Percy Phillips, aged 13 years, was drowned on last Saturday afternoon in Hunting Creek, near Preston, Caroline county. He was bathing in company with Ferdinand Dixon, and got in beyond his distance, as he could swim but very little. He was a son of Dr. J. R. Phillips, of Preston.

The new apportionment bill passed by the Pennsylvania Legislature makes 19 republican, 7 democratic and 2 doubtful congressional districts. The Hon. Samuel J. Randall's district, with its 3,500 democratic majority, is undisturbed. The present congressional delegation stands 20 republicans and 8 democrats.

Robert H. Eddy, a wealthy patent solicitor, who died in Boston a few days ago, left $30,000 to the city of Portsmouth for an equestrian statue of Gen. Fitz-John Porter, and $20,000 to Robert Eddy Porter, the general's son. The general said to an interviewer that Eddy was his guardian when he was a boy in New Hampshire, and in later life his firm friend.

Rev. Richard Newton, D. D., a distinguished Episcopal clergyman, died in Philadelphia on Wednesday. He was a representative of the evangelical or low-church school of thought in the Episcopal Church. The President left Washington on Thursday evening in a special car of the Pennsylvania Road and proceeded direct to Saranac Lake, in the Adirondacks, making only the necessary stops on the route. He was accompanied by Mrs. Cleveland and Colonel and Mrs. Lamont, and expects to return to Washington inside of two weeks.

It is announced positively, on the authority of the Rev. Dr. McDonnell, private secretary of Archbishop Corrigan, that accompanying the recent letter from the Pope to the Archbishop was a letter to Dr. McGlynn peremptorily summoning him, once for all, to proceed to Rome within forty days, under penalty of excommunication for failure to obey.

The yellow fever has made its appearance at Key West, Florida, and the papers of other cities are calling for prompt and decisive action on the part of the health authorities. It is very unusual for this disease to develop in American ports so early in the season and it is of the utmost importance that vigorous measures be taken to prevent its spread to other cities.

The Rev. Dr. Joseph T. Smith, who was last week elected moderator of the general assembly of the Presbyterian Church of the United States in session in Omaha, is the pastor of Central Presbyterian Church, Eutaw Place, Baltimore. Dr. Smith was installed as the pastor of the Central Church, March 16, 1862, and his twenty-fifth anniversary was recently celebrated.

An Eastern Shore correspondent of the Baltimore Sun suggests that Judge John M. Robinson would be a fitting successor to the late Judge Woods on the bench of the supreme court of the United States. A dispatch from Easton to the Baltimore Sun says that the members of the bar there, both democrats and republicans, have signed a memorial to President Cleveland asking for Judge's Robinson's appointment.

A dispatch from Elkton to the Baltimore Sun, dated 24th inst., says: Peach growers of the first district, the peach growing section of Cecil county, today confirmed the report that the peach crop in that district had been ruined by frost. The old trees will not bear at all, and the young ones but poorly. A leading grower does not expect a basket from an orchard of four thousand ten-year old trees, which never failed before to bear.

The President issued an order on Saturday last changing and consolidating twenty-two internal revenue districts throughout the country, including the district of Delaware with the district of Maryland, and retiring the collectors from the service. Commissioner Miller says that the new arrangement of the districts will not in any manner interfere with the convenience of the tax-payers, and will save to the government more than one hundred thousand dollars annually.

The Virginia State Senate has unanimously passed a resolution requesting the President to appoint the Hon. J. Randolph Tucker to the vacancy on the supreme court bench of the United States. Whatever may be the action of the President, the fact that the Virginia State senators, irrespective of party, have indorsed their distinguished fellow-citizen is a compliment to his character and ability which must prove gratifying to Mr. Tucker, as well as to his thousands of admirers throughout the country.

LECTURE WORTH HEARING AND SUPPER WORTH EATING, TO BE—A COMMEMORATIVE SURPRISE PARTY—BAPTISM OF A FAMILY—GOSSIP—THE NEW STEAMER EMMA GILES — ENTERPRISE—BEAUTIFUL STAR.

The little showers of Monday evening, 23d, were very cordially welcomed by the thirsty gardens and oat crops. Corn-ground wheat also needed such refreshment.

You will be informed officially before your next issue that the National Worthy Lecturer of the Order of Patrons of Husbandry will deliver an address on the 15th proximo, in the hall of Grange No. 8, in this village, to which patrons and public are invited free of charge. For further details see advertisement in county papers. At the same time the Ladies' Aid Society will offer in the upper room one of their recherche and delicious suppers at the reasonable rate of seven dimes for each guest. A large delegation will probably represent Eureka Grange from Kennedyville. I am not aware of the subject of the lecture, but the field is vast from which to make selection, as the object and scope of the organization touches every interest of mankind from the cultivation of a cabbage to the formation of a perfect character in a man or woman. Although the work of the farm will be urgently pressing on the day named we bespeak for both lecture and supper a full house, and predict entire satisfaction.

