William Clark. The bride was becomingly attired in suit of brown with hat and gloves to match. The bride carried bouquet of pink carnations. The wedding march was skillfully rendered by Mrs. James Bigelow, of Chestertown. The ushers were Penn Toulson, brother of the bride, and Robert Bramble, of Locust Grove. A meeting of a number of the clergymen of the Protestant Episcopal Dioceses of Delaware and Easton was held at the episcopal residence in Easton Tuesday to consider the proposition to consolidate two dioceses into one. Bishop Adams, of Easton, at the request of the Delaware clergymen, appointed the members of the standing committee of Easton Diocese to confer with a committee of the Delaware clergy and draft a memorial to be presented to the convention of both dioceses, which meet in June. It is Bishop Adams' wish that his standing committee call in a number of laymen to confer with them.

It looks as if the two dioceses will be merged, and if an agreement is reached an appeal will be made to the general convention in 1910 to ratify the consolidation. In the event of this being done the Bishop to be elected in February by the Dioceses of Delaware to succeed the late Bishop Coleman will act as bishop-coadjutor to Bishop Adams, of the Diocese of Easton, and would be in line of succession as bishop of the consolidated diocese.

While a large number of the clergy of the Easton Diocese are in favor of the consolidation, a large nnmber of them and of the laymen of the diocese are opposed to it, as upon the death of Bishop Adams the episcopal residence would be removed from Easton to Wilmington,

Among those present were Rev. Messrs. Hammond, Meekins Curtis and Wells, from Delaware; Revs. James A. Mitchell Centreville; Davis T. Howard, Salisbury; W. Y. Beaven, Easton: Samuel Edson, Shrewsbury, of the standing committee of the Easton Diocese and Rev. John F. Kirk, St. Michael's Edward R. Rich and Franklin B. Adkins, Easton. After a dinner at the episcopal residence the visitors took the afternoon train for their homes.

Wesley M. E. Church, Dover, Rev. A. W. Lightbourn, pastor, is having one of the biggest revivals in its history. Over sixty have professed conversion.

MAN ABOUT TOWN.

A popular carpenter of Chestertown played a good joke on himself a few days ago too good to keep. He was at work at the paper mill and accustomed to carrying his dinner in a bucket. One morning recently he picked up his bucket and went happily to work, and at the noon hour to his great amazement he found he had the milk bucket, the contents of which was only milk! He always looks more into the matter now.

A traveling salesman residing in Chestertown — a good singer, pianist and favorite with the ladies—noticed recently that he was getting bald and the fact worried him. While on a recent visit to Philadelphia he procured a perfect-fitting French wig at a cost of $35 and returned home. His first appearance in company brought congratulations and Miss C., whose hair had begun to grow thin, inquired as to the tonic he used. He promised to give directions of the maker, but left for Dover before doing so. He received several requests by mail for the address. While in Dover he went into a barber shop and the barber in taking hold of his head twisted his wig and embarrased the owner very much. Then when about to cross the street a strong wind blew off his hat and wig and he determined he'd throw the nuisance away. Upon his return home he walked into the parlor of Miss C. and at first sight of him she threw up both hands and exclaimed: "What have you done?" He explained the whole matter and a hearty laugh followed.

Speaking about losing a wig, reminds us of the accident that recently occurred to a Kent county lady at a wedding feast. She was busily engaged at the banquet table, eating and chatting, when she swallowed one of her teeth!
