Rev. James Earle Maloy, of Colora, Md., was conferred an honor besides that of being elected Chaplain of the Senate—one which he instituted at the present inauguration of the Governor, and which will no doubt be copied—that of offering prayer at the completion of the act of taking the oath of Governorship. It was a rare honor of being selected from the hundreds of ministers in the State to invoke a blessing on the incoming and outgoing Governors, and is only a fitting reward for this "Grand Old Man of Maryland's" honorable service in the ministry, which extends over a period of fifty-five years.

The annual election of officers for Christ M. P. Sunday-school, Chestertown, was held on Sunday and the following named:

Superintendent—Fred. G. Usilton.
Assistant—Thomas D. Bowers.
Treasurer—Miss Hattie L. Bacchus.
Secretary—Charles N. Satterfield.
Pianist—Miss Anna Smyth.
Assistant—Miss Marghuerita Dodd.
Librarians—Joseph N. Wheatley William A. Wheatley, Jr., and Charles F. Wheatley.
Superintendent Primary Department—Mrs. A. M. Bowers; assistant, Mrs. T. D. Bowers.

The missionary offering amounted to over $15, the class taught by W. W. Hubbard and J. F. Wheatley winning the banner, which was awarded by Dr. F. T. Little. The Christian Workers meeting was led by Miss Marghuerita Dodd, a feature of which was a duet by Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Thompson.

Notwithstanding the zero weather of last Sunday the temperature in the St James M. P. Church was about 70°, so no one need remain away from this church on account of having to sit in a cold room.

ROCK HALL NOTES.

Mr. L. C. Ayres, of Gresham, Hall, has been laid up for about six weeks and is now in a critical condition from the effects of rheumatism. The only ease he can get is by lying on his back.

The ladies Lodge of the degree of Rebekah I. O. O. F. will give an entertainment in Durding's Hall on Thursday evening next, the 25th inst, for the benefit of Rock Hall Rebekah Lodge No. 30. A fine program will be rendered.

Capt. J. E. Apsley visited the hospital where his daughter, Miss Lydia, is undergoing treatment, the past week. He then went to the Quaker City to visit his son, Edgar H. Apsley and family.

Mr. Samuel Joiner was taken seriously ill with pleurisy last week, but is now much improved.

There was considerable disappointment here last Saturday because of the non-arrival of the greater bulk of the daily papers. Mrs. Addie Satterfield, our energetic newsdealer, had her sleigh geared up and drove the 14 miles to Chestertown on Sunday morn, got her several bundles of dailies and other papers and was back here by noon, delivering to her regular patrons, besides supply all comers. The papers went like hot cakes when it became fully known that she accomplished the trick.

The severity of the winter is getting on the nerves of not a few in this section. Merchants are getting short on some staple commodities. Prices on some necessities are climbing on the high side, not because of any greedy propensity of our local merchants but because of the ones higher up.

While sleighing is fine and hugely enjoyed by many, but among the sleighing parties nightly there are sports who have no respect for pedestrians. They rush three teams abreast at top speed, and everybody must side-step no matter where they be or be run down. As a consequence clubs and canes are carried as a means of protection, Officer Culley keeps his weather eye on the alert in hopes of catching the rowdies dead to right, but they have their weather eyes on Culley, thus they escape detection so far as the bailiff is concerned. If the law abiding citizens would get on the job with the officer, these wild cat doings by those not of us would soon stop.

Capt. Henry Smith's vessel, deeply loaded with oysters still lies in Grey's Inn Creek, where the freeze caught him. He has been endeavoring to get a tug from the city to come down and cut him out. The ice, however, is too much for the average tug boat.

The Davis Bros. are also caught in Rock Hall harbor with the schooner loaded with oysters.

Ice harvest is on this week and the crop is fine.

An "old field hamshaw" on Tuesday tried to cap the climax for a full-fledged blizzard by drifting and piling up the snow and thus pen us in from all intercourse with the outside world, but it made a failure of it, thanks.

Mr. M. L. Maslin slaughtered his pen of fattening hogs last week. They averaged about 300 pounds in weight.

