FARMERS' GRANGE.

TO THE EDITORS OF THE KENT NEWS—Gentlemen:—The Patrons of Husbandry or in other words the Grange is an organization of farmers banded together to promote and install in the minds of its members christianity, sobriety, good feeling, charity towards each other and in fact everything that will make the world better and to learn our farmers to reduce their expenses both incidental and corporate to buy less and produce more in order to make their farms self-sustaining to diversify their crops and to crop no more than they can cultivate—to discontinue the credit system, the mortgage system, the fashion system, and every other system tending to prodigality and bankruptcy, to meet together, talk together, work together, buy together, sell together, and act together for their mutual protection and advancement, and to discontinue fraud and corruption at the polls and for the office to seek the man not the man the office and it is not a political or party organization, is not sectarian, for people of all creeds are welcome as members.

It is a secret organization for without secrecy it would be a failure and by its liberal views any man or woman of good moral character from the age of 16 up can become a member and its influences are felt both in State and national affairs, and the Grange to-day is next to the Church and is doing more to educate both morally and sociably the people than any other association in the world.

It is the only real farmers organization and the only one where the woman can stand on an equal footing with the man. There are many who are not aware of the fact that there is now on the Western Shore of Maryland between fifty and sixty Granges who are doing grand work and our next door neighbor the little State of Delaware with her thirty-two Granges is doing wonders and in the last few days I have organized one in Kennedyville as your readers have been told and they will be heard from at the next meeting of the State Grange and your readers may expect to hear of another at Millington when I will organize one to-day.

And in conclusion I will say that I expect to visit every town in Kent county where I want to organize a Grange, and I ask the hearty co-operation of all good citizens to assist me in organizing them.

Respectfully,
MARION DAWSON.

STOVE EXPLODED AT TUCKAHO.

Water Frozen In Pipes Of Bath Room Connections—Mrs. King Injured.

A range with bath room attachments exploded in the home of Mr. Levi King, near Tuckahoe station, on Monday morning last, completely demolishing the stove, tearing a pannel out of the kitchen door, also knocking open three other doors in an adjoining room, breaking a lock on one of them. At the time of the explosion the breakfast food was on the stove. Had the explosion occurred five minutes later, the family, it is said would have been seated around the table enjoying their morning meal. After the excitements had passed over Mr. King was in a quandary as to what had become of his food, as no signs of it could be around the torn up stove or floor. Casting his eyes upward, he was surprised to see most of it stuck fast to the ceiling.

Mrs. King was severely injured with flying pieces of iron. Red hot coals from the demolished stove were in evidence all around the room, the carpet burning in several places at one time.

There had been no fire in the stove for several days, and the cold weather of Sunday froze water in pipes extending from the stove to bath room as hard as a brick, there by prohibiting the steam from circulating through the pipes, causing the explosion. This should be a warning to those who havs similar bath-room connections.

FIVE BABES AT A BIRTH.

Steubenville, O., February 28.—Five children were born here today to Mrs. George Campbell. Three of the children died an hour after their birth, but the remaining two are living, with every prospect of becoming robust children. Three of the children were boys. A boy and a girl survive.

Twins and triplets have appeared frequently in the Campbell family. Campbell has four brothers. To two of them twins have been born, and the other brothers are fathers of triplet. Campbell's first wife died after becoming the mother of triplets.

IN MEMORIAM.

Mrs. Wm. R. Larrimore died on February 22, 1908. She was a daughter of Capt. and Mrs. G. T. Sewell, of Rock Hall. Aged 31 years.

Her busy hands are folded.
Her work on earth is done
Her trials are all ended
Her heavenly crown is won.

Had She above asked us well we know,
We should say, Oh, spare the blow,
Yet with streaming tears should pray
Lord we love her let her stay.

Heaven now retains our treasure
Earth the lonely casket keeps
Sweetest thoughts shall ever linger
While our darling daughter sleeps.

Her well-remembered footsteps
We are listening for in vain
And our eyes grow dim with watching
And our hearts are sad with pain.

No word will ever be so sweet
As the words she used to say
No hour will ever be sad
Than the hour she passed away.

Weep not that her toils are over
Weep not that her race is won
God grant we may rest as calmly
When our work on earth is done.

