WEDDING BELLS.

PERKINS—DILL.

The wedding of Dr. George Perkins and Miss B. J. Dill was solemnized in Camden, N. J., August 30, 1907.

MOORE—JONES.

A quiet wedding was celebrated on Oct. 23rd at the Methodist Protestant parsonage Wesley Chapel when Mr. John W. Moore and Miss Ida Jones were united in marriage by Rev. C. Morgan Compher. The happy pair will reside near Rock Hall.

MORRIS—MILLER.

Miss Florence Anna Miller, of Hereford, Baltimore county, Md., and Mr. J. Albert Morris, formerly of Chestertown, but more recently of Philadelphia, were the contracting parties in an unusually pretty home wedding at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Miller on Saturday last at high noon. Promptly at the appointed hour and as the organist, Miss Bertha Bond, of Trenton, N. J., sweetly rendered Lohengrin's wedding march, the bride entered the parlor leaning on the arm of the groom, preceded by the maid of honor, Miss Catharine Miller, sister of the bride, and best man, Mr. Benton Sheeler, of Baltimore, where they were made man and wife by the Rev. F. M. West, of Hereford. The parlors were very handsomely decorated with chrysanthemums, potted plants and autumn leaves. The bride wore a beautiful gown of white silk mull, trimmed with val. lace and ribbon, and carried an immense bouquet of white chrysanthemums, while the maid of honor wore a gown of white nun's veiling and carried a bouquet of pink chrysanthemums. The bride's traveling suit was of blue broadcloth, with hat and gloves to match. The groom and best man wore the conventional black with white vests. Immediately after the ceremony a bountiful wedding luncheon was partaken of by the large number of guests present. Mr. and Mrs. Morris then left on the afternoon train for their future home in Philadelphia. The presents were very handsome and costly.

JONES—HURLOCK.

A beautiful wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence S. Hurlock, near Massey, on last Thursday evening at 7 o'clock, when their daughter, Florence, became the bride of Mr. Andrew W. Jones, of Cecilton. The house was beautifully decorated with ferns and evergreens. Promptly at the appointed hour the bridal party entered the parlor to the strains of the wedding march rendered by Mrs. W. F. Collins, of Millington. The bride entered the parlor upon the arm of her father by whom she was given in marriage. She was attended by Mrs. Jas. D. Lucas, a sister of the bride, as matron of honor, and Miss Blanch Johnson, of Massey, as bride's maid. The groom was attended by Mr. Jas. D. Lucas, of Chestertown, as best man. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Mr. Coale, of Cecilton. The ushers were Mr. Samuel S. Hurlock, of Massey, and Mr. McCoy, of Cecilton. Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held at which more than a hundred relatives and friends of the couple were present. A beautiful feature of the occasion was the presence of the bride's aged and esteemed grandfather, Mr. Samuel Hurlock, of Cecilton, who though 86 years old, desired to be present to see his granddaughter married, and drove from Cecilton for the ceremony. After the reception Mr. and Mrs. Jones drove to their future home in Cecilton. They were the recipients of many handsome and valuable presents.

DEATH'S DOINGS.

Death has taken for his victim one of McGinnis' young men, Frank Wiggins. Frank was always earnest in his work and well behaved. After leaving school he was a steady worker and aided his father and family by the results of his industry. It was for this reason he left home, thinking he could do better in another field of labor. About three weeks ago he was brought home ill with typhoid fever, to which disease he finally succumbed on Friday morning October 25, and was buried in the family burying ground near Deep Landing.

The remains of Mrs. Robert T. Cochran, who died about 2 o'clock on Sunday morning last were taken to Georgetown for interment. Mrs. Cochran had been ill with consumption for some time and her death was not unexpected. She leaves three children besides husband to mourn her death.

John Flynn, a well known resident of the first district of Cecil county, died at his home, Sunday night last, aged 78 years. Mr. Flynn was a native of Ireland, coming to America many years ago. He spent a number of years in California, prior to coming to Cecil county, where he purchased a farm near Cecilton. A widow survives him. The funeral took place on Wednesday with interment in the Catholic Cemetery at Galena, Kent county.

MRS. CAROLINE FIDDIS.

Mrs. Caroline Fiddis, widow of John Fiddis, died at the Aged Woman's Home in Baltimore Monday, aged 80. The remains were brought to Kent Wednesday and interred in Chester Cemetery, Rev. W. L. White officiating; J. E. Ferguson undertaker

Eggs High.—Merchants in Kent are paying 30 cents per dozen for eggs. It looks dark for Christmas cake. One housewife is congratulating herself for having saved two dozen of the precious things!

Help! Help! I'm Falling

Thus cried the hair. And a kind neighbor came to the rescue with a bottle of Ayer's Hair Vigor. The hair was saved! This was because Ayer's Hair Vigor is a regular hair medicine. Falling hair is caused by a germ, and this medicine completely destroys these germs. Then the healthy scalp gives rich, healthy hair.