One of the prettiest and happiest events of the season was the marriage of Mr. George Carroll and Miss Elizabeth Saunders, at the home of the bride's mother on Tuesday evening. The bride is one of the most popular and charming young ladies of this section and a host of friends extend congratulations and best wishes for a life of one long sweet song.

The fishermen of this place who are camping down on Love Point are making visits to their homes by traveling over the ice to and fro.

It was reported Wednesday that two men were seen crossing the river from E. N. Island to Love Point when one of them suddenly disappeared, while the other continued on to the Point. No particulars are known here.

Revival services which began at the M. E. Church last week has been discontinued by the cold weather. Years ago such could not be said about revival meetings. They would begin with watch night meeting and continue some years until the return of the pastor from the Annual Conference. The church would be filled each night, people traveling through and over snow drifts from 4 to 8 feet. But, say some, old time religion was alright in its day, but it is not in order these days. Time advances and religion must keep up with the times. Alas! whither are we drifting?

In the racing contest on the Gratitude road on Wednesday, B. H. Coburn's Kentworth won over all competitors with flying colors. About a dozen horses were in the contest.

FOUR fishing boats commanded by Captain Thomas, Captain Carter and others have arrived at Kent Point from Rock Hall, and are now located in Bloody Point creek, on the shore of Mr.

STILL POND UNFROZEN.

Bitter Weather Fails to Affect Eastern Shore Mystery.

In the upper part of this county, about half a mile from Betterton, is situated a famous little sheet of water, from which the town of Still Pond gets its name.

It is located on a farm owned by Rev. W. F. Cotton, a colored preacher, at a village known as Colemans. This pond is so called because there never has been seen a ripple upon its surface, no matter how hard the wind blows, nor has its surface ever been coated with ice. Sunday morning, with the mercury 6° below zero, not a particle of ice was to be seen.

Another interesting fact about this body of water is that, although only about 20 feet across in any direction, it has never been fathomed.

Still Pond, one of the mysteries of the Eastern Shore, was an object of veneration among the Indians of the Peninsula. So deep as never to be sounded, they believed its waters ran down in the earth to supply the happy hunting grounds of their dead. Long before the first European settler had set foot upon the shores of the Chesapeake, the Indians from all parts of the Peninsula once a year during the full moon of September assemble by the side of the pond to worship the Manitou and to pray for the return of their mighty chief, who had they believed, fallen into the water and sunk from their sight.

STILL POND ITEMS.

Rev. J. H. Beauchamp visited Wilmington last week.

Mrs. Kate Megee has returned after a visit to friends in Middletown.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Weist, of Millington, visited our town Tuesday.

Mrs. Joseph Bowers spent a few days of the past week with Mrs. Leonard Price.

Sleighing is good and the children have been enjoying the sledding and skating.

Rev. J. H. Beauchamp being absent Sunday morning his place was filled by Rev. Clifton Owens, of Betterton, who gave a good talk.

The cold in our town has been extreme. Some thermometers in our town registering as low as 6° below zero and that's some cold too.

Uncle George Sewell, an old respected colored man, died in our town Tuesday morning. Uncle George will be missed as he was a good gardner.

Bell & Barter, of Baltimore, has purchased of Isaac Robinson the Rosedale cannery. I will be put in first-class condition and operated this fall.

The Heptasophs met at Wm. Krusen's office Wednesday night and elected new officers. The lodge has been in existence for twelve years and not a member has died.

The Still Pond Farmers' Club met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Redding. Although the weather was very cold a large number was present. Mr. James S. Harris gave a very interesting talk about the horticultural meeting in Baltimore. Among those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Arthur L. Harris, Mr. and Mrs. James S. Harris, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Cornelius, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel G. Roseberry, Mr. and Mrs. J. Leonard Price, Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. Hill, Mr. and Mrs. William B. Price, Mrs. William Money, Mrs. John Bennett, Mrs. John Walls, Mrs. Reddicord, Mrs. Crew, Capt. Hill, Mr. John Price, Misses Bertha and Alta Price.

KENNEDYVILLE NOTES.

