PINEY NECK WAVES.

On Sunday the church had quite a large congregation. Many wore their new bonnets in spite of the strength of the wind which gave the hats more dents, curves and turn ups than the milliner. Everyone patronized their winter suits though.

The Ladies Aid Society will hold a supper and festival at the parsonage on Saturday evening April 20. Give them a helping hand.

Mr. Frank Price one of our most promising young men left for a position in Baltimore.

Mrs. John Frazier has returned home from an enjoyable visit with her mother Mrs. A. Gardiner, of York, Pa.

Rev. and Mrs. James L. Elderdice, formerly the pastor of Wesley Chapel, have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. Jas. M. Wood. Mr. and Mrs. Elderdice left Friday for Ruthsburg, where from thence conference has transferred them to Heathsville.

Miss Lillie Frazier has accepted a very desirable position in Baltimore. Miss Frazier will be sadly missed in this community.

Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Bryden and John Bryden have returned to their home in Baltimore after a week's visit with their parents Mr. and Mrs. Singleton Bryden.

It has been a windy week for the fishermen. Quite a number of them would make a voyage to Love Point to see to their nets, only to return having no luck.

A moving picture show was held in the K. of P. hall on Monday evening. It was largely patronized by old and young and very richly enjoyed.

A new store belonging to the K. of P. has been opened in charge of Mr. Frank Parsons, of Rock Hall. We wish him success and hope he will be well patronized by our citizens.

IN MEMORIAM.

In loving remembrance of my dear wife, Mrs. Joseph H. Moffett who died one year ago April 14, 1906.

I sit alone tonight and gaze
Upon an empty chair.
And memory takes me back to days
When my dear wife sat there.

And now one lonely year has passed
Since I have seen her face,
I think of her just as when last
She sat in her old place.

And so although my heart is sad
And I am lonely dear;
That one more day has passed I'm glad.
The time is drawing near.

When we shall be together wife
In that fair land above
Where there is everlasting life
And never dying love.

LOVING HUSBAND.

Dearest mother, how I miss you,
Miss you more than heart can tell,
Every day and hour that passes
Brings me nearer with you to dwell.

Friends may think I'll soon forget you
And my wounded heart be healed,
But they little know the sorrow
That's within my heart concealed.

Nobly at your post you stood
My mother, kind and true;
Beloved by all your friends so well
And kind to all you knew.

Farewell, dear mother, thou art at rest
And shall forever be;
You could not stay with us on earth
But we can come to thee.

DAUGHTER JULIA.

THE HUMAN BODY.

It is worth while to remember that the human body has the most perfect sewerage system that has ever been devised. Just as in that of a great city, the sewerage system of the individual is designed to carry away the waste, which, allowed to collect, would cause discomfort, in all probability followed by serious disease. Hence the sewers of the body must not be allowed to become clogged. Yet that is just what is the matter with the man or woman who suffers from constipation. And when constipation becomes chronic, more is required for its perminent releaf than a mere passage of the bowels. Governing muscles must be strengthened and restored to their natural condition of elasticity. Many physicians of repute find that this can be done by the use of the following prescription: ½ oz. Fluid Extract of Senna, ½ oz. Rochelle Salts, 1 oz. Aro-Sagrada, 30 grains Bi-carbonate of Soda, ½ oz. water and 1½ ozs. of Glycerine. A teaspoonful of this is given at bed time and before each meal, and this is continued until there is a free movement of the bowels. The ingredients indicated are obtainable at any first class pharmacy.—X.

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Yarnall and daughter, Helen, were the guests of Mr. John Gillespie last Sunday.

A delightful concert was given Thursday evening in Gillespie & Moffett's Hall, by Prof. W. J. Harrington, of Boston, Mass., assisted by Miss Louise Edler, one of Boston's finest solo sopranos. The object of this entertainment was to form a musical institute in this town.

