SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 13, 1909.

ONE of the Somerset County farmers received a letter last week from a man who said that thirty years ago, when a school boy, he had been in the habit of taking berries and other fruit from the farmer without leave and that he was now enclosing conscience money to pay for same. The enclosure was ten cents. Truckers and farmers in this section who have been troubled by the depredations of boys and others should feel encouraged over this incident, as it indicates that they may eventually receive payment for the fruits, turnips, watermelons and other good things that have mysteriously disappeared from their fields in time past, but it is a mighty small boy who can eat only ten cents' worth.

New Steamboat Line.—A report is current to the effect that steamers will be run between Lewes, Del., and Cape May, N. J., in the spring to carry passengers and freight between the two points. It is thought if the line is put into operation it will be the means of diverting considerable travel over the Pennsylvania which is now going to Baltimore and that it will mean that much of it will be sent to Philadelphia by the proposed route which will be much shorter and also much cheaper.

Will Remain Dry.—Townsend, Delaware, the nearest town to "dry" territory, will continue to be a temperance town for another year at least, Reuben Warran who had applied for a hotel license there, having withdrawn his application in open court in Wilmington, last Saturday. A license for the hotel there was refused one year ago, since which time two applications have been made for a new license but neither have proved successful. Mr. Warren's application to the present term of court was met by numerous remonstrances, and rather than have the license refused, Mr. Warren withdrew the application.

A SHOE FACTORY PROPOSED

The following letter has been received by the NEWS from our former fellow townsman and energetic citizen who still takes an interest here and is anxious to see the place prosper:

Mr. Jos. W. Thompson, Philadelphia, Pa.

Dear Sirs:—Replying to yours of January 27th 1909, in reference to starting a shoe factory at Chestertown, Md., it will require a cash subscription of $25,000, a building 40x100 ft. (2) story and a 50 horse power boiler and engine to manufacture a special line of shoes, will employ about 100 hands male and female. I will furnish the trade and machinery if these conditions can be complied with, will then avail myself of your offer to visit Chestertown, Md.

I wish to state further that a company will be organized, and stocks or bonds be issued for the capital and building that will be subscribed.

Awaiting yours respectfully,

GEORGE PFAU,
208 Central Trust Bldg., 4th and Market Sts.,
Philadelphia, Pa.

Capt. Thompson in his letter to the NEWS explains as follows:

"Please find enclosed letter from Mr. Geo. Pfau which will explain itself. Should your board of trade be interested I would take pleasure in giving any assistance in my power to start the plant. With my coal customers in New England, I know of very large firms that would more or less be interested in taking stock in same, provided your citizens would not care to take it all. You could have your own board of managers to govern the plant. I know very little at this writing of Mr. Pfau, but his firm is well known as sales in wholesale markets. This or a plant something like it, would give your town a bouyant start in manufacturing plants, from which other business might follow."

BEFORE THE MAGISTRATE

Leases Running For More Than Seven Years Must Be Recorded.

A case that is of great interest to many farmers and tenants generally has just been decided by Justice Gilpin, of Elkton. Recently Dr. E. N. Crawford, of Cecilton, brought suit against William G. Jones to compel him to vacate a farm in the First District, which he, Crawford, recently purchased. Jones produced a ten-year lease, which still had several years to run before expiration. Dr. Crawford acknowledged that he drew up the lease when another party owned the farm, but claimed that it was now void because it had never been recorded. Justice Gilpin rendered a decision favorable to Crawford, declaring that a lease to be effective must be recorded if it runs for more than seven years.

A suit brought by Miss Ada L. Lockwood against Wilbur F. Wooleyhan, formerly tenant of Miss Lockwood's farm in the First district, for $100 for wood cut and hay hauled off the farm, was heard before Justice Gilpin, of Elkton, during the past week. The evidence showed that the hay hauled away was less than the amount hauled to the farm when Mr. Wooleyhan went there, four years ago, and that the trees cut were for fencing, shedding, etc., on the farm except some dead timber that the tenant had been given the privilege of using. The Magistrate rendered a decision for the defendant, Mr. Wooleyhan.