Services for the M. P. Church next Sunday, as follows: 9.30 Sunday school; 10.30 a. m., Sermon by the pastor; 2.30 p. m., Junior C. E. Society; 7 p. m., Song Service and sermon. All most cordially invited.

The following delegates were elected to attend the Pomona Grange meeting at Still Pond, Thursday the 18th: J. W. Kendall, J. C. Redmile, Mrs. J. W. Kendall, Tilghman Shafer, R. R. Hill, and H. S. Redmile. All past masters and their wives with the present past master are members by virtue of their office.

The extreme cold weather for the past week or more has caused a large consumption of coal in our midst. Our thermometers have registered from four to eight degrees below zero. Saturday night was the coldest of all. Many have had trouble with frozen pumps, and it has kept the creamery proprietors busy looking after the boilers and water pipes to prevent bursting by the severe cold. Those who have ice houses have gotten a good supply of superior ice. People were sleigh riding to church on Sunday. The sleighing is best on the state road. The weather prophets still prognosticate cold waves. Sunday was a test day for the new heating plant of the M. P. Church, when it did good service.

A large amount of business was transacted in our Grange meeting on Monday evening, with a goodly number present for so cold a night. Mrs. Tilghman Shafer, chairman of the special committee on the death of Mrs Samuel J. Comly, beloved wife of the ex-worthy secretary of our Grange, read a most excellent and highly appreciated paper of preamble and resolutions, giving expressions of deep sympathy and heartfelt condolence in the time of great sorrow. The paper was unanimously adopted by the order. The following officers thus completing the list were installed by Past Master, John Bennett: Miss Emma Shafer, Lecturer; Elias Othoson, Steward; Mrs. Robert Wallis Ceres; Mrs. J. W. Kendall, Pomona; and Mrs. Webster Hill, Flora. Mrs. Dr. J. W. Urie appointed Asst. Lecturer.

ON Saturday evening, the 27th, Miss Ola Bidwell will give one of her delight-

RATS COST KENT ABOUT $50,000

The Pomona Grange at Still Pond Have Good Meeting—New Subjects Are Discussed.

The meeting of the Pomona Grange at Still Pond on Thursday last was a big success. About 100 persons were present. Mr. Edward Corey was in the chair as master. A new subject discussed was concerning the ravages of rats. It was asserted that rats cause a damage of from $25,000 to $50,000 a year to the people of Kent county. It was decided to appeal to the county commissioners to place a premium on all rats killed Rev. S. S. Hepbron, Jas. S. Harris and Harry Griffith were appointed a committee to see the county commissioners about this matter. The Grange also decided to try and get the State to appoint a State Agent for Granges, located in Baltimore, who will look after the sale of produce and purchase supplies for the State Granges.

A splendid luncheon was served by the members of Still Pond Grange.

The afternoon session was public. Mr. Wm. G. Smyth, of Fairlee, installed Master Harry Griffith and the other officers. A fine literary program was carried out under the direction of Mr. W. G. Smyth. The Grange will hold its next meeting at Fairlee on the first Thursday in April.

WEDDING BELLS

ANDERSON—MEREDITH

Miss Bertha Meredith, daughter of Mr. J. E. Meredith, and Mr. Lewis Anderson were married Wednesday at the M. E. parsonage, in Church Hill. The pastor, Rev. E. H. Derrickson, performed the ceremony.

RYLAND—SOLLOWAY

Miss Ella Solloway, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William T. Solloway, of Crumpton, and Mr. George Ryland, of the firm of West & Ryland, of Centreville, were quietly married in Philadelphia Wednesday afternoon last. The bride, accompanied by Miss Ethel Ryland, sister of the groom, was met at Millington Wednesday by the groom, who was accompanied by his nephew, Mr. Howard Ryland. At Millington the party took the morning train for Philadelphia, and the wedding took place a few hours after their arrival in that city. Mr. and Mrs. Ryland returned to Centreville last Friday evening. They will reside on South Commerce street.

Mr. Henry Rasin and Miss Clara Cooper were married at St. James M. P. parsonage on Wednesday morning last by Rev. G. A. Morris. Mr. Rasin is a son of Mr. P. B. Rasin while the bride is the accomplished daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Cooper of Worton.

