"Hold The Boat!"—Master Hiram Eliason, the 16-year-old son of Mr. Wilbur Eliason, was in Baltimore a few days ago and desired to return via Tolchester steamer. As he neared the wharf he realized that the time for the boat to leave was at hand and that he would be left unless something desperate was done. He therefore hurriedly dropped into a business house, called up the Tolchester Steamboat Co., and told them to hold the boat!

"Who for?" asked the party at the other end.

"Eliason," replied Hiram.

This was all the conversation, but when Hiram reached the wharf the boat was waiting!

As he walked up the gang-plank the officers looked at him at first with aggravated feelings, but when they realized that the young man had used his name and his wits they could but be amused at the whole affair. It is not likely that the company will wait for any more "Eliasons" thinking it is the President!

Dr. T. H. Lewis, president of Western Maryland College, will give an illustrated lecture with 100 views in Stam's Hall, Monday, September 7, under the auspices of the Kent County Public School Institute. The subject will be "Following in the Footsteps of St. Paul in the Capitals of Power and Culture."

The bridge boards and lumber advertised in the News were sold Saturday and brought high prices. One citizen remarked that it would pay the commissioners to take up all the planks and sell them.

Stavely & Bowers on Thursday were awarded the contract to build arch bridge near Still Pond, for $339. The only other bid was by S. J. Coleman at $498.50.

The Corsica is making daily trips out of Chester river during fruit season, leaving Chestertown at 4 o'clock.

The Kent and Queen Anne's Fair promises to be a grand success. Get your exhibit ready now.

HAND OF DEATH.

The Sad Reaper Has Called Many To Their Final Home.

Just as the shades of evening were enveloping the earth on Tuesday last the spirit of Miss Julia M. Burchinal took its flight to the other world. This young lady graduated at Washington College in 1900 full of hope and enthusiasm for the work of teaching and seemed so proud and happy of her calling. She began at once to teach in the Kent county public schools and no one has ever striven more to conscientiously drill the young mind than did she. Her scholars all loved her happy, bright and winning ways and she met with much success.

But her teaching was cut short by that dread disease tuberculosis. Being compelled to give up teaching over 2 years ago she went to Saranac Lake where her friends hoped she might regain her health. But the Master that rules all decided otherwise and after spending several months up there she came back to Maryland and lived near Baltimore where she died. Everything was done for her relief and comfort. Her loving mother and devoted sisters gave their every thought to her welfare and to them more than to others is her death particularly sad. But His ways are not ours and what seems hard in this world will all be made plain hereafter. When the end came she passed away just as peacefully and painlessly as a babe going to sleep.

Miss Julia was 29 years of age and leaves a mother, Mrs. Mary M. Burchinal and two sisters, Misses Mary and Anna. The body was brought to Kent Wednesday and rested at Radcliffe Hall, the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Brown, where the funeral took place on Thursday afternoon, interment private in Chester cemetery. Rev. W. L. White officiated and and Misses Hallie and Mabel Toulson, George White and Wilbur M. Thomas rendered touching music. The bearers were Staunton Brown, Leon Brown, Hiram M. Brown, William H. Brown, A. M. Brown and Robert Brown. J. E. Ferguson, undertaker.

WILLARD S. DILL.

Mr. Williard S. Dill died at his home in Chestertown on last Monday aged about 50 years. Funeral services were held Wednesday, conducted by Dr. F. T. Little; interment in Chester cemetery. The deceased was born in Delaware but removed to Kent in early life and for a number of years was engaged in mercantile business at Chesterville. About three years ago he moved to Chestertown and purchased the Armstrong hotel on Cross street. He is survived by a widow and three children, one son, Foster, and two daughters, Mrs. George T. Perkins and Mrs. Ephraim Dill. He also leaves three brothers, Messrs. James, Charles and William Dill, who with three cousins, Messrs. Benjamin, James and William Dill, acted as pall bearers. Undertaker Wm. T. Hicks had charge of funeral arrangements.

MRS. C. B. KRUSEN.

Mrs. C. B. Krusen died at her home in Still Pond on last Sunday afternoon interment in Still Pond cemetery on Tuesday afternoon. Aged 72 years.

RAYMOND ALLSTON.

Mr. Raymond Allston brother of Messrs. Arthur and Thomas Allston died of tuberculosis on Tuesday evening; interment in Quaker church cemetery on Thursday. Aged 59 years.

MRS. AMANDA COLEMAN.

Mrs. Amanda Coleman died on Tuesday evening at her home of tuberculosis, interment in Still Pond cemetery on Friday; Wm. H. Krusen had charge of funeral arrangements. Three sons, Thomas, Calvin and Lester, of Baltimore, and three daughters, Mrs. John Atwell, Mrs. John Boulden and Miss Pearl Coleman survive her.

M. E. THORNTON.

Mrs. M. E. Thornton widow of the late Dr. Wm. E. Thornton and sister of Mr. James P. Parrott, Chestertown, died after a long illness at her home in Baltimore on Monday, aged 60. She leaves two children.

ELIZABETH VOSHELL.

Mrs. Elizabeth Voshell died at the home of Mr. Robert Ford in Quaker Neck on Sunday aged 88 years. Funeral was held Tuesday services conducted by Rev. S. R. S. Gray; interment in St. Paul's cemetery. Undertaker J. E. Ferguson had charge of arrangements The bearers were Messrs. Wilbur, Walter and Elwood Morris, John P. Nicholson, J. R. Byron, George P. Hendrickson.

ELIZA MCLANE.

Miss Eliza McLane sister to Mrs. Silas Weller, of near Chester bridge, died Saturday night. The remains were carried to Townsend Monday; C. L. Dodd, undertaker.

The 5-months old child of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Lurty, Chestertown died Tuesday and interment took place in Chester cemetery: C. L. Dodd, undertaker.

Mr. Ivanhoe willis will preach in Salem M. E. Church, Fairlee, Sunday morning the pastor being absent on his vacation.

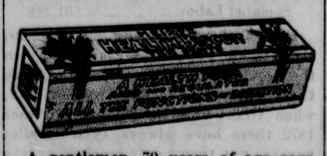
A PALATABLE LAXATIVE.

You can overcome your stomach and bowel troubles without drugs by eating 2 or 3 Heintz Health Biscuits each day for a short time.

Thousands, who have suffered from chronic cases of constipation and indigestion, owe their health to these wonderful biscuits. They are composed of selected cereals, oats, barley, wheat and rye, ground into meal, leaving all nutritive elements for building up of muscle bone, teeth and nerves, at the same time possessing laxative qualities.



A gentlemen, 70 years of age, says, "For a number of years, I was troubled with indigestion and constipation. My appetite was gone and I could hardly keep anything on my stomach. My doctors recommended your biscuits with the result that today I am enjoying my second youth. My friends are surprised at the change in my appearance."

They cost by 10c a package at your grocer. If he does not keep them, have him order them for you.
