ROCK HALL ITEMS.

Rev. Mr. Richardson treated his large congregation to an inspiring sermon on Sunday morning on the subject of "Steadfastness," his text was Eph. 6:13. The reverend gentleman manifested a warmth of heart which made the sermon the more appreciated by his hearers, and no doubt this was the reason why the testimony service of the afternoon was so enthused on the subject of the "old time religion."

A little off on our surmising in last issue on Jessie K.'s improvements? It's Johnny that's going to become a benedict? Well, sure enough, we had forgotten about the fascinating influence that has kept Johnny on Kent Island so much of last summer and the present Spring.

Mrs. G. T. Sewell is on the sick list and undergoing treatment by Dr. Selby, and Mr. A. Casey, an adjoining neighbor, is ministering many kindnesses to the patient which is highly appreciated by the family.

Rev. J. W. R. Sumwalt, of the Baltimore Conference, will be among relatives and friends here in a couple of weeks, enjoying a well-earned vacation. This is pleasing to many of our people who knew Jack only a few years ago as a boy, playing with other boys of our town during the summer vacations. He has not been here for about three years. He is now a Presiding Elder and we all want to see him and hear him in the Elder's garb.

Butcher and provision merchant, Casey, has made a complete transformation in his store room. For room, convenience and appearance it is now O. K., and Abe and Johnny are just taking in the "tin" at a lively rate.

Mr. E. E. Leary is building for tonsorial artist, Snowden Maslin, a shaving parlor adjoining Kramer's emporium. Mr. Frank Wheatley, we hear, will occupy the place now used as a shaving parlor by Mr. Maslin when he vacates.

With clover in bloom, wheat heading out, the atmosphere fragrant with locust blooms, strawberries and crabs in abundance, our people seem truly grateful to the Giver of every good and perfect gift.

Messrs. M. L. Maslin, G. W. Colyer, C. H. Smith and S. B. Colyer have just returned from their annual turtling cruise and report a successful catch.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. J. Porter, of the City, have been entertained by their relatives and friends of this place, during the past week.

A number of our residents have been taking in the M. E. General Conference. They make glowing reports of the daily sessions. Some think there is too much wrangling over policies and political juggling, and not enough evangelistic work in soul-saving.

Mr. Thomas Kendall, who has been in poor health for a long time, was in a very precarious condition early in the week. He is reported a little improved at this writing.

Mr. B. H. Coburn had a rather unpleasant experience among bees on Tuesday. While handling them they made a savage attack on him. He came out conqueror, but at considerable pain.

M. Kramer has a large new stock of Spring goods on his shelves and is doing a fine business.

Our friend, Durding, the druggist, has purchased the Kimball farm, so we understand. Everybody here wishes him the greatest success in his investment.

NEW COURSE IN HIGH SCHOOL

Commercial Course Will Be Added Next Year—State Appropriates $1,000.

The School Board at its meeting on Tuesday considered at some length the question of adding a commercial course to the curriculum of the Chestertown High School, and it was finally decided to adopt the course, and thus avail itself of the funds appropriated by the last Legislature for accredited High Schools of this State which added the commercial course. Miss Nellie Walters was elected to take charge of this department at a salary of $650. Miss Walters has taken a special course in her new work and will be well fitted to take up the work in the Fall. She is well and favorably known in Kent and her appointment meets with approval.

Under the provisions of the act of the General Assembly, the sum of $1,000 per annum will be available for Kent county for the commercial course. Any pupil in the county who has completed satisfactorily all the grade work up to and including the 9th grade will be admitted to said commercial course. The money appropriated for this purpose must, according to law, be used exclusively for the commercial course, and the School Board is required to make a detailed report to the State Board of Education annually of the expenditures of the fund, the number of students in high school grades, the number pursuing a commercial course, and the salaries paid the teachers of said department.

It is the intention of the School Board we understand, to make it optional with the pupils as to whether they take the commercial course after completing the 9th grade work, or continue in the academic work through the tenth and eleventh grades. They can do as they elect in the matter.

The commercial course will include book-keeping, short-hand, typewriting, etc., and the department in which this work is to be taught will be thoroughly equipped for it. The course will be inaugurated at the opening of the Chestertown High School next fall.

SASSAFRAS ITEMS.

Redolent with the fragrance of the beautiful flowers and filled with the joyous spirit of the occasion, the old Salem M. P. Church more than 70 years old never looked so radiant with the bright beautiful flowers banked around the chancel, and the whole interior and chancel was transferred into a perfect fairyland for the celebration on Sunday of this grand old church. Prominent men and women who have associated with the growth of the church which traces its origin back to 1808, employed extravagant expressions of praise for the shepherd who has guided them and the rest since 1868. Perhaps one of the most satistactory tributes of the day was the beautiful singing and eloquent sermons from the learned pastors, as the divines who assisted our pastor, Rev. C. M. Cullum, were: Dr. T. G. Crouse and Rev. C. E. Strayer, of Washington, D. C. at the whole day services. The church has been improved by painting, new pulpit, furniture, carpet, etc., and the day will long be remembered.

PRETTY WEDDINGS.

A pretty home wedding took place last Wednesday evening when Miss Miriam Louise Jessop, daughter of the late George A. Jessop, of Kent county, was married to Dr. Frank Brown Hines, son of Dr. and Mrs. W. Frank Hines, of Chestertown. The wedding took place at the home of the bride's sister, Miss Laura H. Jessop, 2107 St. Paul street, Baltimore.

