t that time the greatest enthusiasm prevail-d among the Portuguese, who asserted they had 10,000 effective men, well armed and dis ciplined, and anxious only for vessels to convey them to Lisbon, where they doubted not they should be able effectually to reinstate the legitimate rights of Donna Maria. In the early part of December, a plot was discovered at Fayal, which had been formed among the Mi-guelites there, the object of which was to upset the Authorities in behalf of the young Queen. It was the intention of the conspirators to have assassinated all the English.
Two or three of the ring leaders had been shot,
and several civilians had been thrown into prison.—Hampshire Telegraph.

IRELAND.

The Protestants and Orangemen have once more been roused into action by the conduct of O'Connell and his supporters, and the measures in contemplation by the Government with respect to Ireland. A great Protestant meeting had been held at Down, at which the Earl of Roden, presided. The Earl had recently been elected a member of an Orange Lodge, and he was received in great state.—One hundred and fifty Orange Lodges assembled on the occasion, and escorted his Lordship into the town. The speeches were very animated, and there appeared to be the strongest feeling to preserve the Protestant cause in Ireland, and to prevent any further concessions to the Catholics.

A great Protestant Meeting had likewise been held at Armagh. There was a large attendance collected, from not less than twenty miles round. The speeches were on the usual topics.

The London papers ridicule the French Deputies for their sensitiveness as to the word "subjects," as applied to the relations between the people and the [illegible] One hundred and four of the deputies [illegible] protest against its use. General [illegible] with zeal [illegible] others who were not present at the [illegible] and [illegible] question have written to the Chamber [illegible] press their assent to the principles [illegible] philosophic protest.

A granddaughter of Gen. Lafayette, [illegible] daughter of George Lafayette, has recently been married to a son of M. Bureau de Pusy, [illegible] one of the General's former colleagues in the constituent assembly, who was confined with him and M. de Latour Maubourg, in the prisons of Olmutz.

The disappearance of M. Kesner, a Cashier of the Treasury of France, produced great alarm on the 10th of January in the Park Stock Exchange. A depression in the funds took place, but the amount of the defalcation chargeable to M. Kesnir not being so great as was at first anticipated, the funds rose the next day.

CHAMBER OF DEPUTIES.

SITTING OF JAN. 7.

The Bill authorising 80,000 conscripts of the class of 1831, to be called into active service, was adopted without discussion by a majority of 220 against 5.

Sitting of Jan. 9.—In a debate on a subject of no interest to our readers,—

M. Mauguin, insisted on the absolute necessity of economy, maintaining that it was in the grandeur of France that the real dignity of the Throne consisted. "Yes," continued he "let France be grand, and the King of France will be the first——"

Here the voice of the orator was drowned in shouts of laughter from the Centres, mingled with the cries of, "What! you say the King of France, do you?"

M. Mauguin—"At least I cannot be accused of having employed the expression "King of France" in a written discourse.

M. Levaillant—"Nor are you guilty of the much greater fault of attempting to justify it."

M. Mauguin—"At any rate these expressions have no importance in them, except what arise from the signification attached to them. (Renewed laughter, and cries from the Centres of, Why, that is what we have been repeating every day for the last week.) If (continued M. Mauguin) the ministry had not insisted upon the expression in a manner which led to the belief of its forming part of a system, the Opposition would not have shown so much anxiety to repel it."

An extraordinary courier, sent from St. Petersburgh by the Spanish Ambassador in Russia, arrived yesterday at Paris. The dispatches of which he is the bearer are probably of the highest importance, as the Spanish Ambassador sent off an extraordinary courier for Russia a few minutes afterwards.

PORTUGAL.

The London Courier mentions, that a proposal has been made to settle the affairs of Portugal by Conference and Protocol.

It is stated that the American Consul has presented to Don Miguel the ultimatum of the reparations required by his government, but the spirit of insane obstinacy which directs the Portuguese Cabinet is so deeply rooted, that notwithstanding the recent lessons it has received from England and France, it obstinately refuses the satisfaction which has been required.

HOLLAND AND BELGIUM.

