WORSHIP A WASHINGTONIAN

Harry Pringle Ford A Former Washington College Student Has His Photograph On Shrine Of Temple In Zululand.

The photograph of Harry Pringle Ford, an elder in the Holland Memorial Presbyterian Church, is the god of thousands of Zulus of the Matabele country, in South Africa.

Philanthropy won this distinction for Mr. Ford. Fourteen years ago he befriended the son of the potentate o Zululand. He found him cast out by his manager after the Chicago world's fair and sent him back home, paying al his expenses. With him this prince of Zululand, Hosano Corinto by name, took a photo of Mr. Ford. He showed it to his father and told him of Mr. Ford's kind offices. The potentate put the picture on a shrine in the temple and ordered that it be worshipped by his subjects.

Corinto visited Mr. Ford the other day on his way South, where he will enter a college for colored people.

Mr. Ford was a student of Washington College in '78 with H. H. Barroll, Esq., Philip G. Wilmer and H. L. Boyd.

ROCK HALL ITEMS

Sunday was known as "debt settling day" here and the result of the day was that every dollar of the debt on the M. E. church was secured, it only remains for the officials to make a final statement of settlement which will be done on Sunday the 24th inst, when Presiding Elder Koons will be here on his 4th quarterly visit. The membership and friends of the church should fully appreciate the noble work of Mr. Burr and his co-workers in the debt struggle. Dr. Barrett on Sunday made a fine impression on his hearers during each service of the day.

The oyster business here has brisked up somewhat, prices being 30 cents and more buyers. Capt. Tom Sewell took in a jag which netted him clear $1000, while his brother Capt. Bud Sewell who loaded the same day has lost about $1000 on his trip the cause being that he loaded his bugeye while she rested on the bottom thinking that the tide would float him in good time to make his trip the result was that he failed to get off for a day or so and thereby missed a good market. Our Huntingfield oystermen and Capt. Jack Davis have agreed to disagree just as was supposed would be the case when Capt. Davis came to the relief of the tongmen at a very griping period. There are very many oysters on the bedding grounds yet.

The election is over and Captains C. R. Kerr and Frank Akers have tied their steam yachts up at Grey's Inn for the winter these are signs far more reliable than the ground hog or goose bone that winter is close at hand.

Mr. E. E. Leary hopes that winter will not be in too big a hurry until he gets more enjoyment from his new automobile. As there are many interesting towns and sections in Kent that he has neverseen he thinks that trip to Denton will have to be postponed until the next good old summer time while he sees more of Kent.

Mr. R. S. Crew, we are sorry to say, is on the sick list this week.

Growling and out going insinuations politically from certain sources, not Republican, either, seems to be taking on fresh vigor. Must we have two more years of such?

Revival meetings still continue. Rev. W. W. Chairs has assisted Mr. Burr some this week. The result of the meetings so far has been fruitful of about 35 expressed conversions.

WHY SLOAN'S LINIMENT AND VETERINARY REMEDIES ARE THE BEST TO USE.

Let me tell you why Sloan's Liniment and Veterinary Remedies are the safest and most practical on the market today. In the first place, Dr. Earl S. Sloan is the son of a veterinary surgeon, and from his infancy he was associated with horses.

He bought and sold horses while yet very young. He practised as a veterinary for twenty years, and has battled successfully with every disease to which that animal is subject.

All his remedies are the result of experiments made to save life or relieve suffering while he was practising his profession.

Any reader, by writing to Dr. Earl S. Sloan, 615 Albany Street, Boston, Mass., will receive "Sloan's Treatise on the Horse," free. This book tells how to treat horses, cattle, hogs, and poultry.