To the strains of the "Lohengrin" wedding march, played by Mr. Walter W. Derr, the bridal party entered the front parlor, where the ceremony was performed by Rev. Peregrine Wroth, rector of the Protestant Episcopal Church of the Messiah and a cousin of the bride.

The bride was accompanied by Mr. George Beck, by whom she was given away. She was attired in a hand embroidered gown of the Renaissance pattern, and her tulle veil was caugh with a spray of orange blossoms and pearls. She carried a presantation bouquet of lilies of the valley.

Mr. Arthur Bradley, of Chestertown, was the best man and Miss Geraldine Wilmer, a niece of the bride, was flower girl. The ribbon-bearers were Masters Richard Gundry, Jr., and Malcolm Wilmer.

A reception, at which only the immediate families were present, following the wedding. After a tour of the North Doctor and Mrs. Hines will make their future home in Chestertown on Water street.

MARKS—DEFORD.

A pretty wedding took place at 4532 Baltimore avenue, Philadelphia, when Miss Anna Elizabeth DeFord, formerly of Chestertown, became the bride of Mr. Eugene Nevin Marks, son of the late Rev. Dr. Lafayette Marks. The ceremony took place at 8 o'clock and was performed by the Rev. Dr. Miller, of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church. The bride wore a handsome white lace robe chiffon over white satin and carried a shower bouquet of white sweet peas and lillies of the valley. The maid of honor was Miss Fannie Edwards, of Baltimore, a cousin of the bride. She wore a Princess gown of white organdy over white taffeta and carried pink sweet peas. Cadet Edwin Hall Marks, from West Point, the groom's brother, was best man. The wedding march was played by Miss Florence Beisel.

Among those present from out of town were Mr. Henry Deford and sister, of Chestertown, Miss Lida Edwards, of Pomona, Md., Miss Laura Peddicord, of Middletown, Del., Mr. Alfred Myre, of Minneapolis, Mr. E. Marks and wife, Mrs. Marks, Mr. Albert Marks, Mr. J. Frank Davis and wife, of Wilmington, and others.

Mrs. John Davis, of Philadelphia, is visiting her mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Meeks.

Last Sunday was a great day at our church. At the morning service Caleb E. Burchenal, a very promising young lawyer of Wilmington, spoke on the great cause of temperance to a splendid audience. Still Pond bids him God speed in the good work at the anniversary of the Epworth League. In the evening all the people could not be seated. The Epworth League, of Betterton, was invited to attend the service, and they came in a body of about 85 Epworthians and friends. Our pastor made the welcome address after which he introduced Miss Lola Crew, president of the Betterton League. The greetings she brought us from her League were heart cheering. It is not strange that Betterton has such a good League with such a splendid president. Come again Epworthians. The new officers of both Leagues were installed by the pastor, Rev. E. H. Collins. The regular anniversary program was used, entitled "In The School of The King."

The following persons took part in the program. The introductory address was given by F. H. Cornelius. Mrs. William Medders took the registrar part and introduced all the students. First course of study—Knowledge of the King; its methods and results; given by Charles Ford and Miss Marain Hackett. Second course — Knowledge of the Kingdom; how and why; given by Miss Lucelle Parr and Carl Norris. Third course — The Service of the King; ways and means; Miss Mary Capps and Walter Harris. Fourth course—The students vocation; its authority and extent; Lemont Hackett and Miss Mable Norris. Mrs. William Medders closed the exercise with a soul stirring address to the older students in the King's schools and then a forceful and touching appeal for new students, to which appeal four young ladies came forward and knelt at the alter desiring to be enrolled as new students. The invitation was then given to all Epworthians to join these at the alter in a dedication service. This was a most blessed service closing with all chanting the Lord's prayer.

The League choir never sang more sweetly and they were at their best with each member. The church was beautifully decorated with flowers and flags. The president of our League desires to thank everyone who took part in the service.

Our pastor's subject next Sunday morning—"The Immutibility of Jesus Christ."

The Epworth League will be led Sunday evening by Mrs. Sallie Price. Topic —"God's Unseen Protection." Following this service at 8 o'clock our pastor will speak on "The Echoes of the General Conference." The large chorus choir will have charge of the singing.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Rosin and son Paul, visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Faulkner, of Kennedyville, for the day on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Irving Spry, of near Galena, entertained at a house party on Tuesday last his mother, Mrs. W. H. Spry, his brother, Mr. and Mrs W. Spry and two daughters, Misses Edith and Sarah, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Rosin. A charming day was enjoyed but Mr. and Mrs. Spry always do entertain most royally. After a delightful dinner, ices and cake were served.

Dainty Oxfords

Brother George's Shoes are no longer correct. Women's tastes have swung back to a love of dainties.

One's foot is to be clothed as carefully as one's hand, and the high arched, full instep foot looks its prettiest in Oxfords or Colonials. They are the very correct—but keep on the side of daintiness in choosing the style. BUT OXFORDS MUST FIT—THAT'S THE CHARM. Yet two-thirds of the Oxfords do not fit. We perfect the fit of all and therein lies the success of this shoe store at oxford selling.

Ladies, who have looked about tell us that there isn't a stock of Oxfords in town to compare with ours. All widths and sizes—and the best selected leathers.
