HEALTH CONFERENCE

The Kent County Conference a Success—Talented Speakers and Large Audiences.

Chestertown has had the honor this week of setting an example to all the towns and counties of Maryland. The Kent County Health Conference on Tuesday and Wednesday at Stam's Hall was something entirely new to our people. A large audience was present on Tuesday evening to listen to the addresses on subjects of the most vital importance to every man, woman and child in the county—HEALTH.

This conference was arranged by some of the progressive physicians and laymen of Chestertown, who have given the details of the conference much labor. The Medical and Chirurgical Faculty and State Board of Health had charge of the conference. Some of the most talented professional people of Maryland were the spsakers. Dr. J. W. Cain, of Washington College, made a few introductory remarks on Tuesday evening and Dr. H. G. Simpers acted as chairman. Dr. F. B. Hines was chairman of the Wednesday night meeting. The address of Dr. Mary Sherwood, of Baltimore, on "Impure Milk as a Cause of Disease" and infant mortality was a revelation to the audience. Dr. Sherwood said that the government was appropriating about THREE MILLION DOLLARS for cattle and hog inspection and the like, and only thirty thousand for improving the health of babies. She gave a most interesting, instructive and illustrated address upon the manner in which milk is now furnished the public, the improved methods and inspection that are being urged by the Board of Health and the horrible high death rate of babies caused by impure milk. Dr. Sherwood is a brilliant, talented and entertaining speaker and will always find a welcome in Chestertown.

The illustrated address of Dr. William Royal Stokes upon the fly, mosquito and other insects, was given in a manner that was impressive and the audience will not soon forget. Dr. Stokes also spoke on Wednesday afternoon on "How to Keep Babies Well." The tuberculosis talk on Wednesday evening was given by Dr. O'Neal. Dr. Harvey G. Beck, of Balto., made interesting introductory remarks also.

The importance of pure water supplies for towns and county was well presented by Ezra Whitman, water engineer for Baltimore city, with fine views.

Sanitary sewage disposal for rural districts was given in a practical address by L. L. Lumsden, Surgeon of Marine Hospital service.

DEATH'S DOINGS.

MRS. ANNIE E. CROUCH

Mrs. Annie E. Crouch, beloved wife of Capt. William Crouch, died at her home in Piney Neck, Wednesday noon, aged 71. The deceased had been a sufferer a long while, but bore her trouble with Christian patience and fortitude. She was a native of Talbot county and married Capt. Crouch more than forty years ago. She was a faithful and devoted help-meet, a mother who lavished every attention upon her dutiful children, and a neighbor whom everyone loved. She was untiring in her ministrations to the sick, and her greatest pleasure was in doing for others. She leaves a husband and four children, viz, Mrs. Rose Strong, James W. Crouch, teller in Chestertown Bank, Mrs. Harry Hudson and Nelson H. Crouch, Washington. The funeral took place yesterday, interment in Wesley Chapel Cemetery, Rev. Mr. Dupuy officiating; Charles L. Dodd, undertaker. The bearers were: Messrs. John E. and Walter H. Hadaway, Charles D. and James M. Wood, William E. DeFord and William J. Frazier.

SUFFRAGISTS IN TOWN.

A meeting in the interest of votes for women was held in the Court House at Chestertown on Monday evening. There was a large attendance. Dr. Louis E. Barrett presided and spoke in advocacy of the new order of things. Mrs. Nannie Melvin made an earnest appeal to the men for support and urged the women to organize for the fight to obtain their demands. Miss Lenore O'Reilly, leader of the shirtwaist strikers in New York, also spoke. Miss O'Reilly "came up from the ranks," as she expressed it, having been at one time a maker of shirtwaists. She was for several years director of the Manhattan Trade School for Girls, which has now become a part of the public school system of New York city. She is vice-president of the Women's Trade Union League.

An interesting feature of the meeting was the awarding of $5 to Lester Baldwin for best essay on Woman Suffrage among college students; $5 to Miss Ruth Clendaniel for best essay of the High School contestants and $5 to Miss Blanche Scutten, of Kennedyville public school.

CHAUTAUQUA tickets at $1 98 are on sale. Reductions are quite fashionable.