On the evening of the 23d inst. the friend of that sweet singer and genuine good fellow Charles H. Hurlock and his beloved wife — previously to mind a truly pleasant event of fifteen years ago—resolved to surprise them with a celebration of the anniversary of their marriage. Accordingly about 7 o'clock P. M., they began to gather at the residence of the groom and bride; 1872, with baskets and packages on hand, and soon filled the rooms. The 3d, 4th and 5th districts were each represented—the first named most numerously, as the home of the genial couple. The gifts were numerous, useful and valuable. One was peculiar suggestive: It was a spray from a Prairie Queen rose tree about 4 feet in length, with a rose or bud every two or three inches of its entire length and at least as many sharp thorns. Such is matrimonial life; celibacy is all thorns and never a single rose or bud.

Brother Treadway, pastor of St. James, and his casant life associate, being among the numous guests, he was called to perform, not a burlesque ceremony, but the solemn rite of baptism. He accordingly in the most impressive manner dedicated the seven children of our host and hostess to the Lord in the proper God according to the usage and discipline of the M. P. Church. May the dear children with father and mother be guests "the marriage supper of the Lamb." Abundant refreshments were made up of cake of every variety, ice cream and lemonade. The guests enjoyed themselves in social converse until about ten o'clock and then left their kind friends to pleasant dreams and bright hopes of long continued and happy future. May they realize their fondest hopes!

Have any of your readers noticed a peculiarly bright star in the West which made its appearance in Feb.? It was by some supposed to be the star of Bethlehem, whose return had been predicted about this time, but a correspondence with one of the "wise of the East" he demurs to this idea and inclines to the opinion that the star is one of the variable class, probably "the Pilgrim." At all events it is worthy of observation. It may be seen a little N. of West on any evening from twilight till about 10 o'clock P. M.

Chestertown and Vicinity.

MESSRS. EDS.—A much-needed and copious rain fell in this neighborhood last Tuesday night. Vegetation had been suffering for the lack of it. Another fine one fell on Wednesday evening.

Mr. S. W. Alder, of Chesterville, and his brother John, of Westmoreland county, Va., left this place last Wednesday for the purpose of prospecting for certain valuable mines supposed to be on the farm of the latter's father-in-law, near Richmond. Mr. Aldridge is an old miner, having many years of his life in California dug for gold, and consequently well knows when he strikes "ile."

Several months ago Major Ringgold, residing near Crumpton, a man far advanced in life, began to experience more than ordinary dimness of sight, which finally became totally improved at the time being attributed to the intense heat which he was subjected to fighting woodsfires near his property. On examination it was discovered by Dr. C. F. Cahoon, of Crumpton, that a cataract (defined surgically to be an opacity of the crystaline lens of the eyes) had formed in each of his eyes. On the following day Dr. Cahoon, with the assistance of Dr. Sheppard, removed the cataract from the right eye, and the patient is now doing well, with prospect of the recovery of his sight. Dr. Cahoon is acquiring a reputation, both as a surgeon and skillful physician.

Mr. William B. Cooper and wife from Philadelphia are visiting their son-in-law, Mr. Edward Cooper. The latter's health has been very poor for several months; but since coming down has improved wonderfully and begins to look like himself once more.

Children's Day will be likely be observed by the Chestertown M. E. Church on the second Sunday in.

Quaker Neck Items.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—Rain on Tuesday and Tuesday night was largely welcomed by the farmers in the neck, did a power of good.

Frank Stoops challenged Joseph Hadaway to a boat race. Hadaway had a canoe and Mr. Stoops a gateen. Mr. Hadaway came out ahead. Mr. Stoops challenged another man to beat him.

Mr. Robert Jones has a store at Quaker Neck wharf. It is a good location as the fishermen money and use a large quantity of ice. Mr. George Hadaway has the trade. Jones will find it an up hill business to get it away from him.

The singing school at Bond Chapel every Tuesday evening is attended. They met last Tuesday for a good wetting before they got home.

Walton Chapel was well attended Sunday evening. The sermon was by a young one and was listened to with marked attention. They have enlarged the church and it now seats a large number of people.

Mr. Jesse Jerome thinks he will turn out more bushels of wheat than any other farm in the neck. He certainly looks well and he may be right.

Tolchester No. 2, located at Judson's saw mill, is nicely fitted and on Saturday evening they expect to have a grand rally.

