NATION'S WARDS BADLY TREATED

SERIOUS CHARGES AGAINST FEDERAL OFFICIALS.

FRAUDS ON A LARGE SCALE

House Committee Report Charges That Government Agents, Instead of Protecting the Rights of the Indians, Acted in the Interest of Lumber Companies and Showed Fraudulent Partiality in Making the Allotments.

Washington, January 16.—"There are things in the Indian Bureau which should be investigated," declared Senator Townsend during a sharp fight in the Senate today over his resolution to have the Attorney General investigate the affairs of the Crow Indians. Action was deferred at the end of a long debate.

Charges of gross frauds against the Indians on the White Earth Reservation in Minnesota, that their physical and material condition is pitiful and that Major James McLaughlin, Indian inspector, did not properly guard the Indians' interests in the allotment of lands were made to the House today in a report by the Committee on Expenditures in the Interior Department. It recommended that some remedy be found by Congress for the present "anomalous situation" by which the Commissioner of Indian Affairs has complete control over property worth $1,000,000,000 belonging to Indians of the various tribes in the United States.

The report declares that the Chippewa and other Indians were defrauded of large sums in the sale of lands and standing timber on the White Earth Reservation. A sale in 1900 the committee "finds from undisputed authority was fraudulent in the details of its accomplishment." The committee further charges that "fraudulent partiality" was shown by Simon Michelet, Indian allotting agent, in allotting the Indian timber under the law of 1905.

"The best and most valuable pine allotments fell into the hands of those who were intended in advance to receive them," says the report.

"Investigations following these acts, the committee says, resulted in the sending out of an Indian agent, Thomas Downs, who found the proceedings partial, unfair and unjust. Thereupon the paid agents of the lumber companies who claimed rights themselves as Indians and who would be beneficiaries of the allotment fraud, remonstrated to the Interior Department for the setting aside of the proceedings."

The report declares that Major James McLaughlin, the second agent sent out, refused to allow the full blood Indians to send out runners to bring in the people; made false reports as to the number of full bloods present and gave no adequate notice to the Indians of the mass-meeting, at which the question came up, which, "in effect, was a council of lumber companies."

The action of former Commissioner Francis E. Leupp was condemned on the ground that he prevented a full statement of the Indian complaints to President Roosevelt.

In presenting their report to the House minority members of the committee declare the majority report "shows on its face evidence of extreme exaggeration of statement and reckless charges of the most serious character against the Indian Service as a whole and against public officials in particular who have a record of faithful service which entitles them, and has heretofore secured for them a reputation for enlightened and faithful devotion to the interests of the Indians and the public service."

The report refers to former Indian Commissioner Leupp and Indian Inspector James McLaughlin, who are criticised in the majority report, and says: "Sweeping and serious charges against men of such established record and reputation for faithful, honest and sympathetic service for the Indians and the public are not justified by hurried and superficial examination of some isolated official act."

Nett Lake, Minn., January 16.—At a council meeting of the Bois Fort band of Indians here today it was decided to send Chiefs Dah-Bway-Wam-Bung and Mahjishkung and Interpreter Frank H. Pequette to Washington February 17 to see President-elect Wilson. The trip is for the purpose of presenting a petition involving money alleged by the Indians to have been withheld. Improvements also will be urged by the red men.

To Restrict Potash Production.

Berlin, January 16.—The German government is preparing a new potash bill which is designed to restrict production, according to a statement made by Clemens Delbrueck, minister of the interior, today at the meeting of the budget committee of the Imperial Parliament. The measure will probably be brought in before the termination of the present session.

Cutters Searching for Missing Ships

Washington, January 16.—After a 12-day search the revenue cutter Seneca today reported by wireless that she had been unable to find the bark Carrie Winslow or the schooner Future. With the cutter Androscoggin, however, the Seneca will continue the search. Revenue cutters are still hunting for the merchant bark Dorothea.

DEMAND OF THE FAR WEST

Want the Secretary of the Interior From That Section.

Washington, January 16.—Democratic senators from the Rocky Mountain region today sent to President-elect Wilson a letter urging the selection of a representative of that section as secretary of the interior. Mr. Wilson is asked to appoint former Gov. E. L. Morris, of Montana; former Gov. James H. Hawley, of Idaho; J. N. Field, of Oregon, or Clay Tallman, of Nevada, and is assured that the selection of one of them would be satisfactory to the Democrats of the Far West. Senators Newlands, of Nevada; Chamberlain, of Oregon; Myers, of Montana; Perky, of Idaho, and Smith and Ashhurst, of Arizona, were signers of the letter.

Commere Court Bill.

Washington, January 16.—The Legislative, Executive and Judicial Appropriation Bill, carrying an appropriation of nearly $20,000 to continue the Commerce Court until June 30 next, was passed by the Senate today and now goes back to the House.

MYLIUS MUST GO BACK

Secretary Nagel Orders Deportation of King's Libeler.

Washington, January 16.—Edward F. Mylius, the journalist detained at New York, was ordered deported today by Secretary Nagel, of the Department of Commerce, on the ground that in libeling King George V. of England he had committed a crime involving moral turpitude.

Mylius was convicted in London of criminal libel against King George V. in connection with the publication in the Paris Liberator of a story alleging that the King, when Prince of Wales, had contracted a morganatic marriage with the daughter of Admiral Culme-Seymour at Malta. In Mylius' defense it was urged that if guilty of anything it was seditious libel and not criminal libel. Seditious libel would be a political offense. Secretary Nagel held that Mylius had not been convicted of a purely political crime but of a crime involving moral turpitude, which, under the immigration laws, bars an alien from admission to the United States.
