well-earned fruits of his victory. Mr. Bannon, they argued, would have demanded and received the nomination if his side had gained the day. They were willing to give the Bannon side two candidates for the Legislature and make other concessions, but owed it to Wells to stand by him for the Senate. The ticket, as nominated, is made up of good material, and its friends say it will have a strong showing in the canvass.—Mr. Bannon had previously canvassed the situation, and finding that, after all he could do, the issue would be Wells 20, Bannon 15, he betook himself to law and the courts, and cast politics behind him. Dr. Henkle said Bannon will vote for the ticket and that will be all; that he is a good canvasser and his help would have been important. This was about the way his friends expressed themselves, but it was thought that many of them will act differently before the election. Anne Arundel is by no means a sure democratic county, but Dr. Wells is an indomitable worker. His popularity in the Annapolis district was proved when he received nearly the whole vote at the primary last Saturday. The situation in Anne Arundel at present seems to be that the winning side are satisfied that they made fair and reasonable concessions. The minority are displeased because they could not get the other side to give way on the senatorial issue, and Mr. Michael Bannon has assumed the roll of a retired politician.

DISAPPEARANCE OF A BRIDE.—John Keifer, of Highspire, Pa., and Miss Arndt, of Elizabethtown, were to have been married at the latter place on Sunday evening last. While the lady was preparing for her bridal Mr. Keifer went for the minister, but on his return to her father's house she had disappeared. The unhappy Keifer was forced to return to Highspire alone, and had to meet a large company assembled there at his invitation to welcome home the bride. Though the company was disappointed, the bridal supper consoled them. As Mr. Keifer was forty-two years of age, and the lady only fourteen, it is probable that a younger lover had persuaded her pit her old beau.

DR. JUDSON GILMAN, aged 65 years, a prominent physician of Baltimore, died Wednesday evening of disease of the liver and blood-poison.

WESTMINSTER, Md., July 28.

Editors of Kent News:—Sirs:—The American Sentinel, of this city, under date of 21st instant, quotes an item from your editorial columns to effect, viz: That Hon. Chas. B. Roberts, of Carroll county, had withdrawn from the political arena of 1883, and that his reason for so doing was that he found politics very costly, and that, therefore, on account of his poverty, he did not wish his name to be used as a probable, or eligible candidate for office. Permit me to say such is not the case. Mr. Roberts is an important factor in politics at this time. He is not by any means a poor man, but has money and property and is liberal. He is willing to accept office and voters throughout the State are working for him. Carroll must give the Governor or Attorney-General to the State, and Charles B. Roberts, Esq., is the man Carroll would honor. D.

CENTENNIAL SERVICES.

Last Sabbath special interest centered about "Old Dudley's Chapel," located in Queen Anne's county, about two miles west of Sudlersville.—This is the oldest Methodist church building on the Eastern Shore of Maryland—having been erected in the year 1783. At three different times the church has undergone considerable improvement. Recently the building has been cemented on the outside, kalsomined and painted, the pulpit and altar-railing cut down to modern dimensions, etc. Last Sabbath the church was reopened for public worship, as well as special services being held in view of this being the "centennial" year of its history. Kindred and friends of those who had worshipped in this old historic church in the days of "auld lang syne," came from various parts of this and adjacent counties, who, with the people of the community, made an unusual gathering—numbering twice as many perhaps as the old building with its elevated end gallery, could possibly accommodate. An interesting Testimony Meeting, at 9 o'clock A. M. introduced the exercises of the day. At 10½ A. M. Rev. J. S. Willis, of Milford, Del., preached an eloquent and able sermon from Matt. 24 chap., verse 21. At 2½ P. M. a reunion service of former pastors and friends was held, a larger audience than that of the morning even being gathered.—The present pastor, Rev. J. O. Sypherd, read an interesting historical sketch of the church, and addresses were made by Revs. W. B. Gregg, J. Barton and E. P. Aldred. In the evening, Rev. E. P. Aldred, of Chestertown, preached to a large audience from 1st Samuel, 7th chap., 12th verse. The pastor at the close of the morning service stated that the expense of recent improvements was about $350, and called for the raising of that amount. The sum realized from cash and subscriptions in the morning, and basket collection in the afternoon was $194. The Sabbath closed out grandly and will long be remembered as a "gala day" in the history of Methodism in this part of her work. Thus the old building, in which Bishops Coke, Asbury and Scott preached, as well as Revs. Freeborn Garrettson, Boehm, Hartley, Waters, Bishop, Sharpe, McCombs and others of the fathers, enters hopefully upon the second century of its history. May it be a more splendid record even than that of the first. A.

A ROMANTIC MEETING.—When the steamer British Crown arrived at Philadelphia on Monday from Liverpool a nervous old gentleman ran eagerly up the gang-plank. On the deck was an old lady anxiously awaiting him. They had seen each other long before the vessel reached the wharf, and the recognition was immediate, though they had been separated for twenty-eight years. The old lady was Miss Benedicta Price, 63 years of age, and the old gentleman, who is 70, was her intended husband. Thirty years ago they became engaged, but they were not able to be married, and the gentleman set out for America to make his fortune. The lovers had kept up a regular correspondence ever since, and the lady had at last come over to be married.

EZEKIEL W. DAWSON, a young man living at Smyrna, Delaware, who has been at work for several years trying to invent a hedge trimming machine, has succeeded and had the same patented. The knife of the machine, which is to be propelled by a horse, can be adjusted so as to cut the hedge in almost any shape, and even the opposite side of such a fence from the machine can be trimmed. It is said to be a very ingenious piece of mechanism, and is calculated to be useful in trimming five miles of fence per day.