In regard to the Holland and Belgic question, the Courier of the 11th says;—

"We stated yesterday that a demand had been made that the period fixed for the exchange of ratifications of the treaty of 24 articles should be prolonged. We are now able to add that the prolongation demanded beyond the 15th instant, is at least 15 days. It is probable considering the distance between Vienna and Berlin that this prolongation will be granted."

MARYLAND LEGISLATURE.

HOUSE OF DELEGATES, Friday, Feb. 17.

Mr. Carmichael presented the petition of sundry citizens of Queen Anne's county, praying the passage of an act to incorporate a company under the name of the Queen's town creek company; which was read and referred to the committee on internal improvement.

On motion by Mr. Johnson, the house took up for consideration, the bill reported by him, entitled, An act to regulate the election of clerk of the county court and register of Wills for Frederick county. The said bill was then read the second time, passed and sent to the senate.

Evening Session.—The Governor attended in the Senate Chamber, and in the presence of both Houses, signed the laws passed this session, from No. 1 to No. 95 inclusive.

Saturday, Feb. 18.

Mr. Brawner rose in his place, and after announcing the death of John Edelen, Esq., submitted the following resolutions:

By the House of Delegates,
February 18th, 1832.

Resolved, That the members of this house are penetrated with the deepest regret for the loss of John Edelen, a late delegate from Charles county; that they will cherish a warm remembrance for his great private worth and eminent public usefulness, and sincerely sympathise with his bereaved family, at the late afflicting dispensation.

Resolved, That as a tribute of respect for the dead, they will go into mourning, by wearing a crape on the hat and left arm, during the remainder of the session.

Resolved, That a committee of six members be appointed by the chair, to make appropriate arrangements for the removal of his remains to his native county, and to adopt such measures as may be necessary to do honor to the memory of the deceased.

Resolved, That the Speaker of the House be requested to transmit a copy of the foregoing resolutions to the family of the deceased.

Which were read the first and second time by special order, and unanimously assented to.

In pursuance of the above resolutions, the speaker appointed Messrs. Brawner, Turner, of Charles, Heard, Willson, of Montgomery, Carmichael, and Cottman, the committee of arrangement.

Monday, Feb. 20.

Mr. Orrell obtained leave to bring in a bill to authorise the further distribution of the donation to the Academies and Colleges, within the limits of the several counties of this state, so far as the same relates to Caroline county; ordered, that Messrs. Orrell, Hardcastle and Jones, of Caroline, report the same.

Mr. Thomas, of Queen Anne's, obtained leave to bring in a bill, to be entitled, An act to regulate the election of clerk of the county court, and Register of Wills of Queen Ann's county; ordered, that Messrs. Thomas, of Queen Anne's, Roberts, and Carmichael, report the same.

Mr. Teackle, from the joint committee on the library, reported a bill, entitled, An act to provide for the making of a map of the state of Maryland, & of each of the counties thereof;

And Mr. Johnson, of the committee on internal improvement, reported a bill, entitled, An act to incorporate the Cecil County Rail Road Company. Which were read.

EASTON, MD.

TUESDAY MORNING, FEB. 28, 1832.

It seems that the institution of the testimonial to justice obliged Mr. Poindexter [illegible] member of the hat [illegible] Mr. Van Buren has [illegible] Messrs Poindexter, Gen[illegible] [illegible] Mr. Miller [illegible] Hoffman and Bergen never committed [illegible] satisfaction. Of all the men of the [illegible] to see, that it is professional attainments [illegible] less than smoke. [illegible] be great, I think he is [illegible] have been selected by [illegible] held the conversation, [illegible] I am, Mr. Van Buren [illegible] men from New York; that he even sufficiently [illegible] offer of pecuniary assistance, from Senator Poindexter and Moore, to induce him to [illegible] representations to these gentlemen, [illegible] facts, no man can doubt: but [illegible] offer of pecuniary assistance, was in consideration of the disclosures, we think the facts will not warrant the belief. The stand taken by these high blooded Southerns, viz., that a man shall not only speak well, but actually think well of them, is one which the common sense of the community will not sustain.

The correspondence between Messrs. Poindexter and Hoffman we have copied; it will put the public in possession of the facts, sufficient to give them a fair understanding of the subject.

