☞ DON'T FORGET THE MASS-MEETING IN CHESTERTOWN THIS AFTERNOON.

THE Baltimore election settles the result in Maryland on the sixth of November. McLane's majority in the State will not be less than fifteen thousand.

THE Maryland State Fair will be held at Pimlico, October 30, 31 and November 1 and 2 next. Extensive arrangements have been made for a successful exhibition.

EVERY democratic paper in Baltimore opposed Latrobe. Yet he won by over three thousand. All of them support the Democratic State ticket, and it will win by an overwhelming majority.

SOMERSET CERTAIN!—A correspondent of the Baltimore Sun gives a glowing account of the mass-meeting held at Princess Anne last Saturday, and concludes by saying that "the election of the democratic legislative ticket in Somerset county is considered certain!"

THIS is a year for Democrats to vote the Democratic ticket. Every vote now counts for 1884. Encouragement to the Republicans in any quarter means just so much more hard work and uncertainty next year. Don't let any Republican slip in.

A WAIL FROM CHARLES.

The Result of Republican Rule in the Counties of Maryland.

In every county of Maryland where the Republicans are in power the taxation is greater than in the Democratic counties. In St. Mary's the citizens pay a State and county tax footing up one hundred and nineteen cents in the hundred dollars—a higher rate than is paid by any other county in the State. The county is and has been for years in the hands of the Republicans—more than half of the whole vote of the county being colored.

In Charles county the same condition of affairs exists. The public roads are parcelled out to the colored voters as pap for their suffrage;—the county almshouse is a great hospital for the entertainment of numberless colored idlers and others too lazy to work; indeed in every department of the county there is inefficiency and extravagance to such a degree that the people are groaning under the load of taxation and annoyance resulting therefrom.

A local paper—the Port Tobacco Times—published in Charles county, thus bewails in piteous grief the sad condition of affairs in that county:

"Thus has the bad domination in this county been gradually and surely sapping the resources of our county and blighting its material prospects by alienating our young men, repelling immigration, stirring up strife and discord between employers and employed and keeping taxes at an oppressively high rate. After ten years of this mal-administration, the affairs of the county have reached a deplorable condition. Here we have been constantly retrograding since the war, while in almost every county of the South where this bad domination has been broken down the course has been one of continual progress.

"The rates here are higher than almost any county in the State, being kept up almost to the highest war rates. All the offices of the county, with a few exceptions are loosely and inefficiently administered, and there is a painful suspicion existing in the minds of the people that there is a chapter in the financial management of the county which has not been revealed. The last statement of the county commissioners is not in compliance with law, and the manner in which the books are made to balance is to say the least very unsatisfactory. There appears to be no account of the $5,000 which the county is known to have borrowed about a year ago, and other manifest irregularities are shown. An investigation of the county books will probably make grave disclosures. Hence it is that the local election overshadows in the minds of our thoughtful citizens all other political considerations. All true citizens of the county regardless of political convictions, must admit the necessity of a change and all things now point hopefully to the fact that a change is to be made."

FIRE AT ANNAPOLIS—Two Lives Lost.—A disastrous conflagration took place in Annapolis Monday morning which involved the destruction of twelve houses in the business part of the city and the loss of two lives. Eight of the buildings burned were brick and four of wood. The total loss of property is estimated at $90,000, which is only covered by insurance in part.

The fire broke out at 4 o'clock in the morning in a three-story brick building, occupied by Louis S. Clayton as a grocery store, and owned by Wm. T. Iglehart, on the market space, fronting the harbor of Annapolis. The upper floors of the house were occupied by Mr. James Legg and family as a dwelling. The family included Mr. Legg and his wife, their son, Charles C. Legg, aged 40 years, Miss Elizabeth Watkins, a sister of Mrs. Legg, aged about 83 years, and several grandchildren. The family were all asleep when the alarm was sounded. A bright light was discovered in the store of Mr. Clayton by a man who lives on Main street, near by. He went at once to the entrance of the dwelling, at one side of the store, and battered down the hall door. Rushing up stairs he caught up a child and brought it down safely in his arms. In the meantime the family of Mr. Legg was aroused, and had barely time to make their escape in their night clothing. Mr. Charles C. Legg, one of the first to get out safely, remembered that his aunt, Mrs. Watkins, an aged invalid, was yet in the house, and although the flames had made great progress, he went back to rescue her, and they both perished in the flames.