CARROLL—SAUNDERS.

A very pretty home wedding was solemnized Tuesday evening, January 16, at the home of Mrs. Mary E. Saunders, when her only daughter, Miss Elizabeth Saunders, became the bride of Mr. Geo. A. Carroll. The ring ceremony used was performed by Rev. E. P. Dupuy, in the parlor, at 7.30., in the presence of their many friends. Mrs. Elwood Burgess played the wedding march, and during the ceremony she sweetly rendered "Blest Be the Tie."

The bride was becomingly attired in a pearl traveling suit, with hat and gloves to match; the groom wore the conventional black. After the two hearts had been joined together as one and they had received congratulations, a sumptuous supper was served, consisting of all the delicacies of the season. They will be at home to their many friends on the Wm. G. Smyth farm, near Rock Hall, where the groom is engaged in farming. They received many costly and useful presents, consisting of wall pictures, floor rugs, silver, china, table linen, bed linen, glassware, ornaments, and a very handsome clock from the bride's brother. The bride and groom have the best wishes of their many friends for a long and happy wedded life.

A Worthy Charity.—The tea to be given at the home of Mrs. Curtis E. Crane in Chestertown next Thursday is for a most worthy charity—the Fresh Air Cottage for Mothers and Children at Claiborne, Md. The managers are Mrs. T. W. Eliason, Mrs. W. W. Hubbard, Mrs. J. D. Bacchus, Mrs. Joseph A Wickes, Mrs. H. B. Simmons, Mrs. James A. Pearce, Mrs. Curtis E. Crane and Miss Rebecca Wickes.

Sail Blazes In Harbor.—Fire which started in the cabin of the oyster pungy Wave, Captain Crouch, of Kent, frozen in at the dock of C. L. Applegarth & Co., oyster packers, last Wednesday night at the foot of Webster street, damaged the vessel to the extent of $500 before members of No. 17 Engine Company arrived on the scene.

The origin of the fire is unknown. No one was aboard the vessel at the time. At 9 o'clock a boy passing the dock saw smoke pouring from the cabin and informed Edward C. Lentz, 1131 William street, watchman in the packing house. He gave the alarm.

The blaze quickly spread to the mainsail, which was furled. The sail was raised so as to give the firemen a better opportunity to fight the flames, which burned brilliantly, lighting up the harbor for some minutes.

DEATH'S DOINGS.

Mr. Israel Woodring, father of Mrs. Owen B. Crow, died at his home near Church Hill early Sunday morning, aged 72. He was a prominent citizen of Queen Anne's and active in its progress up to his death. The funeral took place Tuesday.

Mary Elizabeth, the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Rash, of near Lynch, died Sunday afternoon at three o'clock, aged 11 years and 6 months, of tuberculous meningitis. Her death is like the removal of sunshine from the home for she was joy and pride of both parents and beloved by all who came into contact with her. Surely the Master has plucked the fairest flower from His garden of roses. Funeral services took place Wednesday from her late home at 1 o'clock, Rev. J. H. Beauchamp officiating. The bearers were Willard Dodson, Walter Ivens, Clarence Ford, Elon Beauchamp, Howard Thompson and Elwyn Ford; interment in Chester cemetery; Undertaker, W. H. Krusen.

A splendid obituary by her teacher is in hand and will appear next week, arriving too late for this issue.

Mr. John H. Whitney died at the county home near town Friday, aged 80. He was a well-known shoemaker.

Augustus L. Usilton, aged 73 years, after a long illness in which he suffered total blindness, died Friday morning at his home at West Collingswood, N.J. He was a contractor and builder. Mr. Usilton was a Civil War veteran, having enlisted in a Pennsylvania regiment and served in a number of campaigns. He was a brother of Lieutenant Edward Usilton, who lives in Philadelphia. At the time the Civil War broke out his family lived in Maryland, and several of its members joined the Confederate ranks. Mr. Usilton is survived by his widow, two sons and a daughter. Mrs. Usilton has been in bed for eight months and is now quite sick.
