KILLED BY TRAIN.

Mr. Henry Hill, wheelwright in Davis & Satterfield's shops, Chestertown, was killed by a fast freight train at Townsend, Del., at 7 o'clock Tuesday evening. Mr. Hill started on a vacation Tuesday morning as happy as any young man waiving to his friends at the depot here a farewell. He has a daughter, Mrs. Maslin, in Townsend, and had left his grip at her home. He went out for a stroll and heedlessly started across the railroad at Townsend and was struck by a fast train and instantly killed. The body was reviewed by the coroner and taken to his daughter's home. The interment took place in Chester cemetery, Chestertown, yesterday.

The deceased has been a familiar character in Chestertown, coming here many years ago and helping to build up Chapman & Lambert's big business. He boarded for a number of years with Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Crew but recently lived on Cannon street with Mr. Fisher. He leaves a wife, three daughters and a son. He was an industrious mechanic and faithful to his friends.

The Delaware News gives the following concerning the accident:

"Mr. Henry Hill, 60 years old, had gone to Townsend to visit his daughter, Mrs. John Maslin. A grade crossing of the Pennsylvania railroad intersects Townsend's principal business street and Mr. Hill had left his daughter to wait in a store until he made some purchases across the street. He did not see a fast freight approaching until he had gone half way across the grade crossing, and in some way misunderstood the signals given to him by watchmen and others. The man became bewildered when he saw the locomotive rushing upon him, and either lost control of his legs or started to kneel in an attitude of prayer, for the engine struck him at the base of the spine and hurled him a distance of seventy-six feet. His neck was broken and numbers of other bones crushed or fractured.

Mrs. Maslin, whose first husband was killed in the West Yard in Wilmington by being struck by an engine several years ago, was still waiting in the store when the news was brought her that her father had just been killed. She became wildly hysterical, and nearly lost her mind before a physician administered to her and she was quieted down for the day.

THE U. S. Senatorial candidates have all been invited to attend the meeting in Chestertown next Wednesday.

SENATOR ISADOR RAYNER will speak at the Democratic Rally in Chestertown next Wednesday afternoon.

COME to Chestertown next Wednesday afternoon and hear the reasons why we should elect Democratic Judges, a Democratic Governor, elect a Democratic U. S. Senator and Democratic County Officers. All are welcome.

GALENA BANK IN TROUBLE.

Farmers' Trust, Banking and Deposit Company, of Baltimore, Fails—Receivers Appointed Wednesday—Branch Bank at Galena Involved—Depositors to be Paid.

The startling order to "close doors" came to Cashier Richard S. Wallis, of the Galena Bank, about 2.30 P. M. Wednesday and nothing more was learned until late that evening when Dr. E. A. Scott and Andrew W. Woodall arrived in Baltimore to investigate matters.

The Galena Bank was the most prosperous branch of the Farmers' Trust, Banking and Deposit Company and had over $100,000 on deposit while the stock held by Kent countians amount to $20,000. The local board is composed of Dr. Edward A. Scott, Henry Parr, Andrew W. Woodall, S. Wills Lusby, J. Thos. Pennington, W. A. Whitaker, A. H. Malsberger, John T. Quinn, E. Thomas Massey, A. P. Prettyman, L. R. Vansant, Richard S. Wallis. These gentlemen will do all in their power to save every dollar of their depositors' money and it is believed all will be paid.

Tightness of the money market and inability to realize on its securities is the reason assigned for the failure of the Farmers' Trust, Banking and Deposit Company of Baltimere City, for which receivers were appointed by Judge Gorter in Circuit Court No. 2. The receivers are Messrs. Beverly W. Mister and Eldridge S. Johnson, both of whom qualified by filling a bond for $100,000, furnished by the United States Fidelity and Guaranty Company, through its court representative, F. Le Grand Carlin.

The receivers were appointed at the instance of Mr. Alexander H. Robertson, attorney at law, and were concurred in by the defendant Company, which admitted the charges of insolvency in Mr. Robertson's petition.

In his petition Mr. Robertson alleges that he is a depositor of the Farmers' Trust, Banking and Deposit Company, and that on October 9 he presented a check for $1089 drawn to his order. He alleges that the Company refused to pay the check, and that he was informed by the Company that it did not have the money to meet the check and was insolvent. Mr. Robertson also charges that the assets of the Company are insufficient to pay its obligations as they become due.

In its answer the defendant Company admitted all of the allegations and stated that after it was learned that Mr. Robertson intended to ask for a receivership a special meeting of the board of directors of the concern was held, and that the following resolutions were passed:

Resolved, That in the present condition of the money market and the inability of this Company to realize upon any of its securities or to borrow money, it is the judgment of the board of directors that the affairs of the Company be wound up under the direction of a court of equity.

The Farmers' Trust, Banking and Deposit Company was organized several years ago under a charter granted by the Legislature of 1902. The capital stock of the concern was $50,000, and under its charter it was permitted to do a general banking business throughout the State. In addition to its offices in Baltimore, the Company conducted banking institutions at the following places: Galena, Md., under the name of the Galena Bank; Darlington, Md., under the name of the Darlington Bank; Keedysville, Md., under the name of the Keedysville Bank; Mount Airy, Md., under the name of the Mount Airy Bank, and at Hancock, Md., under the name of the Washington County Bank.

INVESTMENTS IN REAL ESTATE.

There had been talk of the Company liquidating, and shortly after it opened its doors Wednesday morning Mr. Allen, the secretary and treasurer, stated that the proposition would likely come up at the annual meeting of the stockholders in January. He said that the Company's investments consisted principally of real estate and mortgages, and that it would probably take some time to liquidate.

