Sewing Machine Trickery

Have you ever noticed how dealers of job-lot or anonymous Sewing Machines try to insinuate Singer relationship in the nondescript article?

That's because the Singer Machines are recognized the world over as the model of Sewing Machine protection—but the

Singer Sewing Machine

Also the WHEELER & WILSON

are always sold through Singer stores, and Singer stores only—they are never sold under any other name, nor are they sold to dealers.

Nevertheless, tricky dealers try to mislead people into the belief that their job-lot machines are really Singers sold under another name, by the familiar "If you knew the maker's name" scheme. As a matter of fact, if you did know the maker's name, you could, in nine cases out of ten, get the same job-lot machine at a much lower price.

WHAT THE ELECTION MEANS TO DEMOCRATS

There seems to be a concerted plan among the Republicans of Kent county to elect their legislative ticket, even if it has to be done at the expense of all the other offices. To do this there is now going on all over the county a systematic effort to induce Democrats to vote for the Republican nominees for Senator and members of the House of Delegates. The effort is being made to induce Democrats to believe that the election of the candidates for the local offices is far more important than the election of the legislative ticket, and that the Republicans are not going to make much of a fight to carry the county so far as the local offices are concerned.

Democrats be warned in time of this "innocent" movement among the Republicans. The fact is that the election of the Democratic nominees for Senator and members of the House of Delegates will have a more far-reaching influence on the politics and welfare of the State than the election of any part of our ticket. The future of the Democratic party depends largely on the election of these legislative candidates. In the first place, it will mean the helping to elect or defeat two United States Senators. A vote for a Republican legislative candidate may mean the election of Mudd and Jackson as Republican United States Senators.

In the second place, it means a great deal to the future of the Democratic party, inasmuch as the election of a Republican Legislature would surely mean the repeal of the present election laws and a return to the old emblem voting, whereby every negro vote in Maryland could be registered for the Republican party; and it would also mean the importation into this State of thousands of black voters from the South, which would make the State permanently Republican.

NEGRO DOMINATION.

The following letter, which appeared in the Baltimore Sun over the signature "Vigilance," is worthy the careful perusal of every white man in Maryland:

Messrs Editors.

For a long period back the 60,000 negro voters of Maryland have been a great menace to the people of this State. It seems to me that today, and particularly in the pending State election, that menace is more serious and alarming than ever. This is due to the evolution of Sydney E. Mudd as the State boss of the Republican party. Mudd's undisputed leadership of the Republicans of this State and of their party organization is the most striking development of our present politics. Mudd is the boss—the big boss—whose word is command, whose will is law.

Where, then, does Mudd get his strength? His power is built upon the negroes. His strength is the negro strength. His domination is negro domination. Ninety per cent. of his supporters are negroes. He rules the Republican party and the negroes necessarily rule him. All that he is and all that he has politically spring and flow from the negro.

The success of the Republican party means the domination of Mudd over Maryland; and the domination of Mudd is the domination of the negro. Never before was the negro issue so threateningly presented as in this election. Mudd's stronghold is the "black belt," and his strength is the "black vote."

His mastery over the Republican party presents the negro issue as distinctly and seriously in this campaign in Maryland as it ever was presented in South Carolina, whose "black belt" is no blacker than the "black belt" of Maryland, which is the source, foundation and substance of Mudd's power, and whose negroes are his boss and through him the boss of the Republican party.

If the Republicans win this election, these same negroes will be the boss of Maryland.

Will the white people take notice?

A JUDGE in New York who had a prisoner before him for sentence discovered that the latter had a sweetheart in the court who was anxious to marry him. The judge sent for the girl and strongly advised her to have nothing to do with the man, who had been in trouble before, and not at all likely to be reformed, as she pleaded, by her love. The girl broke records by taking his advice. It is true that the judge and the girl spoiled the romance of the story by this sensible conduct, but it would be decidedly better for the world if all the romances with no better wearing quality were to end in a similar way.

ANOTHER lynching has marred the fair name of Maryland; the negro murderer of a Cumberland officer was taken from the jail at that city Saturday night and shot to death by a small band of citizens. Such actions are always regrettable, yet they are the part of no section or faith, for in darkest Philadelphia that same night a squad of policemen had the busiest half hour of their official existence in saving a negro assailant from the violence of a mob of incensed white men.

To stay the crime of lynching, remove the cause. And the first and most important step in that removal is to cease fraternizing with the negro and leading him to suppose you consider him your equal.
