CELEBRATED PANACEA

The diseases of the absorbent system have hitherto baffled the researches of medical men, and exposed the fallacy of nosological arrangements. The various affections of the glands, hitherto unsuccessfully treated according to the rules of a false pathology have at length become managable under the use of the PANACEA.—This medicine has been found eminently serviceable in the following diseases

Scrophula, or King's Evil, Consumption especially the Tubercular, Tumors, Ulcers Putrid Sore Throat, Caries of the Bones. Rheumatism, and all diseases arising from an impure state of the blood, but more especially for Syphilitic and pseudo Syphilitic Mercurial diseases, &c. &c.

Scrophula has been considered as incurable by the medical profession. In its local developments it frequently follows injuries of the joints, and gives rise to a species of white swelling. Deafness frequently arises from a scrophulous state of the ear.

Consumption depends more frequently than is supposed on a low kind of inflammation: hence it is that the usual mode of treatment is not only inefficacious, but destructive.

The injudicious use of Mercury has so modified the appearance of syphilitic disease, that scarcely two writers agree on its symptoms and mode of cure. These modifications are so closely connected with a strumous state of the system, that the Panacea offers as the most suitable remedy.—The cures effected, in the above named diseases, by this medicine, prove more than millions of theories.

The Panacea is not unpleasant to the taste; requires no alteration in the usual habits of life, except an abstinence from spiritous liquors;—it acts on the liver, that mammoth gland of the system, alters its vitiated secretions, calms the irritability of the stomach, and strengthens the appetite: purifies the blood, induces a healthy action of the skin, and produces that happy equilibrium which constitutes HEALTH.

Price One Dollar and 50 cents per bottle—each bottle with my signature and label and seal on the Cork—Printed directions accompany the medicine, E. T. SCOTT,
No. 61 north 8th street, Philadelphia.
