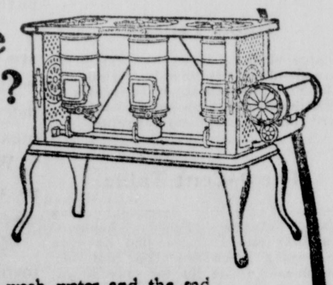
What Stove for Summer?



Nothing adds to kitchen convenience in summer weather like a New Perfection Wick Blue Flame Oil Cook-Stove. Anything that any stove can do the "New Perfection" will do, and do it better. Bakes, roasts, boils, toasts; heats the wash water and the sad irons, and does it without dissipating its heat through the room to your discomfort. The actually keeps the kitchen cool—actually makes it comfortable for you while doing the family cooking, because, unlike the coal range, its heat is directed to one point only—right under the kettle. Made in three sizes, fully warranted. If not with your dealer, write our nearest agency.

NEW PERFECTION

The Rayo LAMP affords a mellow light that is very grateful to tired eyes—a perfect student or family lamp. Brass, nickel plated, hence more durable than other lamps.

NEW YORK FASHIONS.

Satin For May Weddings — Lighter Fabrics For June—Embroidery The Newest Garniture — Embroidered Veils—Graduating Dresses—Ornate Styles — Linen Jumper Dresses—Lingerie And Leghorn Hats.

For early Spring weddings, a soft, thick satin has been used to a considerable extent, but as warm weather approaches Liberty satin, messaline, marquisette, chiffon or chiffon cloth are selected. Marquisette is often trimmed with folds of messaline or Liberty satin, and tucks are still a favorite skirt trimming. Last season's styles in making continue to be acceptable—the Princess—Empire, the latter effect often given by lace sash ends bound with the dress material. The sole genuine novelty in trimming wedding dresses is the almost unlimited use of embroidery in floral designs on both dress and veil.

VEILS.

The embroidered veil is an exception, as it is expensive and second only to old lace. The ordinary mortal wears plain tulle caught by a cluster of orange blossoms or a wreath, as may be most becoming. Trains are all lengths and should depend to a great extent on the height of the bride. Long, lace sleeves are more in favor than the three-quarter sleeve. Bouquets are a matter of choice lillies-of-the-valley or orchids, in simple or shower form, and not unfrequently a prayer-book is carried instead of a bouquet.

GRADUATING DRESSES.

The graduating dress is no longer a simple girlish affair as it should be, but is now ruffled and tucked and embroidered until it is often a confused mass of ornamentation. Many skirt ruffles have many rows of insertion, with tucks above and several bands of insertion half-way up the skirt is often seen. Embroidered lawn, mull, organdie, batiste, net over silk and occasionally dotted Swiss are materials most in vogue. A pretty lingerie dress is often worn as a graduating dress, and is perfectly appropriate. Sashes of messaline, Liberty satin, or satin ribbon are folded across the front, knotted at the side and tied in a bow at the back with long ends which are sometimes fringed.

The above design is by the McCall Co., of New York, publishers of fashion and manufacturers of McCall Patterns.

THE MONTH OF ROSES.

This charming season of the year (when Nature is so generous in her exquisite odors) naturally suggests the subjects of perfumes, and to their many attractions, Lord & Taylor have added Fleto Cologne and a special preparation of lavender water, which mark an epoch in the history of perfumes; their delicious fragrance imparting an equal pleasure, whether in the traveling bag or on the toilet-table

COLORED LINENS.

The colored linen jumper dress is a benediction to feminines equal to that of the shirt waist. Simply made, with white embroidery around neck and sleeves, or in ginghams or chambrays with a band of cambric embroidery, instead, they are a feast to the eye—no eccentricities no exaggerations. A cretonne, three-quarter coat shown in a window on thirty-fourth street is in a a large pattern of pink roses and green foliage, and lined with green silk, trimmed with large buttons on the two side pockets, on the front, and on the back, each button being the size of a silver dollar, with an embroidered spray at the centre.

LINGERIE HATS.

These are on a scale almost as generous as that of the "Merry Widow" sailor. Lace and flowers are the combination, and plaited ruffles galore. Nets are also fashionable, the crown a cloud of net with velvet ribbon or perchance satin ribbon around the crown and in a bow at one side, with two or three large roses to fill up. Any one of ordinary skill can make a lingerie hat. Plaited ruffles on the brim, a flat piece of lace at the top of the crown, velvet will also be in great style this season, trimmed with flowers.

