A most melancholy accident occurred in is city on Sunday last, under the following rcumstances. It was sent to an apothe- ary, and the messenger received from him hat was afterwards discovered to be white recipitate of mercury, a most deadly poison.—The case is rendered still more aggravated om the fact that the patient refused to take he medicine until it had been sent back to the pothecary with a request that he would ex- mine the written prescription and the dose, which he did, and pronounced it correct. The medicine was taken, we regret to say, with the most fatal consequences. The patient died on Sunday, notwithstanding every effort to counteract the effects of the poison.—Balt. Amer.

EARTHQUAKE IN MEXICO.—Mexican papers to the 22d December, received by the New Orleans Bee, contain particulars of the late severe earthquakes with which that country has been visited. The Bee says: "Successive shocks of an earthquake have almost totally destroyed the town of Acapulco, while the gorgeous city of Mexico itself was subjected to a violent and prolonged shock; happily, however, in the latter instance no injury resulted. The details of the earthquake at Acapulco are frightful. Repeated shocks of extreme violence and devastation have nearly reduced the city to a mass of ruins. The houses were overturned, and dashed to fragments; the churches irreparably injuried, the walls of the Campo Santo destroyed, the whole city thrown into a state of deplorable consternation, and the inhabitants compelled to pass the night in the fields and roads adjacent to the town. When the morning dawned hundreds beheld themselves homeless and reduced to utter indigence. Fortunately for the safety of the citizens, the destruction occasioned by the shocks was so gradually, as to afford them time to save themselves; hence the loss of life was inconsiderable.

An eminent modern writer beautifully says, "the foundation of domestic happiness, is a faith in the virtue of woman, the foundation of political happiness is confidence in the integrity of men; the foundation of all happiness, temporal and eternal, is reliance on the goodness of God."

OBITUARY.

Departed this life on Saturday morning last 27th inst. JOHN BENNETT, Esq. in the 69th year of his age. We conceive it to be our duty (when an aged citizen, such as he was leaves us) to offer a few remarks in commemoration of his many virtues. He has left a most fond and affectionate wife, and four devoted grand children, to mourn their loss—as husband, father, master and friend, he was fond, affectionate, indulgent and firm. In all the various duties attendant upon a long course of public life, as well in the Legislative councils of the State, as in various other public situations, to which the voice of his fellow citizens properly called him, he was ever found, competent, prompt, and faithful to his trust. In his common intercourse with his fellow man, his manners were mild, retiring and unobtrusive, and he but seldom offered an opinion, touching their character, or course in life, and we may here with much truth, apply the words of the Royal Psalmist, "I said I will take heed to my way, that I sin not with my tongue; I will keep my mouth with a bridle, while the wicked is before me. In his last illness which was rather protracted, he evinced a perfect resignation to the Divine will and unshaken confidence in the merits of the Saviour's blood. Unbounded love and charity of feeling, was most peculiarly exemplified, in all his conversation and conduct for his friends and for the world at large—when interrogated, upon the subject of his departure, and the awful and tremendous change that was to pass upon him, he with a sweet and placid smile upon his countenance, observed, that he was happy and ready and willing to go, whenever it should please God to call him; and I have not a doubt but that he is now gone to reap that rich, and lasting inheritance, that God has in reversion for all those that love and serve Him.

"Blessed are the pure in heart, for they shall see God."

DIED

In this county on Tuesday last, after a short illness, JOHN P. SNEED, in the 20th year of his age.

In reflecting upon the death of this young man, it is a consolation to his relatives and friends, that his dying words afford them a lively hope, that their loss is his infinite gain, that he is now chaunting the praises of God, through the Saviour which redeemed him; where the wicked cease from troubling and the weary are forever at rest, though the flower has been nipped in its bud, yet it will bloom in the Paradise of God, forever and forever even for eternal ages, though the mortal part be wrapped within the narrow confines of the tomb; yet we trust that the soul is expanding in all the celestial graces of that bright world above. A friend who stood near asked him if he was willing to die, to which he replied yes, I am willing to die, I am going to Heaven, glory to God, Jesus has sought me I cannot tell why, Jesus has sought me I cannot tell why, and immediately expired—we firmly trust in the arms of his Saviour.

To all who haltowing grace obtain,
To live is Christ to die is gain,
And when I reach the prize,
And when the perfect day I see,
The life I live is Christ in me,
And death is Paradise.

To Timber Owners

ON THE EASTERN SHORE.

YOUR attention is invited to the business of Lumber making on a much cheaper and more convenient scale than ever before used or reduced to practice.

A SAW MILL,

from its peculiar construction, adapted to horse power, by which 2 horses are capable of sawing one thousand feet (board measure) in 10 hours. This Mill is calculated to be placed in the midst of the timber, and when all of the timber shall have been consumed the Mill can be moved and placed in the midst of other timber, and in a few days be prepared for business again. The Mill has no crank, but is a simple Rotary Saw with but four Bits; these Bits are inserted in the plate and when one set of Bits shall wear out other new Bits are replaced, and any good Blacksmith can make and put in these Bits. The saw plate will last an age. The entire cost of the Mill including the Patent will not exceed $650. The Patentee is now engaged in building a Mill at Tobacco Stick, Dorchester county, where he can be consulted until the 20th of January next, after which time he will return to his native State, (Georgia.)
