HOG CHOLERA.

In its success in preventing cholera and disease, Fairfield's Hog Tonic has accomplished more than any other single agent in saving the farmer from this former great source of loss. Hogs fatten more quickly under this treatment, and with this possibility of loss removed hog raising is now very profitable.

EGG PRODUCTION.

To make two dozen eggs grow where one dozen was produced before seems to be no difficult thing for Fairfield's Poultry Tonic. An iron clad guarantee protects every purchaser.

MR. OWEN SMITH SHOT

Forty Shot Picked From His Face, Throat and Shoulder—Will Lose Sight of Left Eye.

This community was shocked Tuesday to learn of the serious accident to Mr. Owen C. Smith, a former citizen of Kent, and a prominent druggist in Baltimore. Mr. Smith came over to Kent Monday to spend a few days with his brother, Dr. Frank W. Smith, at Fairlee. Tuesday morning he and Mr. Barclay Kilbourn went gunning in a thicket back of Herman Klein's, each taking opposite sides of the branch. A wookcock flew up, and thinking Mr. Smith was behind him, Mr. Kilbourn shot. Immediately he heard the wail of his friend, "You have shot me, Barclay!" Mr. Kilbourn tore through a wire fence and found Mr. Smith lying on the ground with his face peppered with shot, the shock having knocked him to the ground. The wounded man was carried to the home of Dr. Smith, who, together with Dr. H. G. Simpers, dressed the wounds and consulted a specialist by telephone.

Mr. Smith wore glasses which were broken into pieces, some of the latter imbedding itself in his right eye, but at this writing it is thought this eye will be saved. The ball of the left eye was penetrated by shot and the physicians think the sight of it will be lost. There were forty shot taken from his cheek, throat, chest and shoulder.

The wounded man was carried to Baltimore Wednesday and is under the care of specialists who report his condition as well as can be expected. Mr. Smith, before he left, called his friend to his side and grasping his hand said he forgave him and did not feel other than kindly toward him.

Mr. Kilbourn is greatly worried over the accident and is leaving nothing undone to relieve his friend's suffering.

The little five-year-old daughter of Mr. Owen C. Smith fell from a tree last week and broke her left limb. She is at the home of her uncle, Mr. C. S. Smith, on Washington avenue.

KILLED BY TRAIN.

Mail Carrier William G. Parsons Meets With a Horrible Death at Worton Station.

Mr. William G. Parsons, rural mail carrier from Worton Station, drove to the postoffice Saturday morning and left his team in front of Mr. Ivens' store while he went over to the depot to await the local passenger train. As the train approached the station the horse took fright and Mr. Parsons, intent upon getting to it, tried to cross the track immediately in front of the oncoming train. All would have been well had he not have stumbled and fell sprawling on the track. The locomotive, tender and baggage car passed over the young man severing, or nearly so, both legs, crushing his arms and lacerating his body. Neither Engineer Reed or Mr. Boggs saw the young man but felt the jolt as the train struck him.

The unfortunate man was placed in the baggage car and hurried to Chestertown where the Pennsylvania Railroad surgeons, Dr. W. Frank Hines and Dr. Frank B. Hines, gave immediate attention but the injuries were fatal and death ensued an hour after the accident. Coroner Greenwood viewed the remains but deemed an inquest unnecessary.

The deceased was about 30 years old, a son of Mr. Harrison I. Parsons and a man of fine character. The witnesses to his horrible death paled with anguish at the awful sight while the sympathy of the whole community goes out to the bereaved. He is survived by a widow, who was before marriage Miss Jennie Bacon, of Camden, New Jersey. Funeral services were held Monday afternoon from his late residence at Worton, conducted by Rev. Mr. Morris, pastor of St. James Church; interment in Chester Cemetery. Undertaker W. H. Krusen had charge of funeral arrangements and the pall bearers were: Harry Parsons, Lewin Parsons, Edgar Beck, Elwood Morris, Fletcher Clark and Hugh Wallis.