THE New York Evening Post says that the anti-poverty society set up by George and McGlynn, instead of trying to spread itself over too much territory, to abolish poverty in the State, try New York first. To this end it proposes the adoption by the present amendment of a constitutional amendment to the following form:

ARTICLE 17. Neither poverty nor the absence of money, except as a bar to entering upon any profession, shall have power to deprive any person of the elective franchise, or to prevent any person from voting who shall be a citizen of the State of New York and shall have attained the age of twenty-one years, and who shall have resided in this State for the period of one year next preceding the first day of January, 1888.

This amendment is to be submitted to the popular vote in 1889. If adopted by New York, other States would doubtless follow suit in order to abolish poverty in the same way.

SOUTHERN MARYLAND PEACH.—Ex-Senator John Thomas informs us that nearly the entire peach crop of Southern Maryland and adjacent counties has been killed by the late frosts of last April. His trees generally look unhealthy, and he does not expect to get a hundred bushels from 6,000 trees. This is the prevailing expected yield throughout the section and the losses will be heavy.—*Balt. REFORM LEADERS IN EASTON.

Speeches by Ex-Governor Hamilton, Cowen, Wallis and Johnson.

From the Easton Ledger.

A reform democratic mass meeting was held Tuesday afternoon in the Easton Court House immediately after court adjourned. The speakers were J. K. Cowen, S. Teackle Wallis, ex-Gov. Hamilton and Bradley T. Johnson. Gen. E. L. F. Hardcastle called the meeting to order, and Dr. Isaac L. Adkins was elected president. There were several hundred people in attendance.

Mr. John K. Cowen, the first speaker, said he came before the meeting as a democrat to talk to democrats and such republicans as were present about the so-called reform movement in the democratic party. This concerns the counties as well as the city of Baltimore. The movement is to wrest the city from the control of the men who hold their power by fraudulent elections. The State names the election officers and the managers of the police, hence the city is not free to control its local affairs. If the governor would appoint fair election supervisors, the elections in Baltimore would be fair. But these men are named to the governor by the bosses, and this has made the city elections farces for years. He said he has no choice for candidate for governor. He is not willing to trust the declarations of the democratic State central committee. That committee did not admit the gross wrongs which exist in Baltimore, hence it is utterly unworthy of trust. In 1875 Mr. Wallis was elected attorney-general by 15,000 majority. The ballots were burned, and that fact is now admitted. Reform in elections was afterwards promised year by year, but was not given. Mr. Cowen made a long speech, devoted to a bitter denunciation of Baltimore elections in which he made free use of personalities.

Mr. Wallis said the friends of reform owe Mr. Cowen a debt of gratitude for telling the truth and calling things by their right names. The speaker said he feels an indignation he cannot repress when men say he is not a democrat. These men have done nothing for the party but used its emoluments. They have dedicated themselves to party organization and party cliques, and have grown rich by living upon the public. Every one of them is pecking for his bread, and is unworthy of consideration. They trade upon the reputation of a party which is the best party we have. He protested against these men representing the democratic party. Gorman, Rasin, Hack Quinn, Sonny Mahon and many others whose names he has forgotten, are the men he is rebelling against and not the democratic party. Rasin, Higgins, and Keys admitted that they destroyed the ballots in 1875. The frauds in Baltimore are so well-known that they cannot be contradicted. The question asked in the city now is whether Mr. Morrison, Mr. Rasin, or Mr. Slater shall control. It is not asked if the people are to control. The people are face to face with the question whether the fellows who have done those things which the State committee says are to be reformed shall be permitted to continue in power. Mr. Wallis said he has no preference in a candidate for governor.

Gen. Bradley T. Johnson in his speech defended his anti-Gorman speech at Easton in 1885, and reiterated his statements made then.

Ex-Gov. Hamilton said there is no one connected with the reform movement who has the interest of candidates to promote. The movement is a necessity for the success of the democratic party. He discussed the fraud charges in Baltimore in the same line with other speakers. He said he has no alliance or sympathy with the republicans. There is enough power in democratic party to keep Maryland from republican control, if purity of elections and good candidates are assured. The party has improved its methods somewhat since 1883, the result of agitation. He reviewed and criticised the State financial management at length.

FELL SEVEN HUNDRED FEET.—At Oskaloosa, Iowa, Monday last, a large crowd witnessed a fearful accident, by which William Andrews, an amateur balloonist, was dashed to death. The balloon, about 20 by 40 feet in size, was inflated with hot air, and rose rapidly to a height of about 700 feet, Andrews clinging to a trapeze. Suddenly it was observed that the balloon had caught fire, and Andrews was seen climbing upwards to its mouth and endeavoring to put out the fire. His efforts were unsuccessful, and in two or three minutes the collapse came, and the aeronaut came whirling down from the awful height and fell upon the roof of a business block, his body being crushed beyond recognition. Many ladies watching the terrible sight fainted, and had to be carried home.

