were now 10 to 1 on Decatur, one of which bets Col. Johnson took himself. 100 to 1,000 on ascertaining from Arthur Taylor that he had girted the filly very tight, fearful that her saddle might slip if she made many such stumbles as had occured in the first heat. Due precaution was taken the next heat and Lady Clifden took the lead and maintained it to the end, coming in at her ease two lengths ahead.

Other races:

Baltimore, Md. May 17, 1837	Camden, N.J. Oct. 25, 1837
Camden, N.J. May 26, 1837	New York, N.Y. Nov. 3, 1837
Trenton, N.J. June 9, 1837	New York, N.Y. Nov. 10, 1837
Baltimore, Md. Oct. 11, 1837	Trenton, N.J. Nov. 17, 1837
Baltimore, Md. Oct. 20, 1837	Broad Rock, Va. April 27, 1839

Lady Clifden started in 14 races, won 9, and received forfeit in a match.

1. Over the Kendall Course, Md. May 27-1836 Sweepstakes	$500
2. Central Course, Md., Sept. 21, 1836 - Purse	200
3. Central Course, Md. Oct. 18, 1836, Sweepstakes	3,250
4. Kendall Course, Md., May 10-1837 - Purse	400
5. Central Course, Md. May 17, 1837 -Craig Plate	500
6. Camden Course, N.J. May. 26, 1837 - Purse	1,000
8. Kendall Course, Md. Oct., 11, 1839 - Purse-	400
10. Camden Course, N.J. Oct. 25, 1837, Match received forfeit	3,000
12. Union Course, L.I., Nov. 3, 1837 - Purse -	1,000
13. Beacon Course, N.J. Nov. 10, 1837 - Purse -	1,000
Making her winnings -	$11,050

She was beaten in five races as follows:

7. Over the Eagle Course, Trenton, N.J., June 9, 1837, by Mingo
9. Central Course, Md. Oct. 20, 1837 by Atalanta.
11. Camden Course, N.J., Oct. 27, 1837 by Mingo
14. Eagle Course, Trenton N.J., Nov. 17, 1837 by Atalanta.
15. At Broad Rock, Va., April 27, 1839 by Boston.

So much for the racing career of Lady Clifden, and though now retired from the public gaze, her victories will live in the memories of every son of the Turf, and be handed down in the annals of the times, even tho we should be disappointed in the fond expectations, now reasonably indulged, that her offspring will emulate by their deeds, those of their distinguished mother.