YACHTING ON CHESTER RIVER

Beautifully Modeled Launches Flit About Chestertown Harbor—Bacchus & Usilton's Dock a Busy Place—Engines Installed.

The great beauty of the Chester river is at last being appreciated by pleasure seekers and its waters now, besides teeming in fish, bear a score or more of natty launches and yachts which flit about the harbor like beings of life.

Bacchus & Usiltons's wharf and dock at foot of Cannon street are the headquarters for these boats. There may be found a veritable hive of busy workmen installing engines, building boats and repairing others. Mr. Wilbur Eliason is agent for the Fairbanks engine which has no superior. Mr. Percy Rawleigh, agent for the Ferro Auto Marine engine, is a master mechanic in the art of installing engines and has fitted out most of the Chestertown boats with this engine. Capt. Sam Bennett and Bert. Rawleigh are fixed up for building and repairing and have all they can do at present, while Capt. Louis Stam is always on the qui vive. He sold his launch in Florida but will build another. He is an expert with an engine.

The master mechanic and modeler of bateaux is Mr. Charles Johnson who averages a boat every fifteen days. He finished a 16-foot bateau for Alfred Waddell last week has started an 18-foot boat for Peter Creswell and has orders for a 20 foot boat for Mr. L. B. Russell and a 22-foot one for a party at Quaker Neck Wharf. Mr. Bert Rawleigh is building a dead rise 17-foot boat to be fitted with engine. L. B. Russell's torpedo boat has had an awning put on; it is installed with a 4½ horse-power ardmore engine. Capt. Wilbur Eliason's Cinderella is the "guardean" of the fleet with a 25-horse-power engine. Then comes Mr. Frank Greenwood's pretty little launch with 1½ horse power engine; Leonard Rawleigh's with 3½ auto Marine engine; Thomas W. Eliason, Jr.. with 1½ horse-power engine; W. E. Moody, the enthusiastic lover of the sport, has a natty canoe fitted with 2-cylinder 7-horse-power engine which is hard to beat; Mr. Raymond Moody also has a fine little boat with 2½ horse-power engine: Capt. Edw. W. Emory is having his big canoe fitted up with a 7-horse-power auto Marine engine as is also Capt Howard Hadaway's. Capt. James A. Kirby's bateau has a 3½-horse-power auto engine; the Josephine, owned by Capt. Curtis E. Crane, is now a full-fledged yacht and not dependant on wind as Capt. Bennett has successfully installed a 15-horse-power Barber engine; the Collins Bros. has a 11-horse-power canoe that is very fast; Dr. C. R. Twilley's launch is equipped with an Ardmore engine of two-horse-power; George Rollison has a bateau that runs without a quiver equipped with a 2½ Hubbard engine; Mr. P. V. Rawleigh has equipped six boats with the Ferro Auto Marine engine within three weeks.

Capt. George B. Westcott has not been converted to the gasoline engine and still sticks to wind and tide. He has taken the engine from the Vickers-Moody boat and is rigging her up with sails. The yacht Lucy owned by Mr. Charles S. Smith is to have new sails, sloop-rigged, and made ready for a trip to Jamestown. Commodore J. K. Aldridge's yacht is in fine shape while other white winged owners are Eben F. Perkins, Wilbur Eliason, Jr., and others.

TO LIVE WITHOUT COOKS

Kansas City Women Adopt Community Plan Of Providing Meals.

Tired of the trouble their cooks made, eight west side women of Kansas City have set out to solving the domestic help problem, says the New York Sun.

A few days ago each of them discharged her cook, locked up her kitchen windows, put the pots and pans and plates away and joined the Colony club.

A two story house within a block of the homes of all the members was rented and Miss Anabel Harf, was employed as chef. Two other women were employed to help her. They live in the house.

Each of the eight families has its own table, and each furnishes its own table linen and silver and contributes its quota of the kitchen utensils. The chef arranges the menus. At the end of each month the cost will be computed, and each family will pay its proportionate share.

So successful has the experiment proved already that several other families want to join.

My Hair Ran Away

Don't have a falling out with your hair. It might leave you! Then what? That would mean thin, scraggly, uneven, rough hair. Keep your hair at home! Fasten it tightly to your scalp! You can easily do it with Ayer's Hair Vigor. It is something more than a simple hair dressing. It is a hair medicine, a hair tonic, a hair food.