Baltimoreans on the Eastern Shore.

Interest in the Eastern Shore Railroad project is being revived. A number of persons representing the joint special committee of the more business interest, left that city on Tuesday morning for a trip over the road by invitation of Mr. Joseph B. Seth, the president. They spent Tuesday night in Easton and on Wednesday were taken in stages over the line of the proposed road to Salisbury.

On Tuesday evening the visitors were entertained at a banquet by the business men of Easton at Col. Norris' hotel. State Comptroller Frank Turner presided, and there were sixty participants. Speeches were made by Messrs. Turner, J. Frank Supplee, C. C. Latrobe and others. In the course of his remarks Comptroller Turner extended a hearty Eastern Shore welcome to the visitors, and said the people of the Eastern Shore loved their State dearly and were proud of Baltimore as its principal city. While the Western Shore had its lime-kilns, stone quarries, its immense coal mines, the Eastern Shore had its door the vast agricultural wealth of the Chesapeake, which extends today without a parallel in the life of waters, and while the State generally is improving, the Eastern Shore particularly is making rapid strides in progress and development. This section of the State has contributed largely to the development of Baltimore city, and the speaker mentioned the names of Hodges, Hurst, Dixon, unbeliever as those of Eastern Shore men who are in the front rank of the business community of Baltimore, while at its foremost lawyers were Messrs. Wallis and Steele, both Eastern Shoremen. The speaker said it could not be denied that the Eastern Shoremen were in a great measure contributing to and building up interests which are rival to those of Baltimore, but this is due to the fact that the railroad facilities are in Philadelphia's favor. To overcome this discrimination the Eastern Shore road has been projected for the purpose of bringing Baltimore—by way of Annapolis—into close relations with the counties of the peninsula. The speaker argued that while the city and State would not derive any direct pecuniary benefit from investments in railroads, they are repaid in the increase of business and the enhancement of the taxable basis.

WATCHING THE BOATS.—Some IN.—Since two steamboats have been making daily trips from Centreville to Baltimore, it has become a favorite time with many of our people to stroll to the wharf in the evening to watch the two steamers come in. Almost every evening the B. S. Ford and the Baltimore are greeted by large crowds of spectators who flock from "boat" by the hour. Some evenings last week as many as two hundred gathered on the wharf to await the arrivers.—Record.

On a careful examination of these lands rare inducements to purchase will be presented on account of the character and natural fertility of the soil, which will bear a most favorable comparison with that of the most productive estates in this county, being well adapted to all cereals and fruits—particularly peaches; and all have the advantage of a daily and convenient access by rail and water to the markets of Baltimore, Philadelphia and other cities, and all are near churches, schools, postoffices, mills, &c.

The above farms have been surveyed and plotted as will be shown at the sale.

The Seven Advantages of the New-York Life Insurance Company's Non-Forfeiting-Tontine Limited-Endowment Policy.

Do not Insure until you have seen full particulars of this Policy. Do not fail to write the nearest AGENT AT ONCE.

FACTS AND FIGURES:

1. The New York Life was the first Company, and for thirty-five years the only Company to omit from its policies the clause making them void in case of suicide. Very few companies do it now. Being convinced that most suicides are the result of insanity, and that many cases of accidental death and murder cannot be distinguished from suicides, the New York Life adopted, in 1860, one rule for all—namely, the prompt payment of every claim not vitiated by evident fraud.

2. The New York Life was the first Company to recognize the policy-holder's right to paid-up insurance, in case of a discontinuance of payment of premiums, by originating and introducing, in 1860, the first non-forfeiture policies—the beginning of the modern non-forfeiture system—which has become a part of the insurance statutes of the country. On the present volume of business, the saving to policy-holders, by reason of the non-forfeiture principle, as originated and introduced by the New York Life, is over five million dollars per year.

3. The New York Life issues a greater variety of policies than any other Life Company, thereby adapting its contracts to the largest number of people. It has lately perfected a return-premium feature, under which many of its policies are issued with guaranteed return of all premiums paid, in addition to the amount originally incurred, in case of death during a specified period.

4. The Returns of the New York Life's Tontine Policies that have matured have been larger than those of any other company (whether Tontine or Ordinary), comparison being made between policies taken at the same age and premium rate, and running through the same period of time.

5. The Policies of New York Life, as now issued, are notably free from restrictions as to occupation, residence and travel, and claims are paid upon receipt and approval by the Company of satisfactory proofs of death.