PAYS CREDITORS.

James B. Messick Failed 18 Years Ago Now Paying Out Thousands of Dollars — Resident of Millington.

It does one good to publish news like we are about to relate in this article regarding a former native of Kent county. James B. Messick was a Snow Hill boy, a son of Squire James G. Messick. He left there when a mere youth of about sixteen years and went to Middletown, Del., where he secured employment as clerk in a store. When he reached manhood and was possessed of considerable business experience, he launched out into the fertilizer business which he conducted for several years, but was finally forced to the wall. His creditors only received 25 per cent. This is not the good part of the story. It is to follow.

While Mr. Messick was for a while disheartened over his failure, which by the way occurred at Kenton, Del., he afterward determined to try again. He started in business in Middletown, Del., and today is the leading merchant on the Peninsula, having successfully conducted a large department store in Middletown for a number of years. He has made money and as an honest man wants the people who suffered by his failure eighteen years ago, to benefit by his prosperity. In a letter to W. M. Ross, of Seaford, in which Mr. Messick says he is now prospering in business and is now able to carry out the cherished desire of his life—to pay the last dollar of that deficit. Mr. Messick also states that he has decided to add interest to the amounts due. He is now sending out certified checks to his old creditors. The Ross check was for $2,175. When Ross got his check, he prepared to send it back, as he thought the man had made a mistake. It had been so long ago, and he had suffered so many losses since, that he had actually forgotten about Mr. Messick's shortage.

A great many men consider their debts are paid when they are out lawed and there is not one in a thousand who would act as honest as James B. Messick is doing.

DR. LIGHTBOURNE UNDER FIRE.

The formal trial of a preacher on charges regularly presented will, it is expected, be one of the features of the features of the coming session of the Wilmington Methodist Episcopal Conference, which will be held in Asbury Church, Wilmington, Del., during the week beginning March 18. The charges, members of the Conference say, will be preferred against Dr. A. W. Lightbourne, pastor of Wesley Church, Dover. Notice of such action has already been served on Rev. S. M. Morgan, presiding elder of the Dover District, and, in compliance with the Discipline, it is stated, copies of the charges will be handed to Drs. Morgan and Lightbourne five days before the Conference convenes.

Two members of the Conference are mentioned as complainant. Dr. Lightbourne was a member of the Wilmington Conference many years ago, but withdrew therefrom in 1885. According to the pastoral record published in the Conference minutes, he was identified with the Congregational Church from 1887 to 1902, but during a portion of that time, it is said, he was engaged in newspaper work in New York city, and also was secretary to the Wool Exchange. In 1902, at its session in Crisfield, the Wilmington Conference recognized Dr. Lightbourne's orders, and he was appointed supply at Cordova. In 1903, at its session in Easton, the Conference readmitted him on his credentials and since his readmission he has served these churches: Epworth, Wilmington, 1903-4; Bethesda, Middletown, 1905-6; Wesley, Dover, 1907. The charges against Dr. Lightbourne, it is said, comprise an attack upon the legal sufficiency of his credentials from the Congregational Church, upon which he was readmitted to the Wilmington Conference. The latter body will determine whether he shall be tried by the entire Conference or by a committee. The accused, it is said claims to have a good defence and promises to clear himself to the satisfaction of everybody.

A COLORED DEACON'S PRAYER.

A white minister was conducting religious services in a colored church in North Carolina recently. After exhorting a bit he asked an old colored deacon to lead in prayer, and this is the appeal which the brother in black offered his brother in white:

'O Lord, gib him de eye ob de eagle dat he spy out sin afar off. Glue his hands to de gospel plow. Tie his tongue to de line ob truth. Nail his ear to de gospel pole. Bow his head 'way down between his knees 'way down in some lonesome, dark and narrer valley, where prayer is much wanted to be made. 'Noint him wid de kerosene ile ob salvashun and sot him on fire.'—Roanoke News.

HORACE BURROUGH, one of Baltimore City's Christian business men, died last Wednesday. He was 61 years of age. His last interview with his only son should be known and remembered by everybody. He knew that the end was near and he whispered to the noble Son braving his own name: "Horace I have tried to be a Christian for forty years, and I want to say to you this, IT IS THE ONLY LIFE WORTH LIVING!"
