NICHOLSON TO COMMAND

Of Famous Fighting Family—Maryland Nicholsons Have Furnished Admirals And Commodores Since The Navy Was Established.

Orders have been issued at the Navy Department detaching Capt. Reginald F. Nicholson from duty at the Bureau of Navigation and directing him to take command of the new battleship Nebraska, at San Francisco, on August 1. The Nebraska went into commission July 1. Captian Nicholson was navigating officer of the Oregon when she was brought around from the Pacific to the Atlantic in the Spanish-American War.

Captain Nicholson has been on duty in the Bureau of Navigation since January 22, 1906, in charge of the work of detailing the officers of the navy, and since the transfer of Captain Cadger he has been assistant chief of the bureau, Admiral Brownson's right-hand man. Last week he was the acting chief of the bureau while Admiral Brownson was at Newport.

Captain Nicholson is winding up the work of his office. He will leave Washington next Wednesday, going direct to San Francisco. On his arrival there he will immediately assume command of the Nebraska, the only battleship on the Pacific Coast. She was built in the Moran Bros. shipyards at Seattle.

Served With John Paul Jones.

Samuel Nicholson, a brother of James, was born in Maryland in 1743, and was a lieutenant with John Paul Jones in the battle between the Bon Homme Richard and the Serapis. He became a captain in the navy in 1779. He commanded the frigate Deane, of 32 guns. He retained his rank of captain on the reorganization of the navy in 1794, and was the first commander of the frigate Constitution, the building of which he supervised. At the time of his death, in 1813, he was at the head of the navy. It is from this member of the family that Capt. Reginald Nicholson, the commander of the Nebraska, is descended.

John Fought Under Decatur.

Another brother of Samuel Nicholson was John, who also served in the Revolutionary Navy as lieutenant and captain. John's son, William Carmichael Nicholson, born in Maryland in 1800, was commissioned a midshipman from Maryland in 1812 and was on board the President under Decatur in the desperate action off Long Island in January, 1815, when that vessel surrendered to the British. He was carried to England and was not released until the end of the war. He was commissioned a lieutenant in the navy in 1821 and was in active service until after the Civil War, reaching the grade of commodore. When the Civil War began he was commander of the United States Marine Asylum in Philadelphia.

Another famous member of the family was the late Admiral James William Augustus Nicholson, grandson of Samuel Nicholson. Admiral Nicholson entered the navy in 1838 and was a lieutenant on the sloop Vandalia, which was with Commodore Perry's Japanese expedition. He saw active service in the Civil War. He was present during the bombardment of Alexandria, Egypt, by the British fleet in 1882, landing 100 marines to protect the American Consulate.

Noted Old Maryland Family.

The Maryland family to which Captain Nicholson belongs is one of the most famous in naval annals, ranking with the Selfridges, Porters and Winslows. Since 1755 18 of the family have been in the naval service of the United States. A number of them have won broad pennants. Captain Nicholson is the son of the late Commodore Somerville Nicholson, who retired from the navy in 1881 and died last year. Captain Nicholson's father commanded the steam-gunboat Marblehead on the South Atlantic blockading squadron in 1862. Although his father was born in New York, Captain Nicholson's grandfather, Augustus Nicholson, was a member of the Maryland family of Nicholson which moved to South Carolina after the Revolution.

The head of the Maryland family was James Nicholson, a naval officer, who was born at Chestertown, Md., in 1737 and died at New York in 1804. James' father, a scotchman, came from Berwick-on-Tweed and was given a grant known as Nicholson's Manor, near Blue Ridge, Va., that is still known as Nicholsons Gap. His son, James Nicholson, went to sea, serving at the capture of Havana in 1762. After residing in New York James Nicholson entered the Revolutionary Navy in the Defense, a Maryland vessell, in 1755, and in that ship the following year he recaptured several vessels that had been taken by the British. In 1776, a month before the signing of the Declaration of Independence, he was appointed to the command of the Virginia, of 28 guns. In January, 1777, he succeeded Commodore Esek Hopkins as the commander-in-chief of the navy, and held that post until its dissolution. A strict blockade of the Chesapeake bay prevented the Virginia from leaving the bay, and Captain Nicholson and his crew joined the army and took part in the battle of Trenton.

WHAT A NEW JERSEY EDITOR SAYS

CASTORIA.
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher. The Kind You Have Always Bought

Do You Open Your Mouth

Like a young bird and gulp down whatever food or medicine may be offered you? Or, do you want to know something of the composition and character of that which you take into your stomach whether as food or medicine?

Most intelligent and sensible people now-a-days insist on knowing what they employ whether as food or as medicine. Dr. Pierce believes they have a perfect right to insist upon such knowledge. So he publishes, broadcast and on each bottle-wrapper, what his medicines are made of and verifies it under oath. This he feels he can well afford to do because the more the ingredients of which his medicines are made are studied and understood the more will their superior curative virtues be appreciated.

For the cure of woman's peculiar weaknesses, irregularities and derangements, giving rise to frequent headaches, backache, dragging-down pain or distress in lower abdominal or pelvic region, accompanied, ofttimes, with a debilitating, pelvic, catarrhal drain and kindred symptoms of weakness, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a most efficient remedy. It is equally effective in curing painful periods, in giving strength to nursing mothers and in preparing the system of the expectant mother for baby's coming, thus rendering childbirth safe and comparatively painless. The "Favorite Prescription" is a most potent, strengthening tonic to the general system and to the organs distinctly feminine in particular. It is also a soothing and invigorating nervine and cures nervous exhaustion, nervous prostration, neuralgia, hysteria, spasms, chorea or St. Vitus's dance, and other distressing nervous symptoms attendant upon functional and organic diseases of the distinctly feminine organs.

A host of medical authorities of all the several schools of practice, recommend each of the several ingredients of which "Favorite Prescription" is made for the cure of the diseases for which it is claimed to be a cure. You may read what they say for yourself by sending a postal card request for a free booklet of extracts from the leading authorities, to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y., and it will come to you by return post.

Chew What You Know About and Know What You Are Chewing

There is real pleasure in chewing the best tobacco grown—where the best tobacco grows—in the famous Piedmont Country.

Only choice selections of this well-matured and thoroughly cured tobacco is used in making SCHNAPPS. That's why SCHNAPPS and others of the Reynold's brands, as shown by the Internal Revenue statistics for a fiscal year, made the wonderful growth of six and one-quarter million pounds, or a net gain of one-third of the entire increased consumption of chewing and smoking tobaccos in the United States.

Evidently, chewers cannot resist the flavor and they cheer SCHNAPPS because SCHNAPPS cheers them more than any other chewing tobacco, and every man that chews SCHNAPPS passes the good thing along—one chewer makes other chewers—until the fact is now established that there are many more chewers and pounds of tobacco chewed, to the population, in those States where SCHNAPPS tobacco was first sold than there are in the States where SCHNAPPS has not yet been offered to the trade.

SCHNAPPS is like a cup of fine Java coffee, sweetened just enough to bring out its natural, stimulating qualities. SCHNAPPS pleases all classes of chewers: the rich, because they do not find a chew that really pleases them better at any price; the poor, because it is more economical than the large 10c. or 15c. plugs and they get their money's worth of the real snappy, stimulating flavor so appreciated by tobacco lovers. All imitations contain much more sweetening than SCHNAPPS. They are made that way to hide poor tobacco improperly cured.

For the man who chews tobacco for tobacco's sake, there is no chew like SCHNAPPS.

Sold at 50c. per pound in 5c. Cuts. Strictly 10c. and 15c. Plugs
