ALBERT CONSTABLE, JR., ESQ., of Elkton, visited Chestertown Tuesday and was delighted with the warm reception given him. He is very busy and regretted that he could not meet more people.

POOR Teddy seems to be learning a wholesome lesson and Wm. J. Bryan is enjoying the fun more than even Taft. Teddy lost New York and Indiana this week.

THE charges of attempted bribery at Annapolis have stirred the people of Maryland the past week, and the Committee appointed by the Speaker of the House has found that there were grounds for the charges, and the Grand Jury of Anne Arundel county will investigate. Isn't it a shameful business that has to be perpetuated in any such way?

THE Road Engineer of Kent county, after receiving reports from damage done to roads and bridges by the great flood of Friday week, estimates it will cost at least $5,000 to repair the loss. The law, in contemplation of such extraordinary expenditure, provided that the County Commissioners may levy an additional sum to defray said expense. Therefore Mr. Isaac Gibbs, Jr., respectfully asked the Board for $3,000 additional to help pay the expense, guaranteeing to supply the balance from the usual levy. The Board refused the request at the time, advising that he go ahead and do the best he could with the money in hand. It is inferred from this that the Board will later give the matter serious consideration. The NEWS would advise that the Commissioners watch these expenditures so that they will be in position to vote on the question of additional funds. There is no question that there has been extraordinary washouts and great damage to bridges and if more money is needed to make traveling safer it is the duty of the Commissioners to levy for same. An accident on road and resulting damages might cost double the sum required to repair the road or bridge. We are confident the Commissioners will act wisely, as well as economically.

THE JUDGESHIP CAMPAIGN.

The fight for the Democratic nomination for Chief Judge of the Second Judicial Circuit to succeed Judge James Alfred Pearce, whose term expires next November, has narrowed down to State's Attorney Albert Constable, Jr., of Cecil county, and Associate Judge William H. Adkins, of Talbot county. The nomination under the new Primary Election law will be made by the direct voting system May 6th. The circuit is composed of Cecil, Caroline, Talbot, Kent and Queen Anne's counties.

The voters of Kent will on this occasion have the opportunity to rise above petty factional lines and vote for a candidate who belongs to neither faction—ALBERT CONSTABLE, JR. A man thoroughly competent and specially well-fitted for the position. A lawyer of recognized ability, a fluent speaker, dignified in his bearing, mature age, careful and impartial in forming his opinions.

Mr. Constable is at present States Attorney for Cecil county, having recently been re-elected by over 500 majority to that office. He is one of the ablest young members of the Elkton Bar. He is 41 years of age and has been practicing law for over 17 years and having figured in a number of very important cases. His father was the late Albert Constable and he is a grandson of the late Judge Albert Constable and Ex-Gov. Groome.

He has the united endorsement of Cecil county which means at least 1800 majority, while in the other counties he has a large following. The volume of legal business in that county is larger than that of any other in the Circuit.

Judge Adkins is personally popular with the NEWS editors, with the bar and with many of Kent's people, but the fact that his nomination would mean a Republican judge to succeed him at least for a year and possibly for 15 years is enough to make every voter stop and consider the serious consequences. Of course Judge Adkins would resign as Associate Judge in the event of his nomination and election as Chief Judge leaving a vacancy for associate which would be filled by Governor Goldsborough. The Governor would likely name one of these men, Wm. H. Warburton, John D. Urie, or Albert Towers, who would serve for a year. Then would come another scramble and fight for nomination for associate judge among the Democrats, while the Republicans would have their man on the bench making friends and nominated by their party without a contest. The election would follow with the result in doubt.

The nomination of ALBERT CONSTABLE,

"THAT MAN ANDERSON."

All persons in Maryland who read newspapers and many who do not have heard of Mr. William H. Anderson, the Superintendent of the Anti Saloon League of Maryland, who is generally spoken of in liquor and political circles as "that man Anderson." He has a good assistant in J. Bibb Mills, Esq., well-known in Kent.

Mr. Anderson has the distinction of having more liquor men working overtime to abuse him and more good people ready to fight for him than any other man in Maryland. He has been accused of about everthing else, but nobody has called him a fool or a coward or intimated that he did not earn his salary of $3500.

Until he came the liquor men had their own way. They had permitted some counties to go dry in order to save trouble, expecting to ship liquor in from Baltimore, but they held Baltimore and the state as a whole by the throat. Maryland, permeated with the temperance sentiment of the South, was in the class with Pennsylvania, Rhode Island and Nevada in having no general local option law.

We do not endorse all of Mr. Anderson's methods by long odds, and think he would have accomplished more by less bull dozing tactics, but it takes just such a man as he to thwart the efforts of the liquor gang. These are times when good citizens should stand firm for right and uphold the effort being made to root out this the greatest of evils.

MUST TELL TO VOTE.

Voters in Coming Primary Who Decline to State Party Affiliation May Not be Permitted to Vote.

The supervisors of election met on Tuesday to begin preparations for the primary election to be held on May 6th, and appointed clerks, as announced last week, to copy the names of all registered voters in the county into the new books provided by the recent act of the General Assembly. This work began at once.

As required by law, the new books have spaces for use at both the primary and general elections, and also a column in which the voter's party affiliation shall be marked. This affiliation clause provides that the voter shall be questioned on the day of the primary and the party to which he belongs will be entered into the registry at that time. He, of course, has the option to decline to state his party, in which case he is entered as having declined, and, according to the opinion of most of the prominent attorneys of the county, when the voter declines to state his party affiliation he can not be permitted to vote. The law reads:

Must Be One Thing Or The Other.

"Whenever a voter declines to state his party affiliations, the word 'Declined' shall be written opposite his name in such column so that there shall be written in such column opposite the name of every registered voter, either his party affiliations or the word 'Declined.' Each and every voter as he appears at the first primary election at which he votes subsequent to the passage of this act shall, before he is permitted to vote at said primary, state to which party he is inclined and to which party he desires to have himself recorded as affiliated, and the Board of Registers, then sitting as Judges of Election, shall thereupon and at once enter in the column provided for party affiliations the name of the political party to which the voter is inclined and with which he desires to affiliate and in said primary and all primary elections thereafter held any person so registered as affiliated with a given political party shall have the right to vote the official ballot of that party and of no other."

The closing sentence of the section is the one responsible for the uncertainty in the matter.

Primary Will Be Unusual.

The primary this year will be unusual, from the fact that it will be necessary to vote direct on candidates for chief judge to succeed Judge James Alfred Pearce, candidates for Congress, and delegates to the national conventions. Both parties will be required to enter the primary on the same day, separate ballot boxes and separate ballots of different colors to be provided for each party with official envelopes to correspond.

The new law provided for a sitting of the registration offices throughout the county five days before the primary election for the purpose of revising the registration books by adding new voters giving transfers, etc., so that fair and full opportunity may be afforded to all voters duly qualified to take part in the primary election.