Mr. Bergen, who was also called on by these gentlemen for satisfaction, disavows any agency in procuring the offensive publication in the N. York Courier and Enquirer, but at the same time asserts that the conversation did take place; that he had repeated the conversation, and leaves the public to draw their own conclusions. This answer it seems was not satisfactory to either of the honorable Senators, but further satisfaction being refused them by Mr. Bergen, they find an excuse for not calling him to the field, in the circumstance of his employing Mr. Webb, the Editor of the Courier & Enquirer, as his second, alledging that Mr. Webb is not a gentlemen.

This is the result. Mr. Hoffman was challenged because he would not disavow his belief in the charges made against them; and Mr. Bergen they refuse to challenge, because his second is not a gentleman. This we suppose is the pink of honorable bearing.

We are pleased to see it stated, that our representative in Congress, Col. George E. Mitchell, is so far recovered from his late severe [illegible] as to be expected to take his seat [illegible] day. Send[illegible] friends and [illegible] opponents [illegible] by the same rule? I ask, [illegible] copy of a Bill, reported [illegible] back over the history [illegible] Delegates, by the committee on Grievances and Courts of Justice, relating to the free coloured population of this State. Its great length has prevented our giving it a place in this day's Whig, a large portion of our columns being occupied, agreeably to promise, by the report of Mr. McDuffie, on the tariff question.

On the fourth page of our paper, this morning, will be found an Address delivered before the Whiteleysburg Temperance Society.

CORRESPONDENCE.

Mr. Poindexter to Mr. Hoffman.

Washington City, Feb. 15, 1832.

Sir—Known to me only as one of the Representatives of the State of New York, in the national Legislature, I address in that character to obtain information, which can be given only by a member from that State. An article in a newspaper, printed in the city of New York, under the title of the New York Courier and Enquirer, dated the 7th instant, contains allegations of facts, carried out by conclusions, highly derogatory to my character, and if true, ought to disgrace me, both as a man, and a Senator in Congress.

This paragraph, infamous as it is, would not have been deemed by me worthy of notice, in these days, when it is so generally understood that the press is under surveillance to power, but for the authority which the Editor professes to have from several gentlemen, Representatives in Congress, from New York to vouch for the truth of the statements therein made. Your name has been mentioned to me as one of those members, and before I proceed to any step for the vindication of my honor, which has been thus wantonly assailed, it is due to the station which you hold, and to the character of the State which has honored you as one of its Representatives to afford you an opportunity to avow, or disavow, all participation in this transaction; and to make such other explanations, as may be deemed proper on the occasion, by my friend Col. Davis of South Carolina, who has full power to act for me in this matter. Your prompt and explicit response to this note is confidently expected, and it will give me pleasure if it should render any further proceeding unnecessary.

I have the honor to be, with great respect, your obedient servant,

GEO. POINDEXTER.

Hon. Michael Hoffman.

Mr. Hoffman to Mr. Poindexter.

Washington City, Feb. 16, 1832.

Sir—Your note of yesterday was handed to me in the House of Representatives, and I reply to it as promptly as other and prior engagements, which I could not postpone, will permit.

I have looked into the New York Courier and Enquirer of the 7th instant, to which you refer. The article to which I suppose you refer, and the only one in which I find any reference for proof to Members of Congress, from New York, is an Editorial, headed Samuel B. Clement. To avoid all possibility of misunderstanding, I extract all that I find stated on such authority.

"In the first place Mr. Clement has confessed "since writing the letter, that he never was "introduced to Mr Van Buren, and has never "seen him to converse with him but twice.—"He states, that having become acquainted "with the son of Mr. Van Buren, he called at "the City Hotel to see him, and was, through "mistake, introduced into the room occupied "by Mr. Van Buren. He made himself known "to Mr. Van Buren, who politely requested "him to be seated, and after some other con-"versation, proceeded to make the important "and confidential declaration 'to a friend,' "which we extract above!"

"What we have stated as to Mr. Clement's "knowledge of Mr. Van Buren, and the cir-"cumstances under which he became the de-"pository of Mr. Van Buren's confidence, we "have from two Members of Congress from "this State, whose veracity never has been "questioned, and on their authority we make "the following statement, for the truth of "which we are ready to vouch.