After the filing of Mr. Robertson's petition for the appointment of receivers, and the admission of insolvency on the part of the directors, a sign, made with a blue pencil, was placed on the door of the office, in the Hanover Building, 110 West Fayette street, as follows:

BANK CLOSED

The door was locked, and only those having business with the receivers were admitted.

Officials of the Company declined to make any statement as to its financial condition, but the Rand-McNally Bankers' Directory, July edition, gives its paid-up capital stock as $195,231; surplus and profits, $18,250; deposits, $175,390; loans and discounts, $188,830; stocks and bonds, $204,250, and cash and exchanges, $30,259.

Mr. John W. Woodland, who died during the summer, was president of the Company for several years, and since his death Mr. Eldridge S. Johnson, first vice-president, has been in charge of the affairs of the Company. The other officers of the Company are: Mr. J. Fenton Thomas, second vice-president, and Mr. William D. Allen, secretary and treasurer. The board of directors includes the officers and Messrs. Carlile Woodall, Edward A. Scott, Galena, Md.; P. S. Vogel, Smithsburg, Md.; M. Metz, Smithsburg, Md.; Alex. H. Robertson, Baltimore; Charles A. Andrew, Conowingo, Md., and William A. Henneberger, Boonsboro, Md.

The Sun says: "The acknowledged insolvency of the company was not a surprise in local banking circles, and its announcement caused scarcely a flutter. The concern has been in business several years, and was generally recognized as being chiefly engaged in real estate promotions."

THE bridge at Crumpton is undergoing repairs.

THE meeting called to consider the widening of Chester river bridge draw was a failure only the Kent county commissioners were represented. Even Uncle Sam was not present.

A SEVERE STORM.

A terrific wind and rain storm passed over Kent County Tuesday morning. The lawn at Dr. Maxwell's home in Still Pond was strewn with trees and the beauty of the place marred.

Mr. Beachamp Lecompt's shed over his thresher was blown away and the machine damaged $400. Several locusts about St. Paul's church were also blown down. Three large trees on High street, Chestertown, were blown down.

Nets belonging to bay fishermen were badly damaged, one pound having been torn by the capture of a bateau with sails all set!

Capt. Nickerson, of the Leland Mills, says he never saw it as rough in Chester river as it was Tuesday.

RACE ACROSS BAY TO SAVE LIFE.

Three Hopkins Physicians and Nurse Make Trip To Kent In Special Boat Sunday To Attend Miss Bessie Nicholson.

Realizing the seriousness of the condition of a patient in Kent county, three physicians headed by Dr. Cullen, chartered a tug Sunday evening and made a hurried run to Tolchester Beach. They made the race against time to the bedside of Miss Bessie Nicholson, the beloved daughter of Mr. Robert G. Nicholson, near this town. Miss Bessie has been suffering from typhoid fever for six weeks and on Sunday startling developments were noted and the need of an operation imperative.

It was shortly after 9 o'clock Sunday when word was sent that the services of the physicians were necessary at once. It was impossible to catch a regular boat and the physicians were in a dilemma. Word was sent, however, that no expense should be spared to reach the home of the suffering young lady and that their mission was imperative.

The three physicians then went down to the waterfront in search of a tug. They had quite a task before them, they persevered, however, and soon found a tugboat that would make the trip. The price was not even considered. Once on the boat the machinery began to hum, and it was not long before the craft was hastening across the bay. Within the cabin sat the three physicians in constant dread lest the life of the patient should ebb away before they could reach her. It was a strenuous day for them. They would walk up and down the cabin and then peer out into the open air. The crew worked with a will at their stations, to make the race against time and the grim reaper. They reached Tolchester in less than three hours, which is very good time for a tug.

Before the boat had tied up at the wharf the physicians with their satchels had leaped ashore. Teams were in waiting and another race was begun over the sandy roads of Kent county, the trip being made in 45 minutes. When the home of the sufferer was reached she was immediately subjected to an examination. The family physicians, Drs. Simpers and Hines, were also in attendance and a consultation was then held. The specialists gave their ideas of the case and an operation performed successfully. It was found that the bowels were perforated a short distance from the appendix. Dr. Cullen stated that the patient had but one chance in a thousand before the operation, but after its successful termination he said her chances were one in five. Miss Bessie is fighting to live and the prayers of this whole community are being lifted in her behalf.

At this writing she is doing as well as can be expected, but her condition is critical.

7 WOULD-BE SENATORS

In Democratic Senatorial Field.

For the Short Term—
WILLIAM PINKNEY WHITE
For the Long Term—
EDWIN WARFIELD.
JOHN WALTER SMITH,
J. F. C. TALBOTT,
JOSHUA W. MILES,
JOHN P. POE,
JOSEPH B. SETH.

The time limit for entering the Senatorial primaries closed last Wednesday night with the above-named candidates, all of whom qualified by sending their names to Chairman Vandiver, of the Democratic State Central Committee.

As yet the candidates have failed to agree on a definite plan for determining the result of the primaries, and it appears certain that the resolution passed by the State convention providing for the primaries will be carried out in strict adherence to its language. The members of the Legislature will only be bound to vote for the candidates who carry the respective counties and legislative districts.

The arrangements for the management of the primaries will be completed as soon as possible, and the judges and clerks of elections will be selected. Each candidate will receive a list of the judges and clerks in every precinct. The expenses of the primary will be tabulated and each candidate will be asked to pay his share.

EVERY VOTER should realize the importance of this election. For instance, if Messrs. Davis, Cacy and Rasin are elected to the Legislature, they will vote to change the ballot law so that the negro can mark opposite Lincoln's nose and thus carry every office on the ticket is the main issue at this election. The local officers will be attended to later. No white voter should be deceived. The plan of the Republicans is plain.

THE Circuit Court for Kent county will convene Monday, October 21st.
