HICKS, the weather prophet says: A reactionary storm period is central on the 27th, 28th and 29th. It is possible that change to cooler may not generally appear from the 25th to 27th, following the previous period, in which event the temperature will continue to increase, culminating in one of the most intense "hot waves" of the summer, continuing three days before and after Tuesday the 28th. Thunder storms of great strength and blusser will be due near the 28th.
