The Kent News

CHESTERTOWN - JUNE 11, 1887.

FOUR SEASONS.

Spring is a maiden divinely fair,
With violets blue in her golden hair.
At the balmy touch of her dainty feet
The primrose pale and cowslip sweet
Bursts forth from their wintry winding sheet;
And the forest leaves peep out to see
Who this beautiful bountiful maid can be.

Summer's a warrior flushed with fame.
He rides o'er earth in his car of flame;
His whip is the whirlwind's circling lash,
His shout is the deafening thunder's crash,
His spear is the lightning's blinding flash.
He breathes, and the hills are parched and dry,
And the rivulets, fading, in vapors fly.

Autumn's a merchant of princely mien,
The earth's best fruit at his feet are seen.
His wondrous stores of golden grain,
Are garnered high on the sunlit plain,
And flow like seas o'er his rich domain,
And his nut-brown children shout with glee
As they gather his treasures around his knee.

Winter's a monster of fiendish guise,
With famine and woe in his baleful eyes.
He blights the air with his icy breath,
He scourges the life from the land beneath.
The waters he binds with the chains of death
And he laughs to hear the plaintive wail
Of the famishing poor in the frozen vale.

GEN. CAMERON'S TRIBUTE TO MARYLAND.—Gen. Simon Cameron, the venerable Pennsylvania statesman, at the banquet given to the Baltimoreans and Pennsylvanians on the occasion of their visit last Monday to the Pennsylvania steel works at Steelton, Penna., made a short speech, which is reported as follows:

"I am glad to say a few words here about the city of Baltimore and Maryland. I remember when Baltimore was the first to give an enterprise to Pennsylvania. It was the canal around Conowago. Baltimore made the first turnpike to Pennsylvania, and every time Pennsylvania wanted help it went to Maryland for it. When we started the Northern Central railroad, Maryland helped it, and when it wanted more money, Baltimore helped it. Maryland gave her millions to make the tidewater canal to Pennsylvania, and they have always been like sisters in affection. Pennsylvania, Maryland and Delaware should have been one great state. Pennsylvania was settled by the poor Germans and Irish, who gradually went down the Cumberland valley. I am looking at the president of the Baltimore and Ohio. His grandfather or great-grandfather came to the Cumberland valley from Ireland, and when the Baltimore & Ohio got in trouble his father took charge of it and made it a great success, and I hope this young man will be equal in success. [Applause.] In former times men were taught to write poems, and he who wrote the best poetry was the greatest man. Now the greatest man was the instructor. I have heard of people working too much. I never saw a man or woman who did too much work. My God, when I first came into this country there was no turnpike, and then men of brains said, 'Let us build a canal; it will bring the trade to the head waters of the Susquehanna.' This I want to say: All we have in Pennsylvania we owe to the enterprise and aid Baltimore gave us in our youth and need."

RIDDLEBERGER GETS IN HIS WORK.—The ill-feeling between General Mahone and Senator Riddleberger was recently intensified by the friends of the former obtaining control of the party machinery in Shenandoah county, Mr. Riddleberger's home, and nominating a full county ticket composed of the adherents of Mahone. This was most distasteful to the senator, and it has been whispered that he intended getting even by throwing his influence in favor of the democratic ticket. The returns of the election, held on Thursday of last week, indicate that he got in his work pretty well. Shenandoah county usually goes republican, but the democrats made a clean sweep, with a single exception, of the county offices, by majorities ranging from one hundred to seven hundred. Among the victims is Mr. R. J. Walker, one of Mahone's most steadfast friends, who was a candidate for réelection as commonwealth's attorney, and who is now "snowed under" by a majority of three hundred for his democratic competitor. In the meantime Senator Riddleberger is doubtless of the opinion that "he who laughs last laughs best."

REV. DR. BURCHARD has returned to New York from another visit to Washington. This time he saw President Cleveland and had a pleasant chat of over an hour with him. The reverend doctor told a friend that the President invited him to the White House. In the conversation that took place the doctor admitted that his famous remark, "Rum, Romanism and Rebellion," was alluded to. "I told the President," said the doctor to the friend, "it was the will of the Lord that he should be elected."

PROF. DWRIGHT, of Columbia, says of Henry George's theory: "Without private property in land no man can have an assured birthplace or burial-place. No tree can be planted that he can call his own, nor can any dwelling be erected that will give him assured shelter."

We also have a Kid-top Shoe for Ladies at $1.25 a pair, but please bear in mind that when you buy a pair of $1.25 kid-top shoes of us you will not get our $1.75 shoe, as we only advertise what we can and will do and nothing more.

LIME, HAIR, WHITEWASH BRUSHES, &c. We are selling the W. J. Lime, which is said by both carpenters and masons to slack at least one-fourth more than other lime, and having made a special contract for same would like builder as well as whitewasher to call and get prices.

We also have Wm. Lea & Sons, C. A. Gambrill's, and other brands of FLOUR, which we are selling by the Pound, Bag or Barrel as cheap as it can be bought in the city for the cash, as we sell Flour by the barrel for the CASH ONLY.

☞We aim to keep a little of everything and by buying our goods close for cash and discounting all our bills we are enabled to meet all and any competition. Again thanking you for past favors we ask a continuance of same. Respectfully,

A REMEDY FOUND AT LAST TO CURE
HOG CHOLERA!
LIEBERMAN'S
Hog Cholera Remedy
WILL POSITIVELY CURE AND PREVENT HOG CHOLERA!

IT is not a new remedy, but has been tried and experimented with for two years and found that if used when the hogs are first attacked it will cure the Diseased Hogs and prevent the contagion from spreading to the others in the same pen.

SYMPTOMS OF HOG CHOLERA:
It is essentially a malarial fever. The animal however fierce and obstinate formerly is found more gentle and tractable; it shows decided signs of fever, elevated temperature alternating with cold shivers; the ears are more or less loped; hindquarters weak and the hog shows a strong tendency to lie down on the least provocation and kicks in the litter, rising only when wanting to drink; no appetite but great thirst. It often stands drawn together, with arched back and tucked-up abdomen. Its gait is staggering and its grunt weak. Its cough is weak and has a peculiar hollow sound, not easy to describe. It breathes hard, with pumping flanks and soon loses flesh. The skin is harsh and scaly and soon becomes discolored with purplish patches around the snout, between the forelegs and inside the thighs.

PRICE 50 CENTS, BY MAIL 75 CENTS.