"Mr Clement informed the gentlemen re-"ferred to, some days previous to the appear-"ance of his letter, that he had been engaged "to edit a newspaper, in the State of Missis-"sippi, by Mr. Poindexter of that State and "Mr. Moore of Alabama: that Mr. Poindexter "had agreed to contribute his portion of the "expense of establishing the paper in cash, "but that in consequence of Mr. Moore being "somewhat embarrassed in his circumstances, "he had proposed giving an endorsed note for "fifteen hundred dollars, that being his portion "of the sum required!!"

Upon this statement, certain conclusions are carried out by the Editors of that paper. With their conclusions I have no concern they were not made at my request, or upon any suggestion of mine. Nor am I at all connected with the publication of the statement of facts, as made in that paper. It was made by the Editors without any communication whatever between them and myself.

This might be deemed a full answer to your note. But I think it consistent with the scope of your inquiry to state that Clement was a stranger to me until since the commencement of the present session. Since then, and before, the rejection of Mr. Van Buren in the Senate, and in the progress of conversations with me, sought by Mr. Clement, and perfectly voluntary on his part, he informed me, that Governor Poindexter and Governor Moore wanted him to go into Mississippi or Alabama and edit a paper. That if he went into Mississippi Gov. Poindexter offered to furnish the cash to procure and set up the press and establishment; that if he went into Alabama, Governor Moore could not furnish the cash, as he had lost money by endorsing for a friend; but offered him his paper to fourteen or fifteen hundred dollars. In the progress of that conversation, he stated that he had seen Mr. Van Buren, but had no acquaintance with him.—These declarations, except the fact last stated, he repeated to me in several conversations; in the last of which, and shortly before the rejection of Mr. Van Buren, he said, speaking of both yourself and Gov. Moore, that you offered to furnish him the money to establish the paper he contemplated, in one your States.—I know that several of my colleagues heard some of these statements made by Clement to me, and have been informed by several of them that he had made similar statements to them. For the truth of what was stated by Clement, I have at no time vouched, nor is that a point with which I have any concern.

I have the honor to be, with great respect, Sir, your obedient servant,

MICHAEL HOFFMAN.

Hon. Geo. Poindexter.

Mr Davis to Mr. Hoffman.

HOUSE OF REP., FEBY. 16th, 1832.

DR. SIR: Your letter of this morning, to Governor Poindexter, has been placed in my hands by the Honorable Mr. Beardsly.

The second paragraph I consider exceptionable, not only because it is not within the enquiry, but because it repeats a statement as offensive as that contained in the publication complained of.

Governor Poindexter only asks, whether the statement and the publication referred to in his note, was made on your authority, agency or suggestions? An answer to that question alone, is respectfully requested.

I have the honor to be,
Your obedient servant,
WARREN R. DAVIS.

Mr. Hoffman to Mr. Davis.

WASHINGTON CITY,
February 17, 1832.

SIR: Yesterday I received your note acknowledging the receipt by the hand of the Honorable Samuel Beardsley, of my answer to the note of the Honorable George Poindexter to me, of the 15th instant.

You object to the second paragraph of my letter as irrelevant and exceptionable.

I consider it relevant and due to the scope of his enquiry. I must add the statements made to me by Clemnet, as briefly contained in that paragraph, were, before the publication of the article complained of, repeated by me in casual conversations.

These remarks, with the very distinct and entirely unequivocal denial, (which I repeat,) contained in my letter to the Senator Poindexter, of all agency on my part in procuring the publication complained of, are deemed a perfect answer to the last paragraph of your letter.

With perfect esteem and consideration
I have the honor to be
Your most obedient servant,
MICHAEL HOFFMAN.

Honorable Warren R. Davis,
Ho. Rep.

Mr. Davis to Mr. Hoffman.

HOUSE OF REPRES.,
February 17th, 1832.

SIR: Your note of this morning has been received.

Your denial of all agency in the procuring the publication complained of, is satisfactory on that point, and will be entirely so, if you will add, that you do not vouch for, or believe the truth of the imputations cast on Governor Poindexter, contained in that publication.

I have the honor to be,
Your obedient servant,
WARREN R. DAVIS.

HON. MICHAL HOFFMAN.

Mr. Hoffman to Mr. Davis.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18th, 1832.

