CHESTERTOWN - - OCT. 1, 1887

FAIR, PREMIUMS, RACING, &c.

Below we give some of the premiums awarded at the recent fair. The balance, for some reason, have not been received. In our last issue we gave the result of the tournament and all the racing up to Friday noon. The afternoon trials of speed that day were the most exciting of any during the fair. Every horse was undoubtedly driven at his best. The first race was for 2.45 class; purse $2.50. Snowden M. drew the pole. Tom C. and Ida May were drawn.

Summary:

Snowden M., G. B. McWhorter, Chester'n	2 1 3 2 2
Lady Stephens, Schmidt & Co., Balto.	1 4 1 4 dr
Oakland Boy, Geo. Scattergood, Phila.	3 5 2 1 1 1
Gardey, W. P. Biggs, Arlington	4 2 4 5 5 0

Time, 2.42, 2.43, 2.44, 2.44½, 2.47, 2.47½.

The race was a very exciting one. In the second heat the driver of Snowden M. ran his sulky into the sulky of Lady Stevens, smashing a wheel of the latter. Jno. Starr, the driver of Lady Stevens, with surprising agility, leaped from the sulky to the back of the mare, saving himself and checking her. The driver of Snowden M. claimed that the driver of Oakland Boy forced him into collision with Lady Stevens, and the judges allowed the claim, sending Oakland Boy back to fourth place. The accident made considerable bad feeling among the drivers, and the remainder of the race was a savage contest, in which each driver took every possible advantage.

The second race was free for all trotters, purse $250. Four horses appeared upon the track. Gloster took the pole, Cæsar second, Eddy B. third and May fourth. Summary:

May, R. G. Morrison, Ogleton, Del.	2 2 1 1 1
Cæsar, C. G. McGinnis, Baltimore	1 dis.
Gloster, W. P. Biggs, Arlington	4 dis.
Eddy B., Frank Starr, Baltimore	3 1 2 2 2

Time, (first heat no time given on account of running), 2.39½, 2.40, 2.45, 2.4..

Cæsar was decided distanced in second heat for running and foul driving. Though there were only two races trotted, the sun went down before the last heat was finished. The managers congratulate themselves that upon the whole the fair was as successful as they hoped it might be.

The ball at night in exhibition hall was a success also. A queen and maids of honor were crowned by the successful knights of the tournament. Mr. Romie Skirven, delegated by Mr. Wm. B. Stephens, the champion knight, crowned Miss Zaidee Hulme, queen of love and beauty. Mr. Adam Diehl, as delegate of Mr. H. Bay, of Harford, crowned Miss Bennie Francis, first maid of honor. Mr. Wm. W. Duyer, crowned as second maid of honor Miss Katie Kidwell, of Baltimore. Marion deK. Smith, Esq., made an appropriate address.

Kennedyville Notes.

MESSRS. EDITORS.—After a long silence your correspondent will endeavor to gather up a few notes that have fallen by the wayside.

We have been unfortunate in the loss of two of our most estimable women—Mrs. Warren and Mrs. Usilton. Their deaths have made vacancies that it will take years to fill, indeed it is doubtful if they can ever be replaced.

Several of our citizens have been sick with malarial fever, but no cases so far as we know have terminated fatally. Some of our large-hearted philanthropists (?) in hours of health, grew frightened "and fled the country" while others remained home fearing every day they would fall a victim to something, they did not know what. Dame rumor affirms that a certain political aspirant was the most decidedly frightened man in our entire community of those remaining here. We have had an unusual amount of sickness in this section, but no local cause can be assigned, and our town we unhesitatingly affirm is the healthiest in Kent county and were we seeking a home we would, after seeing all other towns in fashionable, intelligent and hospitable Kent, build our house and twine the vine of friendship among the warm-hearted and generous people of Kennedyville.

Rev. C. R. Blades filled his pulpit both morning and night of last Sunday and will continue to do during the conference year.

The many friends of Miss Mattie Crowding regret her early death.

Some of our farmers will begin this week to seed their wheat an average acreage being seeded.

A China Wedding.