A SOUTHERN METHODIST

Addresses General M. E. Conference — Not Hopeful Of Re-union.

Much significance was attached to the fact that at Saturday's session the General Conference, Rev. Dr. Collins Denny, fraternal delegate from the Methodist Episcopal Church South to the Conference, did not predict an early union with the Methodist Episcopal Church.

Dr. Denny, at no point in his speech, gave any intimation that the church he represented was anxious for organic union with the Methodist Episcopal Church. His address, an unusually long one, was generally construed as unfavorable to such union. One part of his address was taken generally as being distinctly opposed to an amalgamation of the two branches of Methodism under present conditions. He referred to "physical impossibilities," and declared that the racial instincts and feelings of the South had undergone no change; that the new South, in this respect, was as the old South.

The bulk of his address, which came toward the close of the session, was devoted to a passionate and eloquent defense of the South and the Southern people. He painted the South in glowing colors; he told of the splendid characteristics of its people, of their troubles, difficulties, problems and of the manner in which they had met and conquered them. His tribute to Southern womanhood was a beautiful one. He described graphically the burdens under which they had struggled for many years.

DUTY TO NEGROES.

Upon the negro question Dr. Denny asserted that the South had done more for the negro than all the other sects and denomination and kinds of people in the world.

"We trained him; we civilized him; we taught him until we could trust him. It is to his credit that he has shown he could be trusted since, but the South has been and is his friend, and little is known of what our church and our people have done for the negro."

Dr. Denny told how Stonewall Jackson had taught a negro Sunday School and of other instances of the kind.

Before beginning his statement concerning the South Dr. Denny asked the Conference whether it preferred to be flattered or have the facts; whether it wanted to be told that a "physical impossibility" could be accomplished or whether it wanted the truth; whether it was willing for a few moments to look upon the South with the eyes of a Southerner and be informed of the true condition.

Upon receiving an affirmative answer he went ahead, and while he was well received and applauded enthusiastically when he got through the strength and force of his eulogy of the South and his description of the attitude of the Southern people did not, it seemed, hit exactly the right key. Years ago the rock upon which the two churches split was the negro question. Dr. Denny's statement that the racial instincts of the South are still the same and his reference to "physical impossibilities" was regarded as significant.

Dr. Denny extended upon the part of his church the heartiest greetings and the most affectionate regard and admiration, but he said nothing about union, whereas throughout the Conference the prospective amalgamation of the two churches has been prominently to the front upon a number of occasions.

HAND OF DEATH.

The community was greatly shocked to learn of the sudden death of Courtland D. Hudson, eldest son of Joseph and Martha Hudson, at his home near Massey, on Tuesday afternoon, May 26. He was stricken while on his cultivator He was in apparently good health at noon, and fifteen minutes before he died came up to the house for water and was laughing and joking with his sister. His father was working in the same field and at first thought he was stooping over to fix the cultivator, but soon saw there was something wrong and went to his assistance. He raised his head and called him but he just gasped and expired in his father's arms without a struggle. Dr. N. M. Jeter, of Millington, was hastily summoned but pronounced him dead when he arrived.

Truly, "In the midst of life we are in death."

Courtland was thirty-two years of age and unmarried. He was a young man of exemplary character and was held in high esteem by all who knew him. He was a good man, a kind and dutiful son, and a loving and thoughtful brother. He leaves besides his parents, three sisters: Mrs. Geo. Cox, Mrs. Clarence Maslin and Miss Alice Hudson, and two brothers: Mr. Wilbert Hudson and Mr. Clifford Hudson to mourn his loss.

Funeral services were held at his late home on Friday afternoon at half past two o'clock and were conducted by the Rev. Mr. Moore, of Asbury M. E. Church, Millington. Interment was made in St. Clement's Cemetery at Massey, Md. The pall bearers were: John Naylor, Hampton Johns, Clarence Schwatka, Howard Newnam, Wm. Shallcross and Raymond Thornley.

Courtland was a member of Sassafras Council No. 95, Jr. O. U. A. M. and the bearers were his brothers in the Lodge. The services were concluded at the grave by Rev. Mr. Cullum, pastor of the Lodge and the ceremonies were solemn and impressive. The floral tributes were numerous and beautiful. The parents, brothers and sisters have our deepest sympathy in their sore affliction.

