PERSONAL TIDINGS

The Coming and Going of Friends and Relatives—Summer Guests Wending Their Way Home.

Col. J. M. Emerson, editor of the Ansonia Sentinel, Connecticut, accompanied by his wife were guests of the Imperial Hotel this week. The colonel is a graduate of Washington College and is a native of Denton. They made the trip to Kent from Connecticut in their Pope automobile. Col. Emerson was surprised to find living in Chestertown, Mrs. Sam'l Sparks, his own cousin, whom he had not seen for more than thirty years. It was a happy party that gathered at the High street home this week.

Miss Rickman, of Baltimore, has been the guest of Dr. G. A. Jarman and wife on High street.

Mrs. Carolene Hynson is in Baltimore this week for special treatment and at this writing is able to be about her room and recuperating rapidly.

Mr. and Mrs. Hoyle were guests this week of their son, Mr. Harry Hoyle and family.

Miss Bessie Ball spent several days at home the past week. She is now with a fashionable dress-making firm on Charles street, Baltimore.

Miss Roberta Marshall, of Lewes, Del., has been the guest this week of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas S. Bordley.

Mrs. Jacob Elwell and daughter, of Camden, N. J., are guests of Miss Phebe Maul.

Dr. H. Benge Simmons delightfully entertained the directors of the Kent Building and Loan Company at a luncheon on Monday night at his home.

Messrs. Jack and Foster Cannon are guests of their mother on High street.

Mr. Frank H. Howard, of Baltimore, spent Sunday in town. Mr. Howard contemplates returning to town to reside permanently.

Mrs. Wm. S. Walker and daughter, Miss Nellie, of St. Louis, are guests of Mr. and Mrs. Allan A. Harris.

Mrs. Jennie Byrom has been quite sick for a week or more, but we are glad to state that she is improved.

Mr. Robert Massey, of Colorado Springs, Col., is visiting among his relatives and many friends in the upper part of the county.

Mrs. Williams and son, of New York, are guests of Mrs. Carolene Hynson, on Front street.

Mrs. George B. McWhorter has been visiting relatives and friends in Chester, Pennsylvania.

Mr. and Mrs. Cyrus G. Howard are visiting relatives in Philadelphia, Pa.

Charles Lee Merrikin, Esq., of the Baltimore bar, and a 32nd degree Mason, was the guest of Mr. Thomas D. France, one day last week.

Mr. Horace W. Reed is reported better.

Mr. Earle Nicholson is able to be out again after an illness of several weeks.

Mr. William T. Wright, of Baltimore, spent Sunday in town with his family.

Mrs. Joseph Gerker, of Atlanta, Ga., is visiting her mother, Mrs. Mary Hynson.

Democrats, Registration Day is on Tuesday, October 8.

Mr. Henry T. Deaver, of Chesapeake City, was in town Tuesday.

Mr. William E. Valliant, formerly of Chestertown, was elected National President of the P. O. S. of A., at the annual election of national officers held at Richmond last week.

Dr. J. T. Twilley celebrated his 81st birthday Thursday. The Doctor is as active as most men twenty years his junior, and his mind is clear. May he enjoy many returns of the day.

Mrs. R. R. Bowers, of Wilmington, a former resident of Kent county, is visiting friends and scenes of her earlier days. Mrs. Bowers is 81 years of age and left here about 30 years ago.

Dr. Gault, of the faculty of Washington College, is ill with typhoid fever. He was taken to Baltimore, on Monday, for treatment.

Mrs. Estelow, of Burlington, N. J., is the guest of her sister, Mrs. Joseph A. Wickes.

Mrs. Thomas L. Hines, of Baltimore, is the guest of her father, Judge Joseph A. Wickes, on High street.

Miss Elizabeth Saunders, of Rock Hall, was the guest of Mrs. Herbert V. Fletcher, of Broad Neck, during last week.

Mr. and Mrs. John C. Davis, of Chestertown, spent last week at Richmond and the Jamestown Exposition.

Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin H. Coburn and two interesting children, of Rock Hall, have returned from a delightful trip to Richmond, Va., and the Jamestown Exposition.

Mr. and Mrs. Barclay Kilbourne, of Fairlee, have been enjoying the beauties of the Jamestown Exposition.

Mr. Sam'l E. Cooper has been quite sick this week at his home on High st.

Miss Nellie M. Stauffer has returned after a delightful visit to her sister, Mrs. Robinson, Wilmington, Del.

Miss Josephine Loud, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Loud, of near Fairlee, sprained her ankle Thursday last while jumping rope at Fancy School. Dr. Frank B. Hines, of Chestertown dressed the sprain.

Mrs. Sallie Hodgkins spent last week visiting Galena friends.

Mr. William Reed has purchased of Phil. Henson the stock of goods in store on corner of Cannon and Cross streets and will take charge of store there.

Does Your Heart Beat

Yes. 100,000 times each day. Does it send out good blood or bad blood? You know, for good blood is good health; bad blood, bad health. And you know precisely what to take for bad blood—Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Doctors have endorsed it for 60 years.

One frequent cause of bad blood is a sluggish liver. This produces constipation. Poisonous substances are then absorbed into the blood. Keep the bowels open with Ayer's Pills.

