The Kent News

CHESTERTOWN - MAR. 17, 1888.

The Point in View.

"By jove!" says young Witless, "these girls are so stunning.
To wed at least half of them I am inclined,
But, although I'm not lacking in courage or cunning,
Th is deuced proposing's not easy, I find."

"It's as easy as lying," old Dazzle explains,
"When a fellow's on sentiment's summit;
The difficult things in my social campaigns,
Is, how in the world to keep from it."

Mrs. Langtry's Theory of a Bustle.

Said Mrs. Lantry the other day: "A thing that always annoys me is the hay-bag question. It makes no difference whether the woman who is to wear the dress is big or little, or with a long back or a short one. When her dress comes home there's the same size hay-bag sewn in the back of her dress. Oh! sometimes when I go by the shop doors and see the 'Langtry bustle' rattling in the wind, or ever hanging in the window I just long to put my head out of the window and tell everybody 'not to believe a word of it.' I object to the bustle on general principles. I believe in letting the material of the gown do all the disguising that is necessary should be done. It is the only way that will allow a woman to look well either sitting or walking. The hard 'hay-bag' is bound to keep the one who wears it either leaning back in her carriage or chair in the most undignified attitude possible, or sitting bolt upright. In either case she is going to be extremely uncomfortable herself and make her misery known."

He Didn't Look at It.

"Johnnie when will your sister be down? I am getting awfully tired of waiting."

"She will be down in ten minutes, I guess."

"Well, I'm going to time her. I'll go and look at the clock and see how long it will take her."

"You'd better not."

"Why."

"Dad would be mad if it was not running."

"What do you mean, Johnnie?"

"Why, sis says you'd stop a clock by looking at it."

Anxious for Notoriety.

Chicago Reporter—You don't deny that you eloped with Mr. Flash, Mrs. Society?

Mrs. Flash—No, sir; I do not.

"Was your husband cruel to you, mam?"

"No, sir."

"Didn't he lavish his wealth on you?"

"Yes."

"Did you love this man Flash?"

"No."

"Then why did you elope?"

"I wanted to see my name in the society columns of the papers."

HE HAD CORRECT HABITS.—"For ten years past," said the new boarder, "my habits have been regular as clock-work. I rose on the stroke of 6; half an hour later I sat down to breakfast; at 7 I was at work; dined at 12, ate supper at 6, and was in bed at 9.30; ate only hearty food, and hadn't a sick day in all that time."

"Dear me," said the deacon, in sympathetic tones, "and what were you in for?"

And in the awful silence that followed you could hear the hash grate its teeth.

UNCLE JEFF.: 'Look a' heah, you Hen'y Clay White. How many times has I tole yo' smoken' 'll shawten yo' life mo'n half?'

Young H. C.: 'Well, Unc' Jeff, yo' been smoken' mos' all yo' life, an' yo' is a putty ole man."

U. J.: "Dat,s all right, you fool nigga" I'se eighty-fo' now, an' ef I had'n smoked when I was a boy I might 'a' been mo'n a hundred years ole by dis time."—Life.

INCENSED newspaper humorist (to friend)—"See here, that fellow Johnson has stolen my sketch and worked it over."

Friend—"Yes, I see he has."

Humorist—"Isn't that outrageous? Why, I'd rather steal a man's money than his ideas."

Friend—"So would I. Would rather have his money."

HOME DOINGS.—Tew fresh en a salt mackrel,—tow him one summer beheind a steam bote.

Tew make a good man mad,— starch hiz stockings a leetle too stiff. Tew be one ov the "oldest inhabitants," remember very well, when Nebudkenezzer waz a babe.

Tew be happy,—eat molasses, and swing on a gate.—Josh Billings.

DOCTOR (surveying his newly-papered office)—This is a very poor job of paper-hanging—a very poor job, sir.

Paper-hanger—I'll have to admit, doctor, that the job isn't first-class. Unfortunately we paper-hangers have no way of burying our poor-jobs.

MAGISTRATE—"You are accused of stealing chickens, Uncle Rastus. Are you guilty or not guilty?" Uncle Rastus.—"I pleads not guilty, yo' Honah, an' inquests de privilege of frowing myself on the mercy of de cou't in case de evidence goes agin me."

A NEW rule for removing a cinder in the eye is given by a railroad engineer. It is: "Let the injured eye alone and rub the other one, and the cinder will be out in two minutes."

TO THE CITIZENS
—OF—

BOOTS AND SHOES!

HAVING BOUGHT FOR CASH a Large Stock o SHOES for Men, Boys, Ladies and Children, we feel prepared to meet the demands of the trade, both in PRICE AND QUALITY. We don't knowingly misrepresent our goods. We have cheap goods, which we offer for what they are, but we also have goods which we can recommend as being equal to, if not superior, to any in this market for the same money, and we honestly believe that anyone who may purchase these Shoes will get the value of their money every time.

☞ Call and look as an examination will cost nothing and may be money in your pocket.

SAVED HIS LEG!

SCROFULA

OF THE

BONE CURED!

LITHONIA, GA., August 11, 1887.

THE SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., Atlanta, Ga.:

Gentlemen—I have been afflicted with ulceration of the legs ever since I was a child, the disease undoubtedly being hereditary, as my mother suffered from scrofulous symptoms. As I advanced to manhood my affliction increased until the malady became harrassing and painful beyond the power of words to describe. My right leg particularly became fearfully involved, the left leg being less painfully affected. Finally, about fourteen years ago, the ulcers on my right leg had eaten through the flesh into the bone. In order to save my life the doctors determined to amputate my leg below the knee. The operation was successfully performed by Dr. H. V. M. Miller, of Atlanta, and Dr. W. P. Bond, of Lithonia. But the loss of my leg gave me only temporary relief. The poison was still in my system and soon began to show itself again. In a short time after large ulcers appeared on my left leg, covering it from the knee to the instep. Frequently while at work I could be tracked by the blood which oozed from the huge ulcers, and the sores and rottening holes were so offensive that my fellow-workmen could not stand the stench and would move away from me.

Last winter I was persuaded to try S. S. S. As a last effort I consented to do so, and about seven months ago I began taking the Specific. I soon began to feel the good effects of the medicine, the offensive running began to grow less and less and finally ceased, the ulcers healed, my flesh became firm and solid, and to-day, after using twenty-one bottles, I am as hale and stout a man of my age as there is in Georgia. I am seventy-one years old, but feel now younger and stronger than I did when I was twenty-five. I weigh about 175 pounds. Nothing is to be seen of the terrible disease, or to remind me of the torture I suffered for so many years, except the scars of the perfectly healed ulcers.

I want the world to know of the almost miraculous cure effected on me by S. S. S., and I call upon those who wish to know the particulars directly from me to write, and I will consider it a pleasure as well as a duty to answer their letters. I refer to Dr. W. P. Bond, of Lithonia, as to the truth of my statement. Very gratefully yours,

R. DRAKE.
