KEEP on giving thanks.

LOCAL buyers quoted corn at 48@49½ yesterday.

It is reported that former Gov. Brown has decided to drop politics ! If the leaders in state and county politics continue to retire there'll be nobody to "oil" the machine ! Then will come an end to bribery.

AN amicable agreement was reached Wednesday at a conference between prominent Democratic lawyers, by which it is made practically certain that the validity of the constitutional amendments passed by the last Legislature, chief of which is the Poe amendment, designed to disfranchise the illiterate negroes of the State, will be decided by the Court of Appeals in the January term.

THANKSGIVING DAY.

Writers of the history of Thanksgiving Day usually go back to colonial times and describe the custom of the appointment of thanksgiving days by the different governors of the new England colonies. The Pilgrim Fathers observed such a day as early as 1621. And during the Revolution, Thanksgiving Day was actually recommended by the Continental Congress. But after the Revolution these thanksgiving days gradually fell into disuse until after a while they were neglected altogether.

It was not until the year 1863 that the first national Thanksgiving was proclaimed by President Lincoln. There has been an annual Thanksgiving proclamation issued by the President every succeeding year calling the people of the United States to thanksgiving and prayer. Consequently the Thanksgiving Day, as a national institution, only dates back to 1863, now just forty-one years ago. It is remarkable that President Lincoln should that year, of all years of the war, issue a proclamation calling upon the people to congregate themselves together and give thanks; for the year 1863 was the year of Chancellorsville, of Gettysburg, of Vicksburg, of Chickamauga and of Chattanooga. It was the terrible year—the year of bloody battles, depleted currency, draft riots, the year of depression through the breadth of the northern land. And yet in the midst of it all President Lincoln could see just cause for thankfulness. But let him enumerate the blessings as he saw them:

"The year that is drawing closer towards its close has been filled with the blessings of fruitful fields and healthful skies* * * * In the midst of a civil war of unequalled magnitude and severity, which has sometimes seemed to invite and provoke the aggressions of foreign states, peace has been preserved with all nations, order has been maintained, the laws have been respected and obeyed, and harmony has prevailed everywhere except in the theater of military conflict; while that theater has been greatly contracted by the advancing armies and navies of the union."

Then he goes on to enumerate how the "needful diversions of wealth and strength from the fields of peaceful industry to the national defense have not arrested the plow, the shuttle, or the ship;" how that population has increased notwithstanding the waste of war, and concluding his enumeration he says: "No human counsel hath devised, nor hath any mortal hand worked out these great things. They are the gracious gifts of the Most High God, who, while dealing with us in anger for our sins, hath nevertheless remembered mercy.', Then he calls upon all the people in every part of the United States, and also those at sea and those sojourning in foreign lands to observe "the last Thursday of November as a day of thanksgiving and prayer." And this was the institution of our national Thanksgiving Day by proclamation of Abraham Lincoln just forty-one years ago.

And it ought to be a matter of instruction to us today, that if the great Lincoln could see ample reason enough for thanksgiving in those troublous times of 1863 when the angel of death was passing over the land, how much greater reason have we, in these prosperous and gracious times—prosperous in the yield of the fields, the orchards and mines; prosperous in the spread of religion and the diffussion of knowledge; prosperous in the progressive movements both in church and state—how much more, we say, should we praise God for his benefits and magnify his name for his mercies.

Large Corn Crop.—Advance in Freight Rates From the West—The corn crop of the United States this year is believed to be the largest of that of any previous year in our history, with the single exception of the year of 1902. The most reliable estimates of the 1904 crop are that it is not less than 2,453,000,000 bushels. This vast crop will supply all of our needs and will leave 300,000,000 or 400,000,000 bushels for sale beyond the sea. Heretofore Baltimore has been the chief port for the shipment of corn to Europe, exceeding New York and all other ports. Lately New Orleans has come to the front as the chief exporting city. A decision to advance the freight rates of corn to the Atlantic ports, made by the Central Freight Association, to go into effect on December 5th, will put Baltimore in a further disadvantage, as compared with the Gulf ports, and will be severe blow to the business interests of that city.

P. T. BARNUM once said: "If you have $19 to put in use, pay $10 for an article and 9 for advertising. I can outtalk any man but a printer, but the man who can stick type and the next morning talks to a thousand men while I am talking to one is the man I am afraid of and I want to be his friend."

CHURCH NOTES.

Miss M. Julia Thompson rendered a beautiful solo entitled "Ashamed of Jesus" in Christ M. P. Church Sunday evening.

Rev. A. H. Covey will preach at Bond Church next Sunday, the pastor and wife being absent visiting their parents.

Mr. J. Frank Wheatly delivered an excellent address on "Samuel" at the Christian Workers service held in Christ Church Sunday evening. Solos were rendered by Mrs. Mamie Dodd and Miss Edith Fallowfield and a duet by Miss Susiebelle Culp and Mr. A. M. Culp.

Rev. C. S. Trumpore, of Staten Island, N. Y., has been conducting revival meetings in the M. P. Church, Lynch's, during the week.

Mr. Kemp Bordley rendered a pretty violin solo at the morning service in the Chestertown M. E. Church last Sunday.

Mrs. Kuhlmann rendered a fine solo in Chesterville M. E. Church South Sunday, Miss Katie Hoskinson, of Virginia, accompanist.

Dr. Bond, presiding elder of Baltimore District, M. E Church South, will make his farewell visit to Kent county churches Saturday and Sunday. In honor of this visit Rev. Mr. Kuhlmann and wife have invited all the stewards and trustees from Millington and Chesterville churches to a reunion and dinner on Saturday.

Great crowds filled the old historic Rehoboth M. P. Church on Sunday morning Rev. F. S. Cain preached a special sermon to the Jr. O. U. A. M. of which they all attend the beautiful services in a body and they were a credit to Sassafras and the vicinity. Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Robinson and infant daughter were baptised, five new members joined the church and all the services were unusually interesting. Mr. Cain took his text from Psalms 33 chapter and 22 verse "Blessed is the nation whose God is the Lord, and the people whom he hath chosen for his own inheritance." of which he handled with much skill. He is greatly building up the church, within two weeks eleven new members have been added to the church, he and his good wife are greatly beloved, they have a large field of labor and we wish them much success. The day was beautiful just like a spring day and every one seemed to enjoy the services thoroughly.

Sunday, Dec. 4th, 1904 at 11 A. M. Chesterville M. E. Sunday School will celebrate "Missionary Day," at which time there will be an address on Foreign Missions, by Mrs. A. W. Wilson, wife of Bishop Alpheus Wilson, of Baltimore Conference. Those who have never heard Mrs. Wilson will do well to avail themselves of this opportunity. She is a very earnest and forceful speaker, especially of Foreign Missions. Having visited the East she is prepared to interest her listeners.

Sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be administered at St. James Church on Sunday at 10.30 A. M.

Preaching and revival services at Lynch's in the evening at 7 o'clock. Revival continued during the week.

Union Thanksgiving services were held in Christ Church Thursday morning, the sermon being delivered by Rev. Mr. White, of the M. E. Church. The combined choirs under Prof. A. M. Culp, furnished good music, the soloists being Mrs. Sides and Dr. Hall.

THOSE who oppose the re establishment of the canteen at U. S. Army posts have a strong argument in the Japanese army. No liquor is allowed within miles of the Mikado's soldiers, and no one will say they are not doing well in a most trying climate. Indeed, the Jap seems able to teach the American a thing or two in the matter of making a tough soldier.