A telegram called Mrs. George Jones to Philadelphia Monday night to the bedside of her mother, Mrs. Smith, who died before her daughter reached the house. The remains were brought to Millington Thursday evening and interred at this place.

Rev. C. M. Moore, who was at the recent conference assigned to the M. E. Church in place of Rev. Edwin Gardner, has filled the pulpit for two Sundays past and his sermons met with general approval by every one who heard him.

Milford is Again "Wet."—After being dry for nearly six months, Milford, Del., is again wet. W. C. Lofland was granted a license the early part of the week by the Sussex County Court, and has opened a bar in a room of the Windsor Hotel for business. He purchased the hotel some time ago. The refusal of the Kent and Sussex County Courts to grant license in Milford last fall brought about a bitter feeling and divided the town into "liquor" and "anti-liquor" factions. The Rev. G. P. Jones, pastor of the M. E. Church, took an active part in the fight against liquor, and when conference convened one wanted the preacher returned and another opposed him. He was not returned and was succeeded by Rev. H. T. Quigg, who is an ardent temperance worker.

A TESTED REMEDY.

A tested prescription, highly recommended by physicians for the relief of disorders traceable to the kidneys and bladder is: Fluid Extract of Buchu, ¼ oz.; Fluid Extract Uvo Ursi, ¼ oz.; Amet Cordial, 1 oz.; Fluid Extract Liverwort, ¼ oz.; water, 15 ozs. A dose of one tablespoonful of this is taken three times a day, and the continued use of the medicine for a month is calculated to drive from the system all the impurities which cause the disease. While the treatment continues the patient should drink as much water as possible. Any good druggist can put up the prescription.

THE following road supervisors have been appointed in the 7th district of Queen Anne's county:

Walls; Nos. 13, 29, Johnathan Green; Nos. 14, 15, F. P. Nickerson; Nos. 16, 23, Chas. McKee; No 17, Kent A. Bowers; Bowert; No. 18, John T. Baxter; No. 19, Woodall Robinson; No. 20, Chas. ROCK HALL ITEMS

Despite the cold disagreeable weather of Sunday church services were quite largely attended especially was this the case at St. John's Roman Catholic. At the M. E. church the congregation met a rather cool reception. The inflow of surface water got beyond control in the furnace cellar as a result the furnace was out of commission and the stove in the lecture room was inadequate to supply warmth for the auditorium. Overcoats and wraps were retained but the powerful search light thrown on by the pastor on the subject "The Motive of Christian Profession" from the text, "Verily, verily I say unto you, ye seek me not because ye saw the miracles but because ye did eat of the loaves and were filled," kept us all so busy examining ourselves that we almost forgot at times that cold and snow was prevailing. Quite a number of Spring hats and suits were in evidence. The wearers could no longer wait the lifting of the quarantine and from the pleasing style and effect no one could blame them.

Monday morning there was plenty of ice and and hard frozen ground.

Numerous of our residents are sorry to see by the press, that Prof. John G. Robinson has passed over to the "Golden Shore" that he so often sang about. He was much esteemed here and years ago he did a large business in this section and often took part in church and Sunday School services.

Walter Kelley who was operated on twice for appendicitis is in a precarious condition. Another operation it is thought by the Hospital Physician will be necessary. The parents Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Kelly have the deep sympathy of the neighborhood.

Mr. R. A. Fogwell was a visitor at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Davis Saturday and Sunday. He reports Mr. and Mrs. John M. Rodney in poor health of which we are sorry.

Mr. B. H. Coburn is a delegate at the I. O. O. F. Convention in Baltimore this week.

Hynson Carter who shipped as seaman on the steam yacht, Priscilla, Capt. Frank Satterfield, has resigned and returned to his home here. His reason for resigning is that his mother was lonely and requested him to come home.

The auction sale of clocks, watches, &c., of Smith and Davis was well attended on Saturday night. Auctioneer Hurlock is a "dandy."

It was interesting to see a score or more of fishermen on Saturday night comparing fish returns. All seemed to be well satisfied with their proceeds.