Made by J. C. Ayer Co., Lowell, Mass. Also manufacturers of

Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Chauncey Sperry have issued invitations to the wedding of their daughter, Marie, to Mr. Atlee Hoffman Tracy, on Tuesday evening, Oct. 22, at 6.30 o'clock in Dwight Place Congregational Church, New Haven, Conn. Mr. Tracy is Secretary and Treasurer of the Chestertown Electric Light Company.

Miss Alice Crane, of Baltimore, opened a private school on "Educational Avenue," in the office adjoining Hon. Jos. A. Wickes' residence last Monday.

Mrs. James G. Beck gave the little folks a lawn party at her home on Maple avenue Thursday.

Mr. Ralph Barnett expects to move into his cozy new home on Queen street on October 15th.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Robinson and daughter, Beulah, of Wilmington, Del., spent Sunday with Mrs. Robinson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Stouffer, Millington.

Miss Eva Hurlock left Chestertown yesterday for her new duties in Baltimore.

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Bacchus and daughter, Miss Ethel, are taking in the Jamestown Exposition and visiting other places in old Virginia.

Big Fish.—Mr. D. Arthur Bacchus, one of Chestertown's expert fishermen, succeeded in landing a rock on Tuesday night on Chester river bridge that measured nineteen and one-half inches. This is the biggest fish caught on the bridge this year.

The fishing in Lankford's Bay the past week is reported to have been very good. Dr. D. L. Greenfield, of Westminister, was the guest of Mr. Walter Strong this week and enjoyed the Lankford Bay fishing.

PEOPLE TALKED ABOUT

The Baltimore American's city reporter has the following interesting item about Kent's eminent citizen:

"A gentleman of the old school, courtly, dignified and learned, is Judge J. A. Wickes, of Chestertown, the well-known Kent county jurist. Judge Wickes sat on the Circuit Court bench for 30 years, and though a stanch Democrat, his term of office was lengthened by the legislature of Maryland at a time when the Republicans were dominant in both branches, which was, as he told an American representative, the highest compliment ever paid him.

"I think the nation is safe," said the Judge, "but we must not be so optimistic as to shut our eyes to the fact that serious problems are menacing the welfare of the American people. To my mind one of the gravest dangers confronting us is the tremendous influx of foreigners into this country. Good immigrants are welcome, but in this mighty hords which is invading the United States in ever increasing numbers, there must be many thousands undesirables. It is the manifest duty of Congress to waste no time in putting up the bars so as to exclude the vicious, the diseased and illiterate, whose settlement here cannot but be detrimental to our people. They are incapable of being made into good citizens, and stringent laws should be passed to keep them from our shores. The race problem that we have always with us is enough to bear without the inflection of other millions of inferior racial stock."

Leslie's Weekly has the following interesting article about Washington College accompanying which is a splendid picture of the scholarly and efficient president:

"Among the mall colleges which are justifying their existence by good educational work stands Washington College, of Chestertown, Md., whose record, though not showy, is in all respects creditable. This institution is the oldest college in Maryland and the twelfth in seniority of foundation in this country. Its founder was the eminent William Smith, first provost of the University of Pendsylvania. During its entire history it has stood for high scholarship and lofty ideals. But it has never flourished so finely as under the administration of Dr. James W. Cain, who is now and has been since 1903 its president. Dr. Cain, though a native of Connecticut, has spent the greater part of his life in educational work in Maryland, having been for many years a professor at St. John's College, Annapolis. His collegiate training was received at Yale, and he has been honored by St. John's with the degree of LL. D. Under his leadership the college has become more widely known and the attendance has greatly increased. The appropriations for the institution by the Legislature have been liberal during the past four years, and this has enabled the college to bring the equipment up to the most approved standard in every department. A fine administration building has just been completed."

The Newport News Press has the following interesting item concerning one of Chestertown's boys and also favorably comments editorially upon same:

"Mr. Harry C. Blackiston has been appointed general manager in America for the Furness, Withy & Company, Ltd., of West Hartlepool, England, to suceeed the late Mr. George Lee Wooley, who died suddenly at New York city about two weeks ago. Mr. Blackiston has established his headquarters in Newport News, and in the future this city will be the American headquarters of the company. This is the first big foreign trans-Atlantic line to establish its main office at this port, employing about 20 steamers.

"Mr. Blackiston has been agent in Newport News for Furness, Withy & Company, Ltd., for the past nine or ten years and is widely known in shipping circles throughout the East. He has a wide circle of friends on the Peninsula, and in Norfolk, Baltimore and New York, and the news of his advancement to the position of general manager of his company will be received by them with pleasure.

"The new general manager is a native of Chestertown, Md., and came to this city about sixteen years ago, accepting a position as tally clerk in the local office of Furness, Withy & Company, which had just been opened at that time. He proved a faithful and industrious worker and his advancement was rapid, he being made chief clerk of the office a few years after he began work. About ten years ago Mr. Blackiston was appointed agent."

Democrats, Registration Day is on Tuesday, October 8. Revision Day is on October 15, at which time no one can register or transfer.

There is no excuse for anyone going to the city for hats with such stores as Jefferson's and Sparks' in our midst. Call and examine their stock before buying elsewhere.

H. B. Rote, jeweler, has rented the store room next door to the postoffice which is now being fitted up in first-class manner. He will move about Nov. 1.