MARYLAND CLOVERSEED CROP.—The cloverseed yield in Sassafras Neck, Cecil county, Md., averages three bushels to the acre. The Cecil Whig says: "The largest yield we have heard of yet was one farmer who secured thirty-five bushels from ten acres, and the lowest, one who only got twenty bushels from twenty-five or thirty acres." The Easton Gazette says: "More cloverseed has been raised in Talbot county this year than ever before. Several hullers have been in operation the last two months, and some of the machines have received as toll over two hundred bushels."

PROSTITUTING COLORED CHURCHES.

We are credibly informed that the colored churches in various sections of the county are being used for political meetings. The Republican candidates use these edifices dedicated to the worship of Almighty God to fire the heart of the black race and excite them to hostility to white Democrats and the candidates of the Democratic party. The pulpits are used as a common hustings platform in which radical "orators" declaim their own merits and abuse their opponents.

Is this right? Do the colored ministers consent to such a desecration of their houses of worship? We can hardly believe this, and yet we hear of no protest from them. Does not every intelligent colored man's mind comprehend the fact that such a use of the church is a prostitution of its most sacred character?

Do they not know that one such meeting belittles the edifice—degrades the membership—dishonors the minister, whose holy office should be kept "pure and unspotted"—and lessens the respect of the general community for the religion of the colored race? It does this most assuredly, and we are surprised that the better class of colored men do not put a stop to it. They should go farther than this. They should sharply rebuke the men who thus degrade their houses of worship. Rebuke them in the most scathing manner possible, and there is no more effective way than by a refusal to vote for them. Thus they will teach the church desecrators a much-needed lesson, and the honest colored christian will reinstate himself in the good opinion of the world.

THE BALTIMORE ELECTION.

Latrobe Carries the City by a Handsome Majority Over the Republicans and Independents Combined.

The Triumphant Election of the Democratic State Ticket Assured!

The Mayoralty election took place in Baltimore on Wednesday. Gen. F. C. Latrobe, the regular democratic nominee, was bitterly opposed by a large number of democrats led by the Day and News. Indeed every newspaper in the city was against him except the Sun, and it took no side. S. Teackle Wallis, Chas. Marshall, and other prominent lawyers, took an active part against him, and indeed it seemed at one time that his defeat was a foregone conclusion. But the masses of the gallant democracy rallied to his support and won a great victory. The total vote for mayor was 54,816, of which ex-Mayor Latrobe received 29,147 and Fire Marshal Heiskell, his opponent, 25,669—Latrobe's majority 3,478.

The result of the voting for members of the city council gave 10 regularly-nominated democrats, 10 citizen party candidates, 6 of whom are republicans, elected to the first branch. Two of the regular democrats elected, Messrs. Cox and Streett, were endorsed by the citizens' party, but they of course, belong to the democratic caucus. To the second branch the democrats elected seven members and the citizens three, one of the latter being a republican. The council stands 18 regular democrats, 5 independent democrats and 7 republicans on joint ballot, insuring the confirmation of democratic appointees when Mayor Latrobe sends in the green bag this winter.

THE EQUALITY DOCTRINE.

What the Republican "Orators" are Teaching.

We understand that some of the Republican "orators" in Kent are using the strongest kind of "equality" arguments in order to effectually consolidate the colored vote. A correspondent informs us that one of these "orators" at a certain colored church in Quaker Neck, on Tuesday night of last week, had an audience composed almost exclusively of the colored people. He said the time had come for the colored man to exercise his rights—that he was as good as the white man, and their association ought to be more complete, they ought to sit together, eat at the same table together, &c., &c. He said it was their duty to vote solidly for the Republican ticket; that if the Democrats won, they would take away their privileges, their right to vote, their schools, etc.

We regret that our opponents should resort to such injudicious arguments—such nonsensical sophistry—to mislead the colored people.

The young gentleman who is thus exercising his talent has made one of the gravest mistakes of his life, and we sincerely regret that he should allow himself to be so misled.

The more ignorant of the colored people, without a doubt, may be excited to bitterest hostility to the white Democrats;—they may become enthusiastic in support of the Republican ticket, and rendered perfectly plastic in their hands, but the good sense of the intelligent ones of that race will sooner or later discover the errors into which they have been led by such "arguments" as above referred to, and will properly regard such "orators" as their worst enemies.

Our correspondent charged the "orator" in question with the use of much worse language than that given, but we have thought it best not to expose him further.