On Monday evening, Sept. 26, Mr. and Mrs. Jno. W. Boggs of Shrewsbury Neck, celebrated their china wedding. About 70 persons were present, including many from Kennedyville, Locust Grove, Sassafras and many other places. The company spent a pleasant and long-to-be-remembered evening. The host and hostess were the recipients of many valuable and useful presents. The amusing incident of the evening was, when one of Locust Grove's guests mistaking one of Kennedyville's guests for the host, congratulated him upon his twentieth anniversary and wished him another score years of happy married life. The company were invited to partake of sumptuously prepared refreshments, your correspondent being among the number, did ample justice to the good things provided. About eleven o'clock the company dispersed, wishing Mr. and Mrs. Boggs thirty more years of happy married life and the celebration of their golden wedding. Awaiting an invitation to the same and as happy an evening as was spent on Sept. 26 we bid the happy couple adieu. Among the presents were the following: Extension lamp, by father and mother; chamber set, by Mr. and Mrs. J. Barwick; handsome lamp, by Messrs. Blades and Davies; tablecloth and napkin, by Mr. and Mrs. B. M. Alford, Phila.; scarf, by Miss Estelle H. Alford; fruit and dessert dishes by the Misses Vandyke; washbowl and pitcher, by Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Hayes; scarf, Miss M. E. Moore; pair towels, Miss Carrie E. Johns; dozen napkins, Mr. J. W. Shallcross; fruit-dish, Mr. and Mrs. Johns; fruit-dishes, Mr. and Mrs. B. Redmile; pair handsome vases, Mr. and Mrs. G. Bolton; butter-dish, Miss Maggie Hill; ½ dozen frosted tumblers, Mr. and Mrs. Owen Hayes; the same by Dr. J. H. Kelley; cake-stand, Mrs. E. Willis; glass set, Mr. and Mrs. H. Kelley; ½ dozen China dessert-dishes, by Mrs. C. S. Hill; fruit-dishes, Mr. and Mrs. G. Roeder; pair towels and fruit-dish, by Mr. and Mrs. Comly; handsome China fruit-dish, Mr. and Mrs. T. Shafer; pair vases, Mrs. John Hurlock; handsome glass pitcher, Mr. and Mrs. Medders; majolica set, Mr. and Mrs. T. Jones; fruit-dish, Mrs. J. Clendaniel; glass pitcher, Mrs. S. J. Hill; butter-dish, Mrs. M. E. Watts; ½ dozen goblets, Mrs. Matthews; linen tablecloth, Mr. and Mrs. D. Hill.

IOLA.

Items from Millington.

MESSRS. EDITORS: — The peach season is over. I send you a statement of the shipments from this station: Gov. Biggs & Sons, 22,000 baskets; Charles O. Cacy, 7,953 baskets; H. Tonkin, shipping agent for several growers; 22,000 brskets; Miss Julia E. Cacy, 4,119 baskets; Mrs. Mollie Cacy, 2,225 baskets. Mr. Tonkin shipped Mrs. Dr. Crane's and a number of others. He is well versed in the business and very reliable. Mr. Ahern bought and several others. The good prices paid caused every person that could pick a basket to do it. We have not been able to get the whole shipments in. The traders hauled away by wagons not less than 1,500 baskets. Mr. H. Bergenhoff, of Scranton, Pa., bought and shipped 17,000 baskets, paying out to the growers $11,900. During the last week in peaches he bought up all the sweet potatoes offered. He is now in town collecting a carload, for which he is paying 25c. per peach basket. He bought to-day a squash, "Boston Marrow," raised by Mr. H. Clay Hendrickson, of this town, in his garden, weighing 106½ pounds, (who can beat it?) which he will ship to Scranton with a carload of potatoes. This is Mr. Bergenhoff's third season here as a buyer. The safety of his business course is that he uses no checks, but comes down with the ready cash. All persons who have had business with him speak of his promptness and business-like course and look on him as an honest and safe dealer. He will forward his car on Friday and follow it to Scranton, but will return early in the coming week. Any person wishing to deal with him can learn his prices and whereabouts by calling on Mr. Samuel Mallalieu at the Frame Hotel.

Queen Anne's furnished three-fourths of the peaches shipped from this station.—M. R.

