In Memoriam

In loving remembrance of my dear, sweet Grandmother, ELLA M. MORGAN, who passed away three months ago, September 2, 1936.

Peaceful be thy rest, dear Grandmother,
It is sweet to breathe thy name.
In life I loved you dearly;
In death, I do the same.
In my home you are fondly remembered:
Sweet memories cling to your name.
Those who loved you in life sincerely;
Still love you in death, wear Grandmother, just the same.
Some day I hope to meet you.
Some day—I know not when.
To clasp your hand in the better land.
Never to part again.

By Her Loving Granddaughter,
MRS. CALVIN TIMMS.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

To remove spots from polished tables, cover the spot with several soft paper napkins, cut the same size as the spot. Apply a hot iron to the paper, regulating the heat so that the paper does not scorch. Remove the napkins and the iron and apply a cloth on which are several drops of mineral oil. Then rub briskly, allowing no time for the spot to become cool. Polish with a dry cloth, and repeat the process if necessary.

A very useful formula is the one for making transparent glue for glass: Use 5 ounces of white gelatine, 5 ounces of acetic acid and 6 ounces of water. Soak the gelatine in the water for twelve hours or so then heat the softened gelatine and water until the gelatine is dissolved and then add the acetic acid. Water is then added until about a pint of glue is obtained.

Shimmering Christmas Gifts From the Home Kitchen

HOLIDAY foods and candies from the home kitchen make most acceptable Christmas gifts and they take on an added interest when visible through transparent wrappings and decorations in gay colors. Above are shown some appealing ways to present plum puddings, fruit cakes, candy and cookies with trimmings of Cellophane cellulose film.

The stocking at the left, filled with cookies and toys for a youngster, is cut from clear film and sewn together with bias binding and embroidery cotton. Half-inch stitches of contrasting color should be used. For the plum pudding, shown at the upper left, tango colored wrapping, ¼" red and silver transparent ribbon, and a holly sprig are used. For the ruffle cut red wrapping 2" wide and twice the circumference of the pudding. Fold in center to 1", pucker into tight gathers along a knitting needle. Slip a piece of spool wire into the gathers and tie in place. Secure to the wrapping with transparent Scotch Tape about every 2".

Below is a basket of cookies made from a 15" square of green film. To simplify the work, call the corners of the square A, B, C and D consecutively. Fold to bring C to A; bring D over half way between A and B, holding in place with the tape. Fold B the same way across to D and secure. Separate A and C and there is the basket. Spread and fold corners under to flatten bottom, put cookies inside, and tie with ¼" transparent ribbon, folding corners A and C over them. Wired green ribbon of the film, spangled with silver stars, makes the handle which is secured with tape. Bring this ribbon down sides of basket, tape it on, tie underneath, and decorate with holly.

The fruit cake is wrapped in amber film and trimmed with a fan bow, made by folding a 9"x30" piece into fine accordion pleats. The pleating is tied at the center with a transparent ribbon bow and ornamented with holly. Spread the ends of the fan and secure with folded tape. Around the cake, tie red and silver transparent ribbon.

WET LEAVES

Yesterday they whirled gally,
Flung by a dancing breeze;
Today they are lying limply,
Under the dripping trees.

Yesterday fires burned brightly,
Today the smoke hangs low;
Wet leaves weave earth's soft blanket
Against the coming snow.

—Helen Hixon.