THE CLUB MEETING.

The Kent Co. Agricultural Association held a meeting according to announcement last Monday afternoon. There was only a fair attendance, and after the transaction of routine business, the question of allowing the use of the grounds for tournament purposes was discussed, and decided favorably—the committee on grounds was given charge of the matter. The propriety of revising the constitution was discussed, and finally the committee, to whom the matter was referred some months since, was directed to report without fail on the 19th of November. It is hoped there will be a full attendance at that time. The subject for discussion next Monday is, "Has the failure to hold a Fair been detrimental to the interests of the society?" A gentleman of practical mind and sound judgment has been appointed to open the discussion, and a full attendance is desired.

SALES TO TAKE PLACE.

Saturday, Nov. 3—J. M. Copper, Rock Hall.
Wednesday, 7th—N. H. Rash, Chesterville.
Thursday, 8th—Samuel Vannort, Worton.
Thursday, 8th—Personal property of the late Dr. T. C. Kennard and Mrs. Jane E. Kennard.
Monday, 12—W. H. Crew and J. T. Wilson.
Tuesday, 20th—E. A. Moffett, Chesterville.

THE KENT CORNET BAND, owing to a strong pressure upon them by the citizens of the town and country, were making arrangements to give the public another concert about the middle of November, and had already secured the services of Prof. Jungnickel, of Baltimore, who delighted their last patrons with his performances on the violincello, but they have been compelled to abandon it owing to there not being a suitable place in Chestertown for holding such entertainments. They applied for the court-house but the county commissioners refused to let them have it owing to an order passed by them sometime ago refusing to let it out for such purpose. We regret that a suitable place cannot be obtained, as we know from the concert given by the band last spring our people would have had a grand musical treat.

"ANY MAN, white or black, who will sell his vote has no right to claim the title of citizen."—American.

That is so, and yet the American's candidates have not the slightest hope of election but by the use of money. Holton was nominated for Governor by the Radicals solely with the view to the use of his money to buy votes. In Kent county it is boldly proclaimed that the election is to be carried by money. The most sanguine Republican has no hope of success in the county or State in any other way. Their corruption fund is large and the attempt is to be made to buy voters enough to win. But they will find themselves woefully mistaken in their calculations!

THE love-feast of the Cecil Republicans is getting sour. The Stalwarts are swearing for the Half-breed part of the ticket, and the Half-breeds are preparing for havoc on Stalwart interests.—Cecil Democrat.

THE TOURNAMENT.

Arrival of "Washa-Washa" and his Ride on the Mule—The Parade—The Tilting—The Ball—The Queen and Her Maids—The Whole Affair Well Managed and a Grand Success.

Last Thursday was a gala day at the Worton Fair Grounds and in Chestertown, caused by the grand tournament, so extensively advertised.—The affair was a complete success—indeed it could not well have been otherwise in the hands of the management. Mr. Jno. W. Bordley seems to be in his element at the head of enterprises of this kind; besides his other good qualities he has the additional and very important one of a due appreciation of "printer's ink." His colleagues in the affair—Messrs. Fleming and Connelly—also "know a thing or two." It is estimated there were six or eight hundred people on the ground, and nothing whatever occurred to mar the pleasure of a single individual.

Arrival of Washa-Washa.

The first important event in connection with the affair was the arrival of the distinguished "Washa-Washa" on Wednesday evening. His determination to visit us and grace the occasion, as announced in the papers some weeks since, caused much speculation as to his appearance, identity, &c. To take the long journey from the celestial kingdom, all the way on foot, and arrive "just in the nick of time," entitled him to high honor, and he was gratified with the reception accorded him. Upon the arrival of the steamer Law, he mounted his mule—a very "squatty" animal—and was escorted by Weber's band of music and numerous citizens to the quarters assigned him at the hotel.

On Wednesday night our streets were alive with people, and an immense crowd gathered about "Bordley's corner" and listened to a fine entertainment by the "Wizard Oil" company.

The Parade.

