Mary and Isabel Emory, sisters of Daniel Grant Emory, who married a daughter of Alexander Fulton and left a son, Thomas Emory and daughter, Letlia.

Arthur 2nd, brother of Arthur 1747, married Ann - - and left the following Sons: William, Edward and Giles.

John Emory, Senior, son of Arthur 1st, 1699, was Lord Baltimore's Deputy Surveyor and Receiver of Quit Rents in 1726 and in 1750-60 was one of the surveyors who represented Maryland in the survey of the boundary line between Maryland and Pennsylvania on the Chesapeake and Delaware Peninsula, which was afterwards prolonged by Messers Mason and Dixon in the famous Mason and Dixon line. He was a pew holder in Wye Church in 1723. He received, through his elder brother, Arthur 1747, by deed of gift from his father in 1683, "Bachelor's Chance". The other Emory colonial estates at this time were "Ingleside", "Warrington", "Coursey on Wye", "Saint Paul" and "Brampton".

John Emory married Ann ____. He died in 1763 and his will probated December 23, 1763, shows he left the following sons: Charles the Elder, John, Thomas, James, William and Charles The Younger, and daughters: Elizabeth and Ann.

John Emory of "Brampton", later "Poplar Grove", son of John Emory surveyor 1763, was born about 1710. He married Margaret Marsh, a sister of Mary and Sarah, wives of Gideon Emory 1st and John Emory, Jr., 1765, and daughter of Thomas Marsh 1712, who was a direct descendant of Augustine Hermann, the famous Bohemian nobleman, Lord of Bohemia Manor, in Cecil County, Maryland. He died intestate about 1740, leaving his widow, Margaret (who later married David Register) and two sons, John and Thomas and a daughter, Sarah (married Thomas Falcomer.)