"A MAN OF THE PEOPLE"

Judge Crothers As Known By His Neighbors—All Speak In His Praise—He Declares He Will Resign From The Bench And Make A Thorough Canvas Of The State.

A look-in by a staff correspondent of the Sun on Hon. Austin L. Crothers, the Democratic nominee for Governor, as he sat in his office in Elkton, would not convey the idea that he had been honored by having been selected by the Democratic State Convention as its choice for the highest office in the gift of the people of this Commonwealth.

Judge Crothers is methodical, and as is usual for him, he was found at his desk in one of his well-appointed offices in the Junior Mechanics' Hall, on Main street, early in the morning. With customary promptness he had decided upon his course in view of his nomination. He said he would resign from the bench as soon as he had settled the routine pending before him, because he was of the opinion that a man should not be a candidate for office while he was on the bench. The plan laid down in the platform for submitting the names of the candidates for United States Senator to the voters at a primary election met with his hearty approval, and he promised that in no way would he influence the members of the Legislature in casting their votes on this subject. He intends to avoid political manipulation and to try to please the people in every way that he can. The clause in the platform declaring that the Governor should serve out his term and not seek other office, he said, was thoroughly indorsed by him. Judge Crothers said he regarded the office of Governor as one of honor and dignity, and that he wanted to be elected on high moral grounds.

He expects to remain in Elkton until the first of next week, when he will come to Baltimore to arrange for the campaign details. Although the campaign will necessarily be short, he expects to make a thorough canvass of the State. In order to do this, he says, it will keep him hustling, which is in his line.

A Shower Of Congratulations.

The duties which the Judge performed throughout the day, and indeed late in the night, were of a different character from his usual daily routine. They consisted entirely of thanking his fellow citizens, who began to pour into his office in the early morning to tender their congratulations on his having been selected as the Democratic Gubernatorial candidate.

"I sincerely congratulate you."

These words are uttered on many occasions with varying emphasis. There could be no doubt, however, as to their sincerity as expressed to Judge Crothers by his fellow townsmen and the people of his county. Each expression of good will and pledge of support was accompanied by a grip of the hand which brought a smile to the receiver of the compliment and gave to the one uttering it indisputable evidence that it was appreciated.

The popularity and standing of Judge Crothers in his home community are indicated by the fact that good wishes were not confined to men of any particular political party, religion or creed. One of the first persons to greet the Judge on his appearance at his office was Mr. Geo. A. Blake, a prominent Republican member of the Cecil bar and a lawyer of high standing. This is regarded as a coincidence as Mr. Blake was the first person to congratulate Judge Crothers after he had been appointed to the bench, and was also the first to present a legal document requiring his signature. In fact, it would be a difficult task to attempt to distinguish the political affiliations of the Judge's callers. Political lines were disregarded, at least for the day.

Strong With The People.

In the opinion of those who know him, Judge Crothers deserves all the honors he has enjoyed and all that he may yet achieve, He holds a strong place among the people. He comes of a family which has long lived in the county, having been of a home circle of nine. This would indicate that there is no race-suicide streak in the Crothers family.

The father of Judge Crothers resided on a farm near West Nottingham. He was prosperous and had an ambition that some of his children would inherit his fondness for agricultural pursuits. In this way he was not disappointed, as one of his sons, up to the time of his death, cultivated the soil.

Four of the other boys displayed a fondness for professional life. These were Ransom R., who became a physician and is now dead, and Charles C., who possibly was better known to the people of Maryland than any other member of the family, having served several terms in the State Senate, where he became conspicuous as a leader on the Democratic side. He was afterward nominated for Attorney-General, but was defeated with the remainder of the Democratic ticket in the slump of 1895. He also served his county as State's Attorney.

From Farm To Bench.

The Judge, after a course at West Nottingham Academy, taught in the schoolhouse at Pilot, near West Nottingham, and later taught at the Oakwood School, in the same neighborhood. It was said yesterday by one of his old pupils that he was a good teacher.

During his term of service in the public schools the Judge decided that he would seek his fortune along legal lines, and, being a man of action, he at once applied to his brother for the use of the law books required. Later he entered

Over-Work Weakens Your Kidneys.

Unhealthy Kidneys Make Impure Blood.

All the blood in your body passes through your kidneys once every three minutes.

The kidneys are your blood purifiers, they filter out the waste or impurities in the blood.

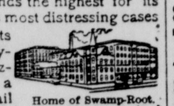
If they are sick or out of order, they fail to do their work.

Pains, aches and rheumatism come from excess of uric acid in the blood, due to neglected kidney trouble.

Kidney trouble causes quick or unsteady heart beats, and makes one feel as though they had heart trouble, because the heart is over-working in pumping thick, kidney-poisoned blood through veins and arteries.

It used to be considered that only urinary troubles were to be traced to the kidneys, but now modern science proves that nearly all constitutional diseases have their beginning in kidney trouble.

If you are sick you can make no mistake by first doctoring your kidneys. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases and is sold on its merits by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sizes. You may have a sample bottle by mail free, also pamphlet telling you how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. Mention this paper when writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y.



Home of Swamp-Root.

Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Sawmp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp Root, and the address, Binghampton, N. Y. on every bottle.

MEN PAST SIXTY IN DANGER

More than half of mankind over sixty years of age suffer from kidney and bladder disorders, usually enlargement of prostate glands. This is both painful and dangerous, and Foley's Kidney Cure should be taken at the first sign of danger, as it corrects irregularities and has cured many old men of this disease. Mr. Rodney Burnett, Rockport, Mo., writes: "I suffered with enlarged prostate gland and kidney trouble for years and after taking two bottles of Foley's Kidney Cure I feel better than I have for twenty years, although I am now 91 years old." For sale by all druggists.