Another thing noticible on Saturday or other evenings is a conspicuous red bandana and tie worn by our old fellow townsman C. H. Smith. Rumor says a third adventure is soon to be made. Good luck to you Charly, but say, Milt, aren't you just a little ashamed of yourself to let Charly out strip you so often?

Capt. Wm. R. Coleman, a dyed in the wool Odd Fellow, was a welcome visitor at the Lodge of this place on Tuesday evening. Being a man of regular habits and appreciating the true value of an early home going, he could not indulge in an extended address much to the regret of the goodly number present. Come again Billie and stay longer.

Mr. J. W. Boyer, another gentleman of regular habits, and a full fledged pound net fisherman is a puzzle, not more so to others than to himself. He has been considerably delayed in getting a new trap ready to catch the finny tribe. Monday he went over to his base of operations, Huntingfield Point, and proceeded to gear in the bow of the funnel leading into the trap. The bow is several feet in diamer. As he worked the bow which is iron snapped in two. Remembering that an extra bow was in his shanty, he hauled it out from among the tackling and began to gear it to the funnel, but to his dismay, the bow was too small for the aperture in the net by 12 inches. He then had the broken bow repaired by our worthy blacksmith, John McCloskey, who has a shop on the shore of Capt. Hatcherson. Mr. Boyer laid the repaired iron near the one too small, and returned to his landing. He then picked up the small bow by mistake, and proceeded to gear it to the net, experiencing no trouble whatever—net fitting to the bow perfectly. Mr. Boyer has been trying to figure out wherein lay the delusion, the eye or brain. If the writer didn't know him so intimately, he would say, the contents of that bottle stowed away in the back room of the shanty.

The terrific wind storm of Tuesday night caught many of our fishermen in the bay with their drifts and experienced an ordeal they don't care to have repeated. All reached harbor O. K. except Charly Kerr, whose boat is not as staunch as it is necessary for such a hazardous calling and Will Culley. Both boats are navigated by gasoline power, but Culley had Kerr in tow and loosing his rudder was compelled to cast off Kerr's line and the last seen of him he was going before the wind. He has not, at this writing, been heard from. With him was Earle Hogans and Mack Ryan. Cully, it is reported, took up at Sandy Point and it is supposed that Kerr was blown on Kent Island shore. Other crews had some mishaps or loss of nets. A number of boats were seen off Love Point on Wednesday morning as if they were looking for something.

LOCUST GROVE LOCALS.

Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Boyer and daughter, of Templeville, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Hill part of the past week.

Mr. Tilden Cooper, of Still Pond, visited relatives near here on Tuesday.

Mrs. W. H. Kelly visited Mr. and Mrs. Robert Joiner, near Melitota, one day the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. Marion Hunter, of Queen Anne, have been entertained by relatives near here.

Rev. J. H. Kuhlman, of Chesterville, was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Stauffer on Tuesday.

Mrs. J. C. Haggerty and children have returned home after an extended visit to relatives and friends in the "Quaker City."

Mr. and Mrs. Jarrell, of Queen Anne, were entertained by relatives near here the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Price and daughter, of Delaware, spent Sunday with Mrs. Price's sister, Miss Lizzie Scotten.

LAUGH.

"Laugh and the world laughs with you," is about as true as anything ever written, and it is not only pleasant to have the world laugh with you, but it pays in every way. But it is hard to laugh—even to smile—if you are a victim of that prevalent malady, dyspepsia. However, thanks to the researches of medical men, dyspepsia is fast losing its terrors. A prescription to which it is said to yield very readily is composed of ½ oz. Fluid Extract of Buchu, 1 oz. Bulso Mixture, ½ oz. Fluid Extract Gentian Compound and 15 ozs. water. If the stomach is sour, two tablespoonfuls of baking soda are added to the above. A tablespoonful of this is taken three times a day, before meals. Any good pharmacy can supply the ingredients named.