SIR: Your note of yesterday, informs me, that my denial of all agency in procuring the publication complained of by Governor Poindexter, is satisfactory on that point, and will be entirely so, if I will add that I do not vouch for, or believe the truth of the imputations cast on him in that publication.

Upon this, sir, you will excuse me for saying, that not having been a party to any such imputations, I do not feel that I am in any respect required to make myself a party by expressing any belief or disbelief of them.

With perfect esteem,
I am Sir,
Your obedient Servant.
MICHAEL HOFFMAN.

Hon. Warren R. Davis,
House of Representatives.

Mr. Poindexter to Mr. Hoffman.

WASHINGTON CITY,
Feb. 18th, 1832.

SIR: Several days past, I addressed to you a letter, asking of you a frank avowal or disavowal, of a scandalous publication in the New York Courier and Enquirer of the 7th instant, for the truth of which, the Editor referred to several members of Congress from the State of which you are a Representative. You have refused to comply with the demand in a satisfactory manner; and by a puerile attempt at equivocation, have afforded conclusive proof to my mind that you are one of the members of Congress referred to. That publication contains statements involving my honor, as false as they are malicious and unprovoked. You will, therefore, perceive at once the impossibility of my resting quietly under such foul imputations, coming from a source which entitles the author to my notice. I demand of you personal satisfaction for this outrage, and refer you to my friend Col. Davis of South Carolina, to adjust and settle the preliminaries suitable to the occasion.

I am, &c. &c.
GEO. POINDEXTER.

Michael Hoffman, Esq.

Mr. Hoffman to Mr. Poindexter.

WASHINGTON CITY,
February 20, 1832.

SIR: Your note of Saturday was handed to me in the House by Colonel Davis.

In this correspondence, the acts of Colonel Davis are yours. His notes I shall therefore call yours.

After my answer—in your reply, you narrowed down this unnecessary controversy with me, to the single question of any agency on my part, in procuring the publication of the article complained of? To this point, I replied, repeating the unequivocal denial stated in my first note; and in your answer to that reply, you admit that this denial is "satisfactory on that point." You had asked the truth in relation to my action: I gave it, and you admitted it to be "satisfactory." Confessedly and satisfactorily answered on the only point to which you had narrowed the controversy—you have now appealed to force, and demand of me personal satisfaction—because, although you are a stranger to me, I decline giving any opinion on certain imputations never authorized by me, and to which I am in no sense a party.

These sufficient reasons preclude the propriety of assigning any, I may deem BETTER, for not accepting your challenge; and I must decline all further correspondence, with an individual, who will contend, that he is seriously injured in his honor, because one to whom he is a stranger, and who has confessedly cast no imputations on him, will not volunteer a belief, that imputations cast on him by another, are untrue.

The Searcher of hearts alone, is entitled to know its unuttered thoughts.

Yours, &c.
MICHAEL HOFFMAN.

George Poindexter, Esq.

INUNDATION AT WHEELING.

The following endorsement is upon the way bill, received at Baltimore, dated Washington, Pa. Feb. 12.

The Ohio at Wheeling was on the rise when this stage left Mr. Carter's four mile east of Wheeling, could get no closer. The driver left the town about three o'clock, and states that there has been a great number of houses swept off from the lower port of it. A great number of houses, stacks of grain, barns, &c. passed Wheeling in the flood.

Extract of a letter from the Postmaster, at Wasingington, Pennsylvania.

P. O. Washington, Pa.
Feb. 11th, 1832

Sir—the Western Mail Stage has just arrived.—It was not able to reach nearer Wheeling, to day, than four miles, owing to the high waters—and it brought no Western Mail. The driver says, the water was up to the top of the door of the Stage Office in Wheeling and that the flood is unprecedented in the Ohio. I am obliged to throw this in the Way Mail bag, as it is the only one we have to send. He left the mail for the West at the tavern where his passage was interrupted by water,

☞ To anticipate in some degree the numerous enquiries addressed to us concerning Mr. Clay's Speech upon the tariff, we think it proper to state that the engagements of that gentleman in the Senate Hall, in committee rooms, and the Supreme Court, have been such as yet to prevent his being able to correct the Report of it for the press. It will be forthcoming, however, before long, and we would in the mean time, suggest to all impartial editors to forbear copying the sketch of part of it which has already appeared in the Globe, and is said to be an unfair statement of what it professes to represent.