DYING WITH THE BLACK TONGUE.—"The usually quiet town of Smithville, Caroline county, Md.," says a dispatch to the Baltimore American dated Sept. 26, "is in a state of excitement over the announcement of the black tongue fever, which is prevalent in that vicinity. The family of a widow was the first to be stricken, and during the past week five of them have died, leaving the mother and the remaining child in a dying condition. The members of the afflicted family are compelled to bury their dead, as the residents of the immediate neighborhood will not venture near the contagion. The State Board of Health has closed the schools and churches in the district."

SEVENTEEN YEARS FOR SELLING LIQUOR.—James A. Stewart, of Wichita, Kansas, has been sentenced to seventeen years and four months in the county jail and fined $20,080, with cost of prosecution, for the violation of the prohibition law. He was a clerk in the west end drug store, and pleaded guilty to an indictment containing 2,080 counts at the same time as did Herman the proprietor of the place. The latter cannot be found, and it is thought that he has left the country. The punishment imposed upon Stewart is the heaviest ever given in the State for violation of the liquor laws.

VENDUES.—The following sales will take place on the days named:

Thursday, October 6—J. Edw. C. Biddle, near Lynch's, H. H. Barroll, trustee.

Monday, October 10—Richard C. Smyth, adm'r of Robert H. Loud, in Quaker Neck.

STILL POND AGRICULTURAL CLUB.

CLUB ROOM, Sept. 24, 1887.

MESSRS. EDITORS: — The club met to-day and in consequence of the chilly air of the club room held a short session.

The corn question came up for discussion but, in the opinion of your correspondent, nothing new was elicited, and he has long been of the opinion that where there is nothing to say, nothing had better be said.

The insect committee reported progress; that they were collecting specimens, &c. We hope soon to be able to study and learn of the wondrous changes insects undergo; of the marvelous habits we witness in their study. Would you suppose that the hairy black caterpillar that crawls so lazily along our path is transformed by a strange freak of nature into a most beautiful moth; that the cabbage-worm so unsightly, obnoxious and destructive should one day come forth as a butterfly clothed in a most delicate robe of harmonious colors; that the pestiferous house-fly, that annoys and perplexes the busy housewife, once was an offensive maggot feeding upon filth of the most repulsive character. The little wrigglers that infest the stagnant pools were hatched from a mass of eggs that float on its surface feeding on decayed matter that would pollute the atmosphere with miasma and death, comes forth as the busy, noisy, perplexing mosquito. Many of the beetles are wonders in themselves, presenting a surface of unsurpassed lustre and beauty, and are now used as settings in the most costly jewelry, yet they once figured as greasy, repulsive grubs. Every insect passes through four distinct stages in its life; first, we have the eggs, placed by the mother contiguous to the food necessary to its life; when hatched for instance the cabbage butterfly lays her eggs on the cabbage-leaves on which the young larvae feeds, though she herself never tastes it. The meat-fly lays hers on flesh, though she only sips nectar. Bees lay their eggs in cells and provides pollen for their young. The wasp also lays her eggs in cells made of mud and provides spiders and other insects for her young to feed on when hatched and strangely enough she does not kill these insects but paralyzes them with her sting, thus affording fresh and not putrid meat for her younglings. The tumble-bugs roll their eggs over and over on the ground and through filth until a clump of organic matter is formed, which serves both as a home and provision for the baby beetle. Carrion flies lay their eggs in a dead carcass as their young require putrid meat for their subsistence. It is rather amusing that these carrion beetles are sometimes badly fooled; there is a large mushroom that smells exactly like carrion and these beetles sometimes lay their eggs on this substance, believing it to be carrion, and no doubt the young when hatched are disgusted at the repast provided by their mothers. The cuckoo-bees lay their eggs in the nests of bumble and other bees, which is rather mean and they deserve punishment for such sharp practice. But, Messrs. Editors, I must call a halt for want of time to pursue this subject further. In my next I may have something further to say as it is intensely interesting.

Mr. H. L. Crew exhibited at the club to-day two very large Duchess pears grown on his farm, one weighing 30½ ounces and the other 31½ ounces! Who can beat this? We have never known it equalled. This bespeaks care, attention and good cultivation and management on the part of Mr. Crew that our expert fruit-growers would do well to pattern after. EUSEBIUS.

