So Does Anty Drudge.

Mrs. Nuwoman—"I tell you, Anty Drudge, I believe in the emancipation of women from the drudgery of housework."

Anty Drudge—"So do I, but joining clubs and making speeches will never do it. The way to get rid of drudgery is to find better and easier ways of doing the work. That's why I'm telling women how to wash clothes with Fels-Naptha in lukewarm water. It takes all the drudgery out of washday."

Many a bad cold has started over the washtub. Use of hot water does that.

Steam opens the pores of the skin; then the change to a cooler temperature causes the cold.

If you want to avoid this danger, do your washing with Fels-Naptha soap in lukewarm water.

No boiling! No nauseous odors! No steaming suds!

Fels-Naptha loosens the dirt while the clothes soak in lukewarm water and does it far more thoroughly than boiling.

Then you rub the clothes lightly, rinse in lukewarm water and your washing is done.

Especially successful with flannels, woolens and colored things.

Clothes are cleaner and whiter, too. And they last longer. No boiling to weaken them. No hard rubbing to wear them out.

Be sure to get the genuine Fels-Naptha and follow directions on the red and green wrapper.

GEO. VICKERY IN JAIL

Noted Mule Dealer Played Wild West Tactics On Thomas Johnson and Is Held Without Bail.

Thomas S. Johnson, an employe of William Collins, owner and proprietor of a large stable at Smyrna, Del., was viciously assaulted at a late hour Thursday night and Geo. Vickery, a resident of Missouri, is held in the sum of $4,750 bail, on charges of assault with intention to commit murder, carrying concealed a deadly weapon and pointing a pistol.

Johnson was sent to the University Hospital, in Philadelphia on the express train leaving Clayton at 3 o'clock Friday morning, in hope that his life may be saved, although it is feared he may not recover. He is suffering from concussion of the brain, a fractured skull and paralysis of the right side. The trouble arose over Johnson having placed a claim against some mules owned by Vickery, because he asserts that Vickery had failed to pay him, and a squabble resulted, in which the lie was passed, and Vickery is alleged to have hit Johnson with the butt end of a revolver and then pointed the pistol at his head. The blow was on the left side of the head.

Vickery claims he hit the man with his hand, but this was denied by Collins, who is said to have been an eyewitness to the affair, and who asserted, at the hearing before Magistrate Anthony, that the blow was made with the butt end of a revolver.

After the hearing and placing the assailant under the heavy bail bond, Magistrate Anthony learned that the condition of Johnson was precarious, and on learning that there was little if any hope for the recovery of the assaulted man, he hastened to Dover, where he consulted Deputy State's Attorney W. W. Harrington relative to placing the prisoner under arrest without bail.

Sheriff Joshua B. Raughley was sent for and took charge of Vickery, and removed him to the jail for safe keeping and to await the result of the condition of Johnson.

Vickery is well known in Kent county, where he conducted large mule sales last winter.

PRINCE—LEAGER.

One of the prettiest weddings occurring in recent years on the Eastern Shore took place on Saturday, April 20, when Miss M. Ethel Leager, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Luther R. Leager, residing near Ruthsburg, became the bride of Mr. Edward D. Prince, of Dover, Del. The ceremony was performed by Rev. James C. Comiskey, of Dover, and who will be remembered by hosts of friends throughout Queen Anne's county acquired during his pastorate of several years at Centreville. The bride was beautifully attired in a gown of imported white liberty satin, trimmed with pearls and crystal, and carried white roses. She was attended by Miss Mary Prince as maid of honor and Mr. W. A. Prince as best man. The maid of honor wore a gown of pink messaline and carried pink carnations.

The decorations were a beautiful feature of the occasion and consisted of cut flowers, branches of apple blossoms and an arch constructed in the form of an arbor, on which were entwined more than a hundred and fifty large white, pink and cream roses and Easter lilies. The green lattice effect was further beautified by a covering of apple blossoms, behind which rose an altar bearing large candelabra, festooned with smilax and banked with cut flowers, and above which was suspended a large floral bell, transforming the parlor into a charming woodland scene.

Only the immediate families were in attendance, as no invitations or announcements were issued. Many beautiful gifts of crystal and silver were received. The bride is a graduate of St. Gertrude's Academy, of the class of 1910, and is an accomplished pianist as well as an expert in oil and china painting. After the wedding breakfast the happy couple left for a short stay at Atlantic City. They will reside in Dover, where Mr. Prince holds the position of Manager of the Commercial Department of the Diamond State Telephone Co., in charge of the territory in the State of Delaware, outside the Wilmington District; also the Western Union business in Dover. They will be at home to their friends after May 1st on North Bradford street.