BALTIMORE MARKET.—The Baltimore papers of Friday quote as follows:

WHEAT—Longberry $1 15@117; Fultz $1 12@1 14 for fair to good. CORN—White, prime 59@61; yellow, 62@63 OATS, Maryland, 42.

THE FRUIT SEASON.—Busy Scenes on the Light and Pratt Street Piers—Prevailing Prices.—The piers along Light and Pratt streets seldom present a busier appearance than they do just now. Every description of bay craft, laden with canteloups and watermelons from the Nanticoke, Choptank and York rivers, arrive and are immediately moored alongside the wharves and docks, and the work of unloading quickly begun. Two continuous lines of vehicles move in opposite directions during the entire day, and at times Pratt and Light streets are almost impassable to vehicles and pedestrians. Melons and cantaleups, the principal fruits, are of good quality and uniform size. The Nanticoke and Choptank melons are now arriving in large quantities and are the favorites as compared with the York river and North Carolina melons. The yield on the Eastern Shore is said to be up to the average, both in number and quality. The farmers are sending many melons of the ice-rind variety to Baltimore this season in preference to any other kind, and they are said to bring better prices, while in the Northern cities the other varieties are in better demand. Berries and peaches are arriving in large quantities by the bay steamers, though the local demand has equaled the supply, and there has as yet been no demand for them by the canning establishments. The following are the prevailing prices at the wharves and piers for the most important fruits: Watermelons, $6 to $25 per 100; cantaleups, $3 to $7 per 100; huckleberries, 55 to 65 cents per bucket; peaches, $1 to $3 per box; apples, $2 to $3 per barrel.—The Day.

THE body of Capt. Webb, who was killed last week in the foolhardy attempt to swim the rapids at Niagara Falls, was found floating in the river a short distance below Lewiston, N. Y., on Saturday. An inquest was held immediately, and a verdict of found drowned was rendered. The head had apparently been cut open by a rock.—This wound was considered sufficient in itself to have caused death, and it is thought that the Captain sank immediately after receiving it.—The body was sent to the widow in Boston. A post-mortem examination of the body was made on Sunday by three physicians. It showed that none of the injuries on the body were capable of causing death, except the cranium wound, and that, the doctors decided, was produced after death. None of the characteristic symptoms of drowning were apparent, and it was therefore concluded that death "resulted from the shock from the reactionary force of the water in the Whirlpool Rapids coming in contact with the submerged body with such force as to instantly destroy the respiratory power, and in fact all vital action, by direct pressure from the force of contact. The shock was of sufficient intensity to paralyze the nerve centres, partially desicate the muscular tissues, and forestall death by drowning."

VERNON FOR AUGUST.—First week.—Warm to sultry entry of month, changing to cooler, cloudy and stormy weather at end of week, with general rainfalls and wind-storms. Second week.—Changeable, with frequent rain and storms, abrupt changes of temperature. Close of week warm to sultry, with severe thunder and hail storms in majority of sections. Third week.—Sultry heat, rain and thunder storms of daily occurrence. Great deal of rain so far this month. Fourth week.—Storms continue with intensely hot and oppressive periods. The month ending cooler, wet and with high winds and gales.—Altogether a wet and unfavorable month. Considerable damage through hail and wind-storms.

THE sea lion, which for several weeks had been the most popular attraction at Druid Hill Park, Baltimore, died at 11.30 o'clock Thursday night of last week. He was fed as usual at 7.30 P. M., devouring 12½ pounds of bay mackerel, beside two golden ides weighing 7 pounds each, which he caught in the pond. He then seemed in good health except an unusual purplish color of the eyes. Capt. Cassell, the park superintendent, says he acted just like a horse with colic in his sickness, groaned, rolled and flopped around.

HOMER J. SMITH, cashier of the National Bank at Orange, N. J., entered a Delaware and Lackawanna train at Hoboken, N. J., on Saturday with $10,000 in a valise. He had scarcely taken his seat before a man began to beat him about the head with a piece of lead pipe, and then made an unsuccessful grasp for the valise. Passengers went to the rescue of the cashier, and three men who ran from the train were arrested after an exciting chase. One of the men is said to be Nugent, of Manhattan Savings Bank notoriety.

THE Orphans' Home at Easton is to have a new wing costing $3,000, and to be finished Oct. 1.

QUINTESSENCE OF
Phosphated Iron, Quinine & Strychnia
Put up in Pills and in Liquid Form,
And is a sure cure for DEBILITY resulting from any cause, thinness or sluggishness of the blood, derangement of the Digestive Organs, Diseases of the Nervous System, Typhus, Typhoid and Intermittent Fevers, Ague and Fever, and is the very best counteracter of malarial influences and cure for malarial diseases, and as a nervine and sedative, quieting the nervous system, and inducing Refreshing Sleep, it has no equal. It is endorsed by medical practitioners here and is frequently prescribed by them in their practice, and is considered one of the very best remedial agents known for the diseases for which we recommend it. We challenge the closest scrutiny into its composition and virtues. Read the following:
EXPLANATION OF THE ABOVE MEDICINE.
PHOSPHORUS—Means light, and medically imparts strength and vigor to the system, as the rays of the sun do to animal and vegetable life.
IRON—Is a purifier and enricher of the blood, the most important of the constituents of the human body.
QUININE—Is the Tonic of Tonics, and exercises a powerful and healthful influence upon the digestive organs, and finally STRYCHNIA—In very small proportions (as in this combination) is a most excellent nervine, acting upon and regulating the entire nervous system. Ask your physician about the above formula, and he will say it is good.