TOURNAMENT AT CECILTON.

Kent County Knights and Winners.

The tournament at Cecilton last Tuesday was a grand success. The tilting was for prizes of money, the first prize being $60 second $25, third $15. Each rider was entitled to three tilts at rings on three arches, twenty-five yards apart. The distance of 125 yards had to be covered by the nights in eleven seconds. Riders who had taken prizes at previous tournaments rode for inch and a-half rings, and all others at two-inch rings. The score was as follows: W. B. Stephens, Kent county, Knight of Jack of Clubs, 9; G. M. Tayman, Cecilton, Knight of Lone Star, 9; Adam Diehl, Melitota, Knight of Kent, 8; Harry Roberts, Middletown, Knight of Delaware, 8; Walter Beasten, Mt. Pleasant, Knight of Joie Run, 8; John Duyer, Worton Station, Knight of Glencoe, 7; Dallas Lore, Mount Pleasant, Knight of Indiola, 7; H. P. Rowan, Earlville, Knight of Formans, 7; W. W. Duyer, Worton Station, Knight of Spanish Cavalier, 6; Edgar Clark, Cecilton, aged 11 yrs., Knight of Florida, 5; Harry McKee, Cecilton, Knight of Missouri, 4. The tie between Messrs. Stephens and Tayman resulted in the former winning first prize. Mr. Tayman was given the second prize. The tie for third prize between Messrs. Diehl, Roberts and Beasten resulted in the last named winning. Mr. Stephens, being a married man, gave the honor of naming the queen of love and beauty to Wm. A. Davis, and Miss Emma Wilson, of Georgetown, Kent county, Md., was crowned on the Judges' stand. Miss Queen Deshane, Cecilton, was made first maid of honor, and Miss Carrie Jones, of Sassafras, Kent county, second maid of honor. Harry McKee, who made the lowest score, and received a tin cup for a prize, was allowed to name the third maid of honor, who was Miss Annie Husfelt, of Cecilton. Eugene R. Poarce, of Cecilton, delivered the coronation address.

PROFESSIONAL INFORMATION.—The Indianapolis News says: "Last winter a Baltimore reporter was sent to jail because he refused to say who told him that the grand jury had done a certain thing. It was held that he must tell or be deemed guilty of contempt. Per contra, a California judge has just decided that 'a reporter on a newspaper receives his information professionally and need not give the source of information.' This is an advanced ruling, and it remains to be seen if it will become general."

Born candidates for Comptroller with Comptroller Turner were present at the Easton Fair on Thursday of last week.

COAL!

WE will again call the attention of our friends and the public generally to the fact that with our present arrangement for transporting coal, we can furnish them the best quality of White Ash Coal, as low (or nearly so) as you can buy a lower grade of Coal. It is a fact without controversy (to them it has done the difference between the grades of White Ash Coal), that the Lee COAL which we handle is the BEST COAL that is brought to this market. The time will come when our people will find out that there is as much difference in the grades of White Ash Coal as there is in any other product. Some people seem to think that coal is coal. So it is, and wheat is wheat, but it is not all alike. We are ready to fill all orders for summer or winter use at the very lowest cash price. In future we expect to do business on a cash basis. Although coal is from 30 to 40 cents higher this year than last, the outlook seems that it will be higher as the season advances. Remember that 2240 pounds is a ton of coal. Probably it will be to your advantage to examine our stock of coal before buying.

Very respectfully,

J. T. TWILLEY & CO.,

Coal, Coal.

TO OUR FRIENDS AND PUBLIC.

THINKING that our brother Coal merchant might put some false impressions into your minds in reference to having the best coal sold in this market, we must state that we don't agree with him. While we don't claim to have better than our competitor, we do claim to have as GOOD COAL AS IS SOLD ON THIS OR ANY MARKET. There is no Coal that is better adapted to ALL USES than the SCHUYLKILL COAL, operated by the largest coal operators in the country. We also claim that we have prices to meet the lowest coal quotations. Hoping to be favored with your order, we remain, very respectfully,

R. F. PARKS.