Thursday proved to be an exceptionally fine day. The continuous storm of the several preceding days led many to apprehend a failure of the tournament, but after the mists of the early morning cleared away the sun poured forth his genial rays and abated not his favors during the whole day. Before nine o'clock the town was alive with men in uniform, prancing steeds bearing handsomely equipped marshals and prettily dressed pages. The line was formed on Queen street and marched as follows: Mr. John W. Bordley in front, upon a noble charger; next came Weber's Band of ten pieces; Kent Guards with thirty men in line, Capt. T. G. DeFord, First-Lieutenant R. R. Calder, Second-Lieut. Jesse R. Copper; drum corps of four pieces; Washa-Washa, the distinguished Chinaman upon his mule, and bearing a native parasol; marshals, Geo. W. Hatcherson, chief, Jos. E. Gilpin, Wm. Ford, Geo. S. Biddle, C. W. Kennard, J. C. Wheatley, Richard S. Diehl and W. M. Lusby; nine gaily dressed knights; eleven pages, ranging in age from 7 to 16 years, as follows: Geo. Brice, Bart Hatcherson, Gale Usilton, Will Beck, Will Walker, James Connelly, Frank Gilpin, Woodward Rolph, Harry Blackiston, Tom Bowers and Fred Usilton. The procession moved through Main street and out to the railroad depot where a train of cars was in waiting and took all on board but the horsemen, who rode out to the grounds; other trains later in the day took out several hundred people from town.

The Tilting.

The section of track immediately in front of the grand stand was utilized for the tilting ground. The rings were three in number, 1¼ inch in diameter, and located 25 yards apart.—The whole distance to be run 100 yards; time allowed 12 seconds. Messrs. Beck, Slay and Burchinal acted as judges. Nine knights entered the lists, and before the tilting commenced they were drawn up in front of the grand stand where the "charge to the knights" was given by J. D. Urie, Esq. In doing this the speaker eloquently portrayed the virtues of the knights of ancient chivalry and delineated the character of a true knight of today. The result was as follows:

KNIGHTS.	SCORE
Western Maryland—J. B. Clark	2	3	2
Willow Grove—Herbert Lusby	0	1	0
Scottish Chief (1)—Adam Diehl	2	2	2
Northumberland—Chas. Hampton	2	0	0
Leicester—Chas. D. Burgess	1	1	2
Queen Anne's—B. B. Lowe	2	1	2
Ivanhoe—Addie Startt	0	1	1
Scottish Chief (2)—W. B. Stephens	3	2	2

There being a tie between the Knight of Western Maryland and Scottish Chief No. 2, another tilt was had between these two—the rings being reduced in size to one inch. This resulted in another tie, each of them taking two rings. A third trial was had and the Worton gallant won the prize, taking all three of the rings, while the Western Maryland champion failed to take either.

The judges announced the winners as follows: First, W. B. Stephens; second, J. B. Clark; third, Adam Diehl; fourth, R. B. Lowe; also, as the best equipped knight, Herbert Lusby; best equipped marshal, Wm. M. Lusby. The pages were all so handsomely equipped that it was decided to give each of them a prize. The prizes were as follows: First, set of harness; second, saddle, and bridle; third, buffalo robe; fourth, afghan; fifth, set of spurs; sixth, whip. These were each presented in the order named, in brief but very appropriate remarks by John D. Urie, Esq. It was announced that the crowning ceremonies would take place at the Town Hall in town at night, and many were disappointed in consequence, as this feature of the affair is regarded with much interest.

The trotting trial between Mr. Wm. J. Vannort's "Lankford" and Mr. J. W. Hines' "Young Smuggler" attracted the attention of all the lovers of fast horses. These two noted nags are certainly fine specimens of horse flesh, and were generally admired for their fine proportions and splendid gait. "Lankford" is a beautiful gray, and was driven by J. W. Startt; he came in about a length ahead on the first heat. "Young Smuggler" is a superb looking bay, was driven by James Startt, and took the second heat by about two lengths.

Crowning the Queen—The Ball, etc.

At 9.30 the coronation took place in the Town Hall. Mr. John D. Urie introduced R. Howard Haman, Esq., of Baltimore, who delivered in a very pleasant and graceful manner the coronation address. He graphically pictured the manners and mode of life of the age of chivalry and the scene and manner of their contests at tournaments. He then indulged in some flattering remarks to the fair sex and delivered the crown of beautiful artificial flowers to Mr. Wm. B. Stephens who very appropriately selected Miss May Carville as the queen of love and beauty.—Mr. J. B. Clark placed the wreath of natural flowers on the head of Miss Lilly Hynson as the first maid of honor, Mr. Adam Diehl crowned Miss Hallie Beck as the second maid of honor, and Mr. Charles D. Burgess crowned Miss Effie Pierson as the third maid of honor. The ball was well attended and the hall comfortably filled. Weber's band furnished the music for the occasion and the dancing was kept up until a late hour.

