ROMANCE WITHOUT AN END.

A Letter From a Young Lady Found in a Box of Type Received at The News Office—Proves to be a Smart Compositor.

Some weeks ago the employes in the NEWS office in opening a box of type which came from Philadelphia found a strip of card board on which was written the following in a bold legible hand:

"Miss Ida Devine, Philipsburg, Centre County, Penna., is my address. If you're single answer to this; but if married be a man and attend to your own business. Been an employee of this office for seven years and not gray-headed."

A member of the NEWS' staff wrote in reply to this invitation, and asked for Miss Devine's photograph for fear it might turn out as did the following incident, as told in a special telegram from Des Moines, Iowa:

The lesson learned by corresponding with a stranger whom she had never seen will be a lasting one to Lillian Dunkirk an employe of a Milwaukee paper mill.

More than a year ago Miss Dunkirk inscribed her name and address upon a sheet of white paper sent from the mill and billed to Des Moines. She thought nothing of the affair until a few weeks ago, when she received a note from a man who declared that he would like to become better acquainted with her, object matrimony.

"She answered, and after a number of letters had passed between the two they agreed to meet on the station platform at Appleton, Wis. So that she might be able to recognize her lover, she stipulated that he was to wear a yellow chrysanthemum, while upon her own breast was to be pinned one of white.

"The day arrived, and the girl appeared at the depot as per agreement. With palpitating heart she watched the train from Des Moines glide into the station. Then a man descended from the steps of a coach, and in his buttonhole was a yellow chrysanthemum. He was a negro.

"With a shriek the girl tore the flower from her dress and ran madly up the platform. In a telegram received later from Milwaukee it is stated that Miss Duokirk has returned home without a husband. She declined to discuss her case or to give the name of the man upon whom her love had been misplaced."

In reply to this request came Miss Devine's answer as follows:

"FRIEND—I received your note yesterday noon very much to my surprise, was really more than was ever expected. It is impossiele to send a photograph just at the time but can well assure you I am white; I am a blonde, so from that it is well enough to believe of what race I belong. My object for such a prank was not to get a man, was more for jest and see what would be its return and destination. I have been a printer for the past seven years, and been in the same office this length of time, from this you can judge what a character I am entitled to. My associates are of the best people in this town. For this time enough is said, and hope this will reach the address."

Other letters have followed in quick succession and the end is not yet. In one of the letters she offers a position of foreman in the same office where she is employed!

Heartburn

What is commonly called heartburn is nothing more or less than sour stomach or accidity of the stomach. It is usually a concomitant with dyspepsia or indigestion, frequently caused by the use of tobacco or spiritus liquors and want of proper exercise. Sugar, sweets and saccharine vegetables, such as are easily turned sour in the stomach, should be avoided, and plenty of exercise taken. The following formula will remove these conditions promptly and can be obtained at a small cost from any good prescription druggist: Kastor Compound, 1 oz.; Fluid Extract Cascar Aromatic, 1 oz.; Tr. Cinchona Compound, 2½ oz.

THE KIDNEYS.

The kidneys must be numbered among the most vitally important organs of the body, as upon their proper action depends in large measure the general health. The diuretic properties of buchu are well-known and appreciated by physicians everywhere and it forms an important element in the following prescription, popular with medical men of standing as a successful remedy in cases of kidney and bladder trouble. Fluid Extract of Buchu, 1-4 oz. Fluid Extract of Uva Ursi, 1-4 oz.; Amet Cordial, 1 oz.; Fluid Extract of Liverwort, 1-4 oz.; water, 15 ozs. The dose is a tablespoonful three times a day and the use of the medicine should be continued at least a month, in order that all impurities may be driven from the system. In connection with this treatment, doctors recommend the drinking of an abundance of water. Any first-class pharmacy can supply the ingredients named.

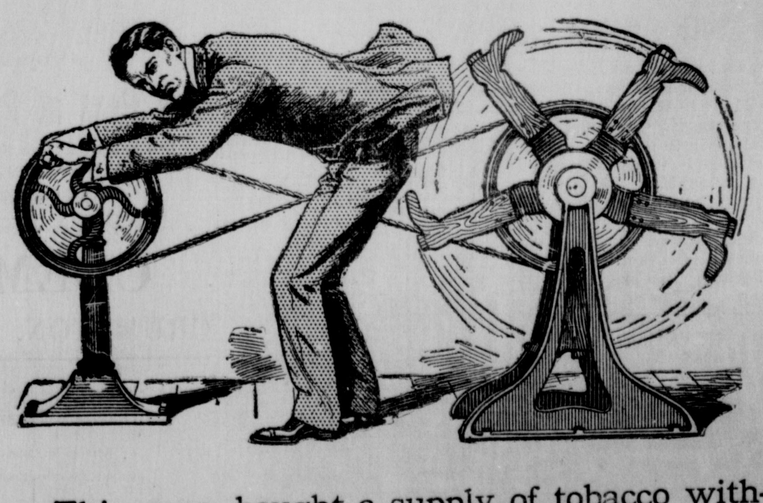
THE STAM DRUG CO.



This man bought a supply of tobacco without acquainting himself with the distinctive taste of SCHNAPPS Tobacco, which has the cheering qualities that gratify his desire to chew, and at less expense than cheap tobacco.

SCHNAPPS has been advertised in this paper so that every chewer has had an opportunity to get acquainted with the facts and know that drugs are not used to produce the cheering quality found in the famous Piedmont country flue-cured tobaccos, and that SCHNAPPS is what he ought to chew. Still there are chewers who accept other and cheaper tobaccos that do not give the same pleasure.

Some day they'll get a taste of the real Schnapps—they'll realize what enjoyment they've missed by not getting SCHNAPPS long ago—then they'll feel like kicking themselves.

SCHNAPPS is sold everywhere in 5 cent cuts, and 10 and 15 cent plugs. Be sure you get the genuine.
