POLITICAL NOTES.

We noted in our last issue the names of a number of Kent's prominent citizens as having been spoken of for the Democratic nomination for State Senator. Only one was then a pronounced candidate—Capt. George. E. Noland, the popular manager of Tolchester Beach. His many friends insisted upon his candidacy, and it was in response to this urgency that he finally gave his consent. Since then one of the other names mentioned has been placed before the people for this high honor, that of William M. Slay, Esq. A host of this gentleman's admirers have been endeavoring to prevail upon him for some months to serve but he was loth to enter a field that appeared to him uninviting. Finally, however, he has consented, and his candidacy has been so favorably received that it is hoped that every barrier may give way to his unanimous nomination. Some of the most prominent leaders in both the recognized factions in the county have come forward and heartily assured Mr. Slay of their support, and it is believed that no stronger man could be found in the county to head the Democratic ticket. He is one of our well-known lawyers, a man of scholastic attainments and of irreproachable integrity. He would be an honor to the county as a Senatorial representative.

Mr. Slay's candidacy is in no sense a disparagement of Capt. Noland. They are both close friends and have always acted together and if they both remain in the field there will be nothing in their contest to mar their close friendship.

It would be better, of course, if no such contest should occur, but where there are so many friends of each urging their favorites it is not easy to decide between them. It is sincerely hoped that some understanding may be reached that will avoid a contest.

Queen Anne Politics.

A dispatch dated Centreville, Md., March 15... says: The political leaders of the county are beginning to get ready for a hot contest, which is inevitable this fall. The Independent Citizens' Party, now controls a county paper, the Centerville Record, which is edited by James T. Bright, the recognized leader of the party.

A conference of the leading independents of the county was held here Wednesday for the purpose of deciding upon a ticket to be nominated at some future date. A small representation from each district conferred over the matter, and, while no iron-clad agreement was reached several persons were slated, subject to change. Those thus spoken of are:

State Senate—De Coursey W. Thom, of the Fifth district.

Register of Wills—John F. Godwin, Second district.

State's Attorney—James T. Earle, Third district.

Treasurer—J. Louis Evans, Third district.

Legislature—W. P. Finley, Second district, and George E. Brown, Fifth district.

County Commissioners—James B. Bright, Fourth district, and John A. McFarland, Fifth district.

It is stated that the independents have made a compact with the Republicans to support the Republican state ticket, in return for the Republican support of the county ticket. A similar deal was made with the Republicans in 1905.

The regular Democratic leaders are trying to get together to adopt the Crawford county system for the primary election. Several district meetings have been held, but the adoption of the system is not yet assured.

J. Frank Harper, Esq., is being favorably mentioned as candidate for Senate.

THE oyster season closes April 15th.

NEXT Monday will be observed as Maryland Day throughout the State.

PINEY NECK WAVES.

A great improvement has been made in the roads this week.

Mr. Alfred Wilson states that his snow white robin, which visited him last year and raised a brood of robins, has made her appearance again this year and has taken up her quarters in his large plum orchard. This pure white robin is a great curiosity and Mr. Wilson takes every preeaution againt her being killed.

We are sorry to hear of the death of Mr. Thomas Glenn, of East Neck Island. He frequently visited Mr. James M. Wood and had many friends in this community.

Mrs. Mark Taylor, of Baltimore, is visiting her father Mr. Romie Crouch.

Mr. Edward Capel has been confined to his bed with rheumatism for nearly a week. Glad to hear he is able to be up and about again.

Rev. W. U. Harris left Monday for conference by way of Chestertown. He will be entertained in Smyrna by Mrs. W. F. Dunn.

Captain John W. Crouch has been very successful with his fishing at Love Point. He has purchaased a gasoline engine for his boat. We also have heard of two others, Robert Creighton and John W. Grant are to get one also.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Boyce, of Washington, D. C., are spending a few weeks with Mr. and Mrs. Vachel Burgess.

Mr. and Mrs. Marion Colison gave their son, Walter Nathaniel, a party on Thursday evening in honor of his 13th birthday. Various games were indulged in. Refreshments were abundantly served. Those present were: Mrs. Frank Colison, Mrs. Washington Crouch, Mr. and Mrs. Michael Adley, Mrs. Howard Rollison, Mrs. J. C. Ashley, Rev. and Mrs. W. V. Harris, Lillie Frazier, Mabel Colison, Alberta Harris, Nora Crouch, Etta Crosswell, Rilla Wood, Linda Morris, Louise Carroll, Alice Wood, Delia Adley, Hilda Ashley, Marguerite Crouch Mary Beck, Charles Colison, Lloyd Adley, Merritt Colison, Frank Price, Lee Edwards, Edward Hudson, Joseph Ashley, Cleveland Ashley and Melvin Apsley.

The Beautiful New Millinery is Ready for You to See

Search the city over, and you won't find Hats as handsome, nor prices as pleasing.

We've outdone New York—the statement is modest, and easily proved.

Why shouldn't every woman wear fine millinery? And why shouldn't she be able to get it at home?

And yet—until this store began, it wasn't possible to get a really fine hat in the city. Our older customers tell us they would be told: "We'll send to New York for you." Sometimes they waited, but quite as often they went to New York themselves.

It's all different now—and the beautiful new millinery for spring is ready for you to see and enjoy.

The Foremost Paris Milliners are Represented

We'll not print their names—else you'd soon see the same names used as a mere matter of advertising. But the hats are here—and the names are in the hats, just as they were placed there by the famous artists of the French capital.

And yet—you may prefer a H. K. & Co. hat to a Paris hat. And be wise in your preference.

The New Untrimmed Hats and Trimmings

More attractive than ever; wider variety than ever.

We trim hats free—when shapes and materials are bought here. The salesfolks will help you to decide on what's becoming.

The Pre-Eminence of This Store in Matters of Dress For Women.

This remarkable exhibition of Costumes, Suits, Coats and Skirts for Women is bound to arouse a deal of enthusiasm—there has never been a showing in this city to equal it. Yet it is simply another illustration of the Hochschild, Kohn & Co., position, and the results accomplished.

The assemblage is imposing, fascinating and all-sufficient. Here is the best work of the world's best designers and practical garment makers—a vast, exhaustive, satisfying stock, meeting the exact individual wish of every woman and girl. Everything good that has been brought forward by the season is amply represented.

You will find that our prices are very moderate—lower, in fact, than you can get equal garments for in the few stores that have equal garments.
