FRUIT PROSPECTS.

Peaches on Water Course Unhurt—Straw-Berries All Right And Selling For Six Cents Per Quart.

Hon. James S. Harris, of near Still Pond, one of the best authorities on fruit on the peninsula, stated to the NEWS man Monday that fruit along the bay and water courses was all right. This does not mean that all varieties are unhurt, but if nothing happens from this time there will be plenty of peaches. Mr. B. F. Rash, another good authority, agreed with Mr. Harris and said that he finds inland peach buds hurt.

The Denton Journal says:

"The cold weather did no material damage to fruit buds until Saturday and Sunday nights last, when the very low temperature, which in some instances formed ice more than an inch thick, killed nearly all the peach buds. Messrs. Thomas L. Day, J. W. Kerr, F. B. Russell and William H. Beauchamp made examinations early in the week, and they unite in saying that the peach buds are destroyed. Apples, pears and other fruits are seriously hurt. The fruit crop this year will likely be very meagre."

This same report comes from Delaware. Strawberries promise to be plentiful and buyers from northern markets are now on the Peninsula contracting at 6 cents per quart.

Mr. Bartus Trew, of Quaker Neck, says there will be no peaches.

SASSAFRAS ITEMS.

Rev. C. M. Cullum has returned from Conference and filled his charge in the M. P. Rehoboth Church on Sunday morning to a large and well pleased congregation.

Mr. and Mrs. John F. Ernest entertained her sister, Mr. and Mrs. John R. H. Price and their son Hazel for the day on Sunday.

We are all pleased to learn that Mr. Augustus Dreka, who will be 92 years old in June, is so much improved in health that he is able to do some gardening. Mr. Dreka always used to have a fine garden here and was so fond of out of doors employment. He now lives with his daughter, Mrs. Eva Kilkoft, at Washington, D. C., formerly of Florida.

Rev. Frank Cliff filled the pulpit on Sunday morning in the M. P. Rehoboth Church and preached a fine sermon to a delightful congregation. Rev. Frank Cliff will now have charge of a church at Concord, Penna.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert S. Griffith entertained her nieces, Misses Mabel and Ruth Hirons, of Wilmington, and Miss Anna Howarth of Chester, Pa., from Saturday until Monday morning.

We are pleased to state Mrs. I. Calhoun is improving and we trust she will soon be restored to health.

Rev. and Mrs. Frank Cliff visited his mother, Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Staats several days the past week.

Mrs. Rachel Stradley who has been so ill left on Monday morning to visit her sister, Mr. and Mrs. George Murry, of Sharon Hill, Pa., to recuperate in health.

Mr. J. Paul Rosin is visiting his parents here for this week owing to a cold.

We are very sorry to learn that Mrs. Jesse Hartley is lying seriously ill with no hope of recovery at her home in Wilmington. Mrs. Hartley is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cummings Brice, near Sassafras, and was born and lived all of her young happy life here.

St. Stephens M. E. Church at Earleville was reopened on Sunday, Easter morning for services and special music was rendered by the choir.

A new addition to the line. The best of leather, workmanship and fittings is put into "The Tailor Made." The pride of Dolly Madison. Retailing at $4.00. For sale at representative shoe stores.

ROCK HALL NOTES.

Capt. J. E. Apsley reports his wife, who has been in the hospital for several weeks as getting along very nicely but will be retained in the hospital for six or eight weeks longer.

Mrs. Capt. G. T. Sewell who has been in the hospital five weeks has so far recovered as to be able to leave the institution this week, but she will remain in the city with friends for the next two weeks on advice of the attending physician so as to be near for further treatment if her case demands it.

Mr. Wm. T. Harrison has been very ill the past week under the efficient attention of Dr. Selby. She is now somewhat improved.

The oyster season closes with to-day and because of the very low prices and extreme blusteryness of March and April weather, the catchers and buyers are glad the end has come. Great quantities of oysters have been taken from our bars and still the bars are richly spread with oysters, more so than for many years. The house boat Oyster has been in our harbor for a week. The crew under direction of the Shell Fish Commission are making full preparations for a survey of the oyster grounds. They have erected a tower on Swan Point.

Mr. Preston Smith, a member of the crew of one of the Standard Oil Co's. launches in Baltimore harbor, spent over Sunday here with his parents.

Mr. Willis Durding, of Baltimore, paid his parents here a visit during the past week.

Messrs. Legg and Crouch, of Quaker Neck, made a flying visit among relatives and friends here on Sunday.

Miss Daisy M. Ryan is spending this week among friends in Quaker Neck.

Mr. T. Romie Strong, of Baltimore, was entertained by his relatives here the past week. Barring a cough the grip has left him, he appears in good health. Mr. Romie is interested in the coming contest of political candidates, and says if there were not so many years on his back he wouldn't mind giving some Legislative aspirants a bout for the honor.

Mr. W. W. Clayton is in Frostburg this week as a representative of the Jr. O. U. A. M. of this place. He promises a red hot effort on his return to land the Sheriffalty nomination.

The shad fishing here is almost a failure. Some of the fishermen have gone up the bay to finish up the season. Others have cut out. Crabs and alewives have been very annoying to netters, and prices this week have been very low.

The Odd Fellows held their 81st Annual Convention in Baltimore this week which was one of the most pleasurable and successful in many years. A number of Kent's Odd Fellows were in attendance. Mr. J. W. Chapman, Sr. gave an interesting talk on the Grand Lodge floor on Monday night and received in return loud and long applause, and J. W. Chapman, Jr. electrified the Grand Lodge assembly on Tuesday night with a brilliant address. The demonstration of cheer after the delivery of Mr. C's address was so great that Mr. Chapman, Sr. could scarcely keep his feelings under control. He made an effort to reach his son, but the jam of members was too much for him and he gave up.

Mr. Harry Bogle died Tuesday in a Baltimore Hospital after a long illness. He was a brother to Mr. Newton S. Bogle, of Eastern Neck Island, and a citizen whom all respected and admired.
