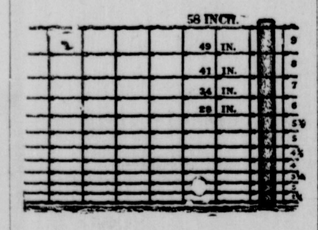
THE OLD RELIABLE

American

WOVEN WIRE

Fence

THE HINGE JOINT—Makes it possible for the fence to withstand sudden and severe pressure from contact with animals or otherwise, without bending the stays, the fence springing back to place the instant pressure is removed. It constitutes the most secure, lasting and efficient lock and without waste of material. Has broad surface connection with horizontal bars, which connection makes sidewise slipping of the stays next to impossible. Very materially aides adjustability, the fence readily conforming to the ground surface regardless of grade.



Tension curves are placed six inches apart in all horizontal bars, adding largely to the natural elasticity of the steel. Rendering the fence self-adjusting under varying conditions, such as contraction and expansion due to changes of temperature, hot and cold weather, climbing, sudden pressure and other strains.

Years of experience in the manufacture of American fence, attended with enormous sales, have demonstrated beyond question that we have this problem figured right and that the tension curve, with the hinge joint feature, keeps the fence right for all circumstances, every day of the year, and as long as the posts stand in position.

We can accommodate you with Field, Garden or Poultry Fence in many styles. Also, barb and smooth galvanized wire. We carry the largest stock of fence in the county.

THE SAD REAPER.

THOMAS J. VICKERS.

Thomas J. Vickers died at his home in Broad Neck Sunday of paralysis, aged 80 years. No man in Kent county was held in greater esteem than was Mr. Vickers and no one was more highly respected. He had a big heart that took in all whom he knew and held them as friends to the day of his death. He was broad minded and of especially bright intellect.

The deceased in his early life was a contractor and builder of prominence, but for many years has been engaged in agriculture pursuits. He was married three times being survived by a widow who was formerly Mrs. Emily J. Davis. His first wife was a Miss Tylden, and from this union he leaves one daughter, Mrs. Julia Crawford; by the second wife who was a Mrs. Lamb, three children survive, viz., Charles M. and J. Harry Vickers, and Mrs. Wm. Watts.

Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon; interment at St Paul's. Undertaker John N. Dodd had charge of arrangements. The bearers were Messrs. Bartus and Thomas W. Trew, George Lambert, Jr., Walter B. Strong, Kent Vickers and George Beck.

JOHN O. DAVIS.

Mr. John O. Davis, formerly of this county died at his residence near Heyworth, Illinois, on Saturday, March 7th, in the 69th year of his age.

Mr. Davis was born at Galena, and early in life went west and engaged extensively in stock farming in which he was quite successful. He was a brother of the late Judge David P. Davis, of Cecil county, and of Mr. G. Naylor Davis, now residing at Cecilton, and was a nephew of the late Justice David Davis of the Supreme Court of the United States.

MISS LUCY GREENWOOD.

Miss Lucy Greenwood, daughter of the late William S. and Araminta Greenwood, died at her home 1807 North Broadway, Baltimore, on Monday.

REV. A. C. JONES.

Rev. A. C. Jones died at the home of his son, Rev. J. W. Jones, Ridgely, Md., on Saturday night last of pneumonia, aged 67 years. Mr. Jones was born in Somerset county but afterward moved with his parents to Kent county who at one time owned and lived at "Caulk's field" farm. Later he entered the Wilmington M. E. Conference. About six months ago he resigned his pastorate at Port Penn, Del., on account of ill health and was on a visit to his son, when he was taken ill with pneumonia about three weeks ago. He leaves a widow, who before marriage was Mrs. Erdman, of Centreville, and five sons: Wilbur of Chicago, Charles of New York, Rev. J. W. of Ridgely, Rev. C. N. of St. Georges, Del. and Rev. O. E. of Lewisville, Pa. He was a brother of the late Mrs. R. M. Copper and brother-in-law of Mrs. Wm. B. Coleman, of Chestertown. His funeral took place from the residence of his son, Rev. J. W. Jones, Ridgely, Monday night at eight o'clock. Interment at Centreville Tuesday morning. Miss Annie Copper and Mr. Whittier C. Copper, a niece and nephew, attended the funeral from Chestertown.

Kuhlmann officiating; Undertaker John L. Smith. The bearers were: Messrs. Thomas J., John P., Patrick J., Samuel F., Joseph P. and Paul Dunn.

Mr. Darrell leaves seven children—four by his first wife and three by his second wife, viz., Wm. Darrell, Jr., Mrs. Howard Reems, Mrs. Howard Wallis, Mrs. Bassal Huselton, Miss Susie, Master Norman and Boyd. Mr. Darrell was a kind father, a good neighbor and a true friend and leaves a host of relatives and friends to mourn his loss.

ROBERT HOUGH.

Col. Robert Hough, a gallant Confederate soldier and later a business man, who is known to almost every owner of racing horses throughout the East, died suddenly Wednesday night at his home, 1312 North Charles street, Baltimore.

Colonel Hough, who was 60 years of age, was in the employ of the United Railways and Electric Company at the time of his death, having charge of the suburban parks of the company, and of the old Baltimore Traction Company before that corporation was absorbed by the United. Death was due to a sudden attack of congestion of the lungs. He started most of the races at the Tolchester Fair.

JOHN B. HOPPER.

Major John B. Hopper, who for many years represented the Mutual Reserve Life Insurance Comaany, first in Washington and then in London, died at Mt. Vernon, N. Y. Tuesday. Major Hopper who was 70 years old, came from an old Maryland family and was a Confederate veteran. He was at one time in business with Mr. Wm. J. McFeely and left this State without notice.

While the Major lived in London he kept a large establishment and entertained lavishly, many of his guests being of the nobility. During his stay there he insured King Edward for $150,000. On his return to America he lost his fortune in Wall Street, it is understood, and he died without a dollar. His friends will take up a collection to defray his funeral expenses.

JOHN PETERSON.

John Peterson, aged 64, died in Annapolis Thursday night. The deceased was the only Democratic member of the Legislature elected from Calvert county. He leaves three daughters one of whom is Mrs. Eben F. Perkins, of Chestertown. He was a brother to the late examiner Joseph Peterson, of Kent.

THE farmers about Still Pond have contracted to grow tomatoes for $9 per ton; several other canneries on the railroad are offering the same. Chestertown, Worton and Tolchester canners have not met the farmers in their demands.

THE house on Cannon street occupied by Mr. S. J. Coleman has been purchased by Mr. Walter Bramble through the agency of J. Waters Russell. The price is said to be $825.