The bill for altering the constitution in regard to the mode of appointing the registers of wills and clerk of county court for Frederick county, has passed the House of Delegates. We have had several specimens of laws, general in their character, being applied to some parts of the state and not to others—so that what is law in Frederick is not law in Baltimore county—but we believe this is the first case of our having constitution for one part of the state that is not constitution for the rest. Md. Repub.

MARRIED.

On Thursday, 23d inst., by the Rev. H. G King, Peter W. Willis, Esq. of Denton, to Miss Susan M. Talbott, of Boonsborough, Md.

OBITUARY.

Died in Centreville, Queen-Ann's county, on Saturday the 18th inst., Mrs. Mary Emory, consort of Wm. H. Emory, Esq., and daughter of the late Thomas Stevens, Esq. of Talbot county, after a painful and lingering illness, which she bore with that meekness, and patience which characterizes the true followers of the Lamb of God.

In noticing the death of this very amiable and interesting lady, we can give but a faint sketch; of her truly exalted character; language is inadequate to portray her many excellencies. Endowed by nature, with a peculiarly mild and placid temper, she was sincerely loved by all who knew her, and the remembrances of her many virtues, will ever be cherished, in their hearts, and embalmed, in their memories. In every sphere of life, she shone as a bright star, rivaling [illegible] as a wife, sister, or friend, she possessed [illegible] which [illegible] ing life's rugged path, by her sweet unfortunable deportment to all around her.

This trying, and mysterious dispensation [illegible] Divine Providence, is not perhaps, [illegible] of time to unravel, but of Eternity [illegible] heart cheering assurance that she [illegible] that shore, "Where tempests never [illegible] billows roar;" imparts more than a [illegible] light, and affords unspeakable consolation [illegible] her afflicted companion and friends; [illegible] ry has fled from this [illegible] to the realms of everlasting [illegible] her glittering crown at the [illegible] friends part" tis the sun [illegible] death with that calmness and firmness, supported by Christ the Rock of ages, which disarms death of her terrors, & enabled her joyfully to quit this earthly tabernacle, and claim her inheritance in the skies, which is incorruptible, undefiled and fadeth not away.

Religion! Providence, an after state!
Here is firm footing; here is solid rock;
This can support us, all is sea besides:
Sinks under us, bestorms, and then devours,
His hand the good man fastens in the skies,
And bids earth roll, nor feels her idle whirl.

DIED

At Annapolis, on Friday Evening last, John Edelen, Esq., late a delegate from Charles county, in the House of Delegates of the State of Maryland. Mr. Edelen was a most estimable man, and united to the highest sense of honor, talents of the most respectable order. He had served in the State Legislature often, and never without gaining the affections and esteem of those with whom he acted.

On Saturday last, suddenly, Daniel Fiddeman, Esq. of the Bayside, at an advanced age.

On Tuesday last, Mrs. Grace, of this town, after a short illness.

Near Greensborough, Caroline county, on Saturday night, the 25th inst after a short but severe illness, Capt. Peter Rich, in the 55th year of his age. He has left an affectionate wife to mourn her loss; he was a man that was esteemed by all who knew him, and fully complied with that command which saith do unto your neighbour as you would he should do unto you.

To Merchant Tailors.

THE Subscriber, only Agent for Otis Madison, in the City of Baltimore, offers for sale the following BOOK and SCALE:—

THE ART OF DELINEATING GARMENTS,

Accompanied by the patent MATHEMATICAL RULER, by Otis Madison.

The Subscriber deems it useless to say any thing more than merely to ask the trade to examine it:—then if it be a thing desirable to have a plan of marking out Garments, which by the same process and with equal accuracy, will apply to every form and fashion—and which requires no other apparatus than a ruler twenty inches long and two inches wide—and but two or three marks, except where the shears are to go. I say if such a plan be desirable, those who examine this work will probably purchase it.

PRICE $10.

W. W. HILTON,
No. 40 Market street, between Gay and Frederick streets.

☞ The Centreville Times, Fredericktown Herald, Chestertown Telegraph, and Eastern Shore Whig, will publish the above four times, and send their accounts to the office of the Baltimore Republican for payment.
