"VEHICLES THAT STAND UP."

Cortland Vehicles do "Stand up." That's a strong claim—but true. True, because, they're made on honest principles from honest materials. That's why they have "stood up" for 35 years. If you could only see for yourself the care practiced in every department of the great factory at Cortland, N. Y., you would be convinced.

CORTLAND WAGON COMPANY VEHICLES

are started right and sold right—through reliable dealers on easy terms. We offer them in 140 styles and you will find just the vehicle you want—for looks, for comfort, for service. The price-range is made to accommodate your pocketbook. Before you get tangled up in a pretty-picture-catalogue deal look at the Cortland Wagon Company's Vehicles. They hold their own with any you have ever seen at similar prices. Make us prove it—and right soon—too. We also carry other standard lines, all particularly adapted to this section.

Heat on Tobacco Improves it Like Roasting Improves Green Coffee. Heat Develops the Stimulating Aroma and Taste found in Schnapps Tobacco and Coffee

Three ways are used by farmers for curing and preparing their tobacco for the market; namely sun cured, air cured and flue cured. The old and cheap way is called air cured; the later discovery and improved way is called flue cured.

In flue curing the tobacco is taken from the fields and racked in barns especially built to retain heat and there subjected to a continuous high temperature, produced by the direct heat of flame heated flues, which brings out in the tobacco that stimulating taste and aroma that expert roasting develops in green coffee. These similar processes give to both tobacco and coffee the cheering and stimulating quality that popularizes their use.

The quality of tobacco depends much on the curing process and the kind of soil that produces it, as expert tests prove that this flue cured tobacco, grown in the famous Piedmont region, requires and takes less sweetening than tobacco grown in any other section of the United States and has a wholesome, stimulating, juicy, full tobacco taste that satisfies tobacco hunger. That's why chewers prefer Schnapps, because Schnapps cheers more than any other chewing tobacco, and that's why chewers of Schnapps pass the good thing along—one chewer makes other chewers, until the fact is established that there are more chewers and more pounds of tobacco chewed to the population in states where Schnapps tobacco is sold than there are in those states where Schnapps has not yet been offered to the trade.

A 10c. plug of Schnapps is more economical than a much larger 10c. plug of cheap tobacco. Sold at 50c. per pound in 5c. cuts. Strictly 10 and 15 cent plugs.

A MEAN TRICK ON THE COW

New Scheme Of Hartford Countians Will Cut Off Her Fun.

The proud, aristocratic cows that roam the fair hills and fields of Harford county—the good, fresh cows that produce much of the milk used in Baltimore—are about to be deprived of their time-honored and favorite diversion of kicking over the bucket when it is half full.

That is, the indignity of the deprivation will come upon them if a scheme fostered by Mr. J. Alexis Shriver and Mr. Alexander Bell, of Belair, succeeds and is taken up by the farmers and dairymen of the country around Belair.

These two conspirators againt the lifelong pleasures and amusement of the gentle kind purpose to establish within four miles of Belair a power plant to furnish electricty to run milking machines all over the dairy district around Harcounty seat.

These milking machines, with buzzing little electric motors running them, will, it is claimed save labor. The finish of the merry milkmaid of the rosebloom cheeks and the buxom form and the milk laddie with his shining tin bucket and three-legged stool is, therefore, plainly in sight.

But "merry milkmaids" in Harford county is now a mere figure of speech, and the milkman, it is said, is getting to be a scarce adjunct to the dairy business. Somebody has to milk the cows and men are hard to get to do it, and that is why Mr. Shriver and Mr. Bell think there are great possibilities in their project.

The milking machine is not altogether an untried device. Several of the labor-saving devices have been in use, but they were propelled by hand and could only milk one or two cows at a time. With the electric machines Bossy and Sukey and half a dozen of her sisters and female relatives can be milked at one time.

The machine's principle is that of a vacum. A rubber tube, the end of which fits around the cow's teat, is attached to a vacuum pump. The motor that attends to the milking while the dairyman sits back with his pipe between his teeth marveling at the ingenuity of modern inventions drives a vacum pump which in drawing out the air makes the tight-fitting bulb around the cow's teat contract in almost the same motion produced by the human hand that knows how to milk.

The milk flows through a rubber tube into a receptacle far enough removed from the cow's hoofs to preclude any possibility of it being kicked over. A glass section in the tube shows when the milk has ceased flowing, and altogether the machine is looked upon as a milker of mechanical intelligence.