DON'T FORGET the Festivals next week.

TOWN IMPROVEMENTS—Handsome Residences.—Mr. James Brice has just moved into his new residence on his College lot. This lot is beautifully located on the eminence overlooking the "Free School" Spring, and the dwelling is immediately opposite the handsome residence and tasty grounds of Mr. C. F. Stam. Mr. Brice has exercised good taste and talent in the planning of his new dwelling, and the contractor and builder—Mr. R. K. Pippin—seems to have done himself full justice in the execution of the work. The front building is of two-stories, with gable roof and a handsome two-story bay-window in the end over-looking the town, and a porch the entire length. The back building is also of two-stories, with porches running the entire length of both stories. The first floor contains parlor, hall, sitting-room, dining-room, pantry and kitchen, and the second and third floors have seven fine chambers, all provided with closets; also bath-room. The interior wood-work is stained and varnished throughout, and all the rooms handsomely papered. The drab-colored exterior of the building with its deep maroon trimmings renders it very attractive. No little credit for the interior decorations is due to the nice taste and skillful handiwork of Miss "Ada."

Mr. E. S. Culp also has now well under way a well-proportioned building for himself, which, when finished, will no doubt be both substantial and ornamental. Mr. Culp expects to have it completed and occupy it by the end of the year. His location is a most eligible one.

Another handsome residence, now nearly completed, is that of Mr. Joel R. Clements. It is located on the corner—or rather the next lot adjoining the corner—of Water street and Maple avenue. The plan of the house is original and the interior arrangement most admirable for comfort and convenience. The building fronts the avenue, but has a desirable outlook on Water street. The lower floor has a parlor and sitting-room in front with hall between, and a dining-room, pantry and kitchen back. On the second floor are four fine chambers and bath-room, and in the attic several large airy rooms. The kitchen is provided with range and boiler tank, with pipes connecting with a force pump and large reservoir tank of about three hundred gallons capacity in the attic. By this arrangement hot and cold water is supplied for all kitchen purposes, and also, for the bath-room and other rooms adjoining. The inside trimmings—window and door casings—are of poplar, finished after the "Queen Anne" pattern. Mr. H. M. Stuart is the builder, and the workmanship is in keeping with his high reputation. Mr. Clements has had his lot nicely graded and sodded, and is now completing the job by the erection of a handsome iron railing. The property when completed will cost him near five thousand dollars.

Mr. Stuart is also having erected a double frame house on Queen street extended which is already rented and will be ready for occupancy before the end of the year. This section of the town has made rapid advancement within the past year and is now regarded as among the most desirable locations for residence.

Quite a number of other new dwellings have been erected in town during the year which we shall notice in detail at our earliest convenience.

A SUCCESSFUL FAIR.—The ladies of the Meth. Episcopal Church, Chestertown, had a very successful as well as enjoyable festival during four days of last week. The gross receipts were over $450, and the net revenue about $350. The sum goes to the pipe organ fund. The organ which it is proposed to purchase will cost about $1600.

Sleep gently, my darling boy,
Thy pains on earth are o'er;
Jesus knew—He knows best,
And took you home to rest.

Sleep gently now my angel boy,
Thy sufferings now are past;
Jesus saw that you were pure,
And claimed you for his own.

Sad was his little voice,
That called to us for aid;
But Jesus heard his suffering cry,
And whispered little one, come home.

—BY HIS MOTHER.

BESSIE COOK, eldest daughter of Clinton Cook, Esq., of this place, died on Sunday morning last. Although only six years of age, Bessie was bright and attractive far beyond her years. She was the pet of our whole town, and her death has seemed to shut out a sunbeam from every fireside in the community. No child of our acquaintance was more universally loved, and no flower could have been transplanted to the garden of Eden whose beauty, freshness and fragrance would have been more missed here. Her bereaved parents have our heartfelt sympathy and the sincere sympathy of the whole community.—Denton Democrat.

At Worton Point on the 18 of October, WILLIAM J. BIGGS, agg 22 years, 1 month and 21 days, son of S. V. and Capt. Perry Biggs.

Dearest son, thou has left us,
We thy loss most deeply feel;
But 'tis God that has bereft us,
He can all our sorrows heal.

Lonely the house and sad the hours
Since our son has gone;
But a happier home than ours
Is now his own. HIS PARENTS.
