J. D. LUCAS.

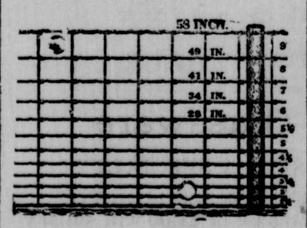
THE OLD RELIABLE

American

WOVEN WIRE

Fence

THE HINGE JOINT—Makes it possible for the fence to withstand sudden and severe pressure from contact with animals or otherwise, without bending the stays, the fence springing back to place the instant pressure is removed. It constitutes the most secure, lasting and efficient lock and without waste of material. Has broad surface connection with horizontal bars, which connection makes sidewise slipping of the stays next to impossible. Very materially aides adjustability, the fence readily conforming to the ground surface regardless of grade.



Tension curves are placed six inches apart in all horizontal bars, adding largely to the natural elasticity of the steel. Rendering the fence self-adjusting under varying conditions, such as contraction and expansion due to changes of temperature, hot and cold weather, climbing, sudden pressure and other strains.

Years of experience in the manufacture of American fence, attended with enormous sales, have demonstrated beyond question that we have this problem figured right and that the tension curve, with the hinge joint feature, keeps the fence right under all circumstances, every day of the year, and as long as the posts stand in position.

We can accommodate you with Field, Garden or Poultry Fence in many styles. Also, barb and smooth galvanized wire. We carry the largest stock of fence in the county.

Call and see our stock.

SCHOONER SINKS.

The two-masted schooner Daisy, Capt. Solomon Pinder, of Kent county, sank while lying at J. H. Collison's wharf at the foot of Hughes street, at 5.40 P. M. Tuesday. She was loaded with 2,900 bushels of oyster shells, and was valued at $2,600.

It is thought she sprung a leak from the bottom and filled with water before anyone could pump her out. All the crew were ashore at the time and no one was drowned. The vessel belonged to Frank B. Howard, of Chesapeake City.

The Daisy left Chestertown Saturday loaded with corn belonging to Mr. P. G. Wilmer. The corn was delivered Monday.

THE stable on John Glenn's farm at Dunn's Point, Piney Neck, was burned Thursday afternoon including a horse belonging to Mr. James Wood. Mr. Wood drove over to Mr. Glenn's, put his horse in the stable, and together with Mr. Glenn drove to Chestertown When they returned the building was in ashes.

ANOTHER question in the Hynson estate was heard before the Court of Appeals Tuesday, in which John P. Poe, Esq., of Baltimore, represented Mrs. Wm. M. Slay, the petitioner who appealed from the Orphans' Court, and Messrs. Beck and Wickes appealed for Mrs. R. D. Hynson. The Court gave an opinion Thursday in favor of the latter in which the Orphans' Court for Kent was upheld.

CHESTERTOWN certainly needs an Athletic field. Some place where the boys and young men can indulge in the outdoor games of base ball, foot ball, etc. What citizen will come forward and furnish this long felt need?

Mrs. Wm. Shinn, aged 28, died yesterday A. M., after a long illness. She was a Miss Anna Carter and leaves a 5-year old boy. Funeral Sunday 10 A. M., interment Still Pond. Undertaker, J. E. Furgerson.

THERE was a general election throughout Illinois on Tuesday on the issue of license or no license. The larger cities voted "wet," while many of the smaller towns and cities went "dry." Saloons are to be barred by the votes of the people in 21 counties. The prohibition wave keeps on moving, and it begins to look as if the saloon, not many years hence, would be confined to the cities almost entirely. Pity it can't be abolished even from the cities.