But the use of the machine, though it proves profitable to the farmer or milkman, robs "baby's friend" of another innocent little pleasure. No longer, when the machine is in operation, can Bossy flick the bushy end of her tail in the milker's face. The rubber tube won't care, but if the tail slaps the motor something may happen which will teach Bossy some different manners.

Mr. Shriver has procured an option on the property of the old Hollingsworth Wheel Company, now absorbed in another concern. The property stands on Winter's creek, about four miles from Belair, the mill there being fitted with a turbine wheel in good condition and ready for connection.

The idea of milking cows by a mechanical device run by electricity was strengthened in the minds of Messrs. Shriver and Bell by a recent trip through the Mohawk valley of New York State. There, where there are numerous streams capable of furnishing the power to generate the electricity, they found many cows being milked by electrically driven machines. In addition they found on many farms that the "juice" was used to pump water, run sawmills, cut silage and do a lot of other things on a farm of size.

FOLEY'S HONEY AND TAR
Cures Colds: Prevents Pneumonia

HE WAS A HUMAN OSTRICH.

Gimlets, Nails And Steel Chains In A Man's Stomach.

The record of the man who swallowed a fork years ago has been beaten by an exhibitor at French fairs, who was in the habit of putting down bits of glass and metal for the bewilderment of the spectators.

This marvelous regimen seemed to agree with him until lately, when he became morose and lost his appetite for the sort of food with which his fellow-creatures are want to regale themselves. So he went one day to a Paris hospital, and Prof. Paul Berger, having no difficulty in guessing the cause of the trouble was very interested in the case, but hesitated to operate, as he feared that this might make matters worse.

As a crisis was evidently impending, howeaer, the professor decided on running the rise. An incision was made in the patient's stomach, and from it were removed a fork bent in twain, a button hook, three gimlets, 140 nails, an enormous number of pins, and last, not least, a couple of steel chains, the whole lot weighing 330 grammes, and showing by their condition that they had sojourned long in the interior of the exhibitor at fairs, who bore the operation extremely well, and has rapidly mended ever since.

CASTORIA.
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher. The Kind You Have Always Bought

What Ails You?

Do you feel weak, tired, despondent, have frequent headaches, coated tongue, bitter or bad taste in morning, "heartburn," belching of gas, acid risings in throat after eating, stomach gnaw or burn, foul breath, dizzy spells, poor or variable appetite, nausea at times and kindred symptoms?

If you have any considerable number of the above symptoms you are suffering from biliousness, torpid liver with indigestion, or dyspepsia. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is made up of the most valuable medicinal principles known to medical science for the permanent cure of such abnormal conditions. It is a most efficient liver invigorator, stomach tonic, bowel regulator and nerve strengthener.

The "Golden Medical Discovery" is not a patent medicine or secret nostrum, a full list of its ingredients being printed on its bottle-wrapper and attested under oath. A glance at its formula will show that it contains no alcohol, or harmful habit-forming drugs. It is a fluid extract made with pure, triple-refined glycerine, of proper strength, from the roots of the following native American forest plants, viz., Golden Seal root, Stone root, Black Cherrybark, Queen's root, Bloodroot, and Mandrake root.

The following leading medical authorities, among a host of others, extol the foregoing roots for the cure of just such ailments as the above symptoms indicate: Prof. R. Bartholow, M. D., of Jefferson Med. College, Phila.; Prof. H. C. Wood, M. D., of Univ. of Pa.; Prof. Edwin M. Hale, M. D., of Hahnemann Med. College, Chicago; Prof. John King, M. D., Author of American Dispensatory; Prof. Jno. M. Scudder, M. D., Author of Specific Medicines; Prof. Laurence Johnson, M. D., Med. Dept. Univ. of N. Y.; Prof. Finley Ellingwood, M. D., Author of Materia Medica and Prof. in Bennett Medical College, Chicago. Send name and address on Postal Card to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., and receive free booklet giving extracts from writings of all the above medical authors and many others endorsing, in the strongest possible terms, each and every ingredient of which "Golden Medical Discovery" is composed.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets regulate and invigorate stomach, liver and bowels. They may be used in conjunction with "Golden Medical Discovery" if bowels are much constipated. They're tiny and sugar-coated.