S. SCOTT BECK, SOLICITOR.

Order of Publication.

John V. Kilbourn, S. Scott Beck, Assignee, vs. Wesley Watson, Ella Watson, his wife, S. Scott Beck, Administrator of John Watson, deceased, John Thomas Watson, Lela Watson, Benjamin F. Watson, Earnest Watson, Anna Watson, Kate Watson, infants.

In the Circuit Court for Kent County In Equity. No. 1659.

THE object of this bill is to procure a decree for the sale of Real Estate of John Watson, deceased. The bill of complaint of John V. Kilbourn and S. Scott Beck, Assignee, by S. Scott Beck, their Solicitor, who sue as well for themselves as for all other creditors of John Watson, late of Kent county, Maryland, deceased, who will come in and contribute to the expenses of this suit, respectfully shows.

That the said John Watson was in his life time indebted unto your orator, John V. Kilbourn, in the full and just sum of four dollars and ten cents, with interest thereon from the 12th day of November, 1907, upon open account, which account is filed herewith and marked complainants Exhibit No. 1.

That the said John Watson was in his life time also indebted unto one Thomas W. Trew in the full and just sum of thirty-three dollars and eighty-seven cents, with interest thereon from the 4th day of January, 1907, upon a balance due, upon open account, which account the said Thomas W. Trew did on the 12th day of January, 1908, assign to your orator, S. Scott Beck, and which said account and the assignment thereof is filed herewith and marked Complainants' Exhibit No. 2.

That the said John Watson being so inbebted unto your orators as aforesaid and also unto divers other persons and having real estate of some value and personal estate of little value, departed this life sometime during the month of December, 1907, leaving the following children surviving him as heirs at law: Wesley Watson, who married Ella Watson, both of whom are adults and non-residents of this State, but reside in the State of Pennsylvania, and also the following infants, all under the age of fifteen years: John Thomas Watson, Lela Watson, Benjamin F. Watson, Earnest Watson, Anna Watson and Katie Watson, all of whom reside in Kent county, State of Maryland.

That administration of all and singular the personal estate of the said John Watson has been granted unto S. Scott Beck, by the Orphans' Court for Kent County as will fully appear by reference to a certificate of letters of administration granted on the estate of the said John Watson, which is filed herewith and marked Complainants' Exhibit No. 3.

That your orators are informed and believe that the said personal estate is not sufficient to pay the just debts of the said John Watson and the cost of administration and your orators are advised that in order to pay their claims and the other debts due from the said John Watson it is necessary for the said real estate to be sold, which said real estate is in the Seventh Election District of Kent County aforesaid, on the right side of the public road leading from Lankford into Broad Neck, containg one acre of land more or less, which property was conveyed to the said John Watson by George Beck and wife by deed dated the 18th day of November 1905 and recorded among the Land Records for Kent County aforesaid, in Liber J. T. D. No. 12, folio 336, etc., a certified copy of which said deed is filed herewith and marked Complainants Exhibit No. 4, and there is nothing else out of which your orators can secure the payments of their claims.

To the end therefore that the said real estate of the said John Watson, deceased, be sold for the payment of your orators' claims and the other debts which may be due from the said John Watson and that your orators may have such other and further relief as their case may require:—

It is thereupon this 22nd day of May, 1908, ordered by the Circuit Court for Kent County in Equity that the complainants John V. Kilbourn and S. Scott Beck, assignee, by causing a copy of this order to be inserted in some newspaper, printed and published in Kent County, Maryland, once in each of four successive weeks before the 22nd day of June, next, give notice to the said non-resident defendents, Wesley Watson and Ella Watson, his wife, of the object and substance of this bill and warning them to appear in this Court either in person or by solicitor on or before the 10th day of July next, to show cause if any they have why a decree ought not to be passed as prayed.

A CARD OF APPRECIATION.

In retiring from business, which my failing sight compels, I wish to return my grateful thanks to the many friends and patrons who have stood by me so faithfully and some of them by my father before me. It is with much feeling and great regret that I have faced the inevitable and given up the business I have been engaged in so long, and in which I have achieved a reputation that any one may well envy.

Again thanking all my friends, I desire to recommend my successor, MR. CHARLES L. DODD, to their liberal patronage, feeling sure of his ability to conduct the business in the most acceptible manner, Respectfully, m9-tf. JOHN N. DODD.
