The Centreville National Bank

OF MARYLAND,

has opened a

SAVINGS DEPARTMENT

to be operated in connection with the general banking business of the institution.

The terms of this department are similar to those of Saving banks generally, and the rules and regulations adopted have been approved by the Comptroller of the Currency.

The advantages of a regular Savings Bank are thus afforded to the community, and deposits are respectfully solicited.

To persons trying to save up their money little by little, lodges, societies, etc., this Department will be just the thing.

Inquire at the Bank for terms or write to the cashier. By order of the Board of Directors. J. FLETCHER ROLPH, Cashier.

of Black Draught Stock and Poultry Medicine and it will pay for itself ten times over. Horses work better. Cows give more milk. Hogs gain flesh. And hens lay more eggs. It solves the problem of making as much blood, flesh and energy as possible out of the smallest amount of food consumed. Buy a can from your dealer.

Eugene Field's

Views on Ambition and Dyspepsia.

"Dyspepsia," wrote Eugene Field, "often incapacitates a man for endeavor and sometimes extinguishes the fire of ambition." Though great despite his complaint Field suffered from indigestion all his life. A weak, tired stomach can't digest your food. It needs rest. You can only rest it by the use of a preparation like Kodol, which relieves it of work by digesting your food. Rest soon restores it to its normal tone.

Strengthening, Satisfying, Envigorating.

Mrs. Enpeck (reading from a novel)—"And so they were married and lived happily ever after that." Now what do you think of that?

Mr. Enpeck—I think they must have secured a divorce right away.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Happy Future Promised.

She—It seems almost impossible that you should love me.

He—That's what my mother says. How nicely you and she will get along if you always agree like that!—Tit-Bits.

Very Unpopular.

Mrs. De Style—The papers say that our minister is to be tried for heresy.

Mrs. Taylor-Maide—He ought to be. Only last Sunday he said Heaven is a place where fashions never change.—N. Y. Weekly.

Sight Enlarged.

Landlady—You did not wear glasses when you first came here. Why do you wear them now?

Boarder—I want to make the food look as large as possible.—N. Y. Herald.

Thought He Could Manage That.

Confidential Friend—Your physician prescribes rest, yet here you are, running for office.

Aspiring Politician—That's all right. Let the people give me the office and I'll do the rest.—Chicago Tribune.

Sensible Suggestion.

Von Blumer—Where's my wife?

Dimpleton—She's in the next room talking with my wife about clothes.

Von Blumer—Well, then, suppose we go and spend the evening somewhere together.—Town Topics.

The Consequence.

Pat—Here's a mon committed suicide.

Mike—Poor felly, he'll probably regret it the rist of his loife.—N. Y. Herald.

Gratitude Among Girls.

Mildred—I should so like to do something that would please Gertrude. She's been so kind to me.

Joliet Joe—Naw! I tried ter swipe a automobile an' de blame ting run away wit me.—N. Y. Herald.

Just What He Wanted.

Mrs. Von Blumer—What sort of a hostess does Mrs. Caterby make?

Von Blumer—Splendid. She made me feel as if I wasn't at home.—Life.

"but that's just how it was with the gold brick I bought. The edges were fine, but the inside was a delusion and a snare."—Washington Star.

What Interested Him.

"This town," said the western boomer, "was practically built in a day. We do things in a hurry out here."

"No doubt," replied the man from the east, "but I am more interested in receiving some assurance that it will not disappear in a day."—Chicago Post.

Popular Fiction.

Teacher—What are you reading, Willie?

Willie—It's a historical novel.

Teacher—What is the name of it?"

Willie—"The Adventures of Jesse James."—Chicago American.

At the Automobile Show.

Mrs. Chatterton—Well, I have got to go back to horses and a coachman.

Mrs. Perfume—Indeed?

Mrs. Chatterton—Yes! Our chauffeur is so high-toned he won't associate with our cook!—N. Y. Times.

She Was a Prize.

"Are you familiar with Dante, Miss Kittish?" asked Mr. Tredway.

"No; but I can make pumpkin pie that fairly melts in your mouth."

"Will you marry me?" asked the young man eagerly?"—Puck.

Wise Observer Talks.

"Very often at a wedding ceremony the bride at the altar cannot be heard," remarked the Observer of Events and Things; "but when she gets home it isn't long before she makes herself understood."—Yonkers Statesman.

Getting Evidence.

"She seems to be a mighty suspicious woman."

"The worst ever. She had a camera concealed in the flowers at her wedding and had a photograph made during the ceremony."—Brooklyn Life.

Those Loving Girls.

Edyth—Yes, I have decided to marry Jack for the purpose of reforming him.

Mayme—Poor fellow! Is he really in need of such heroic treatment?—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Quite Another Thing.

"He was unable to meet his bills, I understand?"

"Well, that's where you're wrong. He couldn't dodge them."—Chicago Post.

So Sudden!

Mr. Dumhead—Nelson was coming to call, but I told him you would be engaged this evening—

Miss Olemade (rapturously)—Oh, William!—Princeton Tiger.
