DEATH'S DOINGS.

DR. NED. M. JETER.

Dr. Ned. M. Jeter, a prominent physician of Kent county, Maryland, died suddenly of neuralgia of the heart on Tuesday evening at 6 o'clock at his home in Millington. He had just partaken of the evening meal with his family and had gone to his room to read his paper when they heard him fall. He was breathing his last when they reached his side. He had been practicing medicine in this county for fifteen years and his death is a shock to the people in this community who will feel his loss greatly.

Prior to coming here Dr. Jeter practiced medicine at Elkhorn, W. Va., where he was the first registered physician in McCowell county, being employed by the Houston Coal & Coke Co. He received his early education at the Virginia Polytechnic Institute, from there going to the University of Virginia where he displayed marked scholarship by completing the course in two years. He then entered the University of Maryland, graduating in the class of '87 with high honors. Dr. Jeter was the 14th in succession of the Jeter family who have practiced medicine and surgery. His father was the late Dr. Benj. Jeter, who for 20 years was surgeon of the Norfolk and Western R. R. His mother was Miss Susan Bonsack, of Bonsack, Va., a member of the family the large woolen manufacturers.

Dr. Jeter married Miss Jennie McWhorter, of Millington, Md., who survives him with two sons, Allan Ashby and Julian Power Jeter. He also leaves two sisters, Mrs. J. M. Harris, of Roanoke, Mrs. Strader, of Bluefield, W. Va. and three brothers, Charles Jeter, of Reading, Pa., and Jacob and Albert, of Bonsack, Va

After eating his supper, Dr. Jeter went up to his bedroom with a lamp in his hand, he sat the lamp on the mantle in his room and it was supposed that he started to go to a chair which was sitting near the mantel, but before reaching the chair he fell to the floor. LOCAL NOTES

THE sale of cattle at Caldwell's sale was the best yet. They sold quick.

THE College students in celebrating their great football victory Saturday overstepped the mark and the town authorities erred in not making arrests. They made the night hideous with their behavior and besides breaking the big window in Walter Bramble's store they appropriated other people's property to their own use without the owners' consent. The officers state that they will be prepared next time to enforce the law.

THE painting of Owen B Crow's house and store makes quite an improvement to the uptown corner. Judge Kendall and A. M. Culp are also having their homes painted.

The town commissioners have placed a board walk over the ravine on Kent street, near the laundry, which is greatly appreciated by the residents and pedestrians who travel that street. A permanent walk will be put there next year.

THE NEWS is in receipt of a fine sample of Mr. James D. Jarman's "Golden Pippin" appples raised on his Catts' Corner farm.

PROF. P. M. CARRIER, of New York, now residing in Chestertown, at the old Electric Light Plant, has purchased the property of Mr. Samuel Wallis, situated at Butlertown, near Worton, consisting of dwelling, store, out buildings, 23 acres of ground and school house on same.

THE price of cream served by the Schauber route was advanced in price beginning October 15th. Next.

THE shipments of tomatoes from Fairlee Creek was omitted from the NEWS table. Mr. J. W. Warfield who had 40 acres in tomatoes thinks there were 40,000 baskets shipped from Fairlee Creek.

W. W. BOYD has bought 15,000 baskets of Keiffer pears to be shipped from Brown's wharf in Quaker Neck, at ten cents per basket.

WM. MASON SHEHAN, State Insurance Commissioner, was a guest of Senator Beck Saturday. He has turned over to the State treasury a check for $175,000, this being the second payment made the State during his incumbency to the office. The insurance department is the only one in the State government which is a money-maker for the State. The amount turned in to the State over and above all operating expenses this year will probably be $300,000 and the business of the office is constantly growing.

IT is said that another young business man of Chestertown will soon become a benedict.

LLOYD L. BURKE, and his solicitor, J. Richard Standiford have petitioned Gov. Goldsborough for the pardon of the former. Burke was convicted November 23rd, 1901, for assault upon Helen Tarman, 12 years old, in Queen Anne's county, the same year. The trial was removed to Talbot county. Burke was sentenced to be removed to Queen Anne's county and hanged, but later his sentence was changed to life imprisonment in penitentiary. The petition has been forwarded to Easton, arriving there Saturday, for the signature of the jury, which was made up of the following: Wilson M. Tyler, of Easton; Millard F. Oxenham, of Royal Oak; Robert G. Cooper, of Bozman; John M. Harrison, of Sherwood; Robert E. Bell, of Bozman; Isaac S. Swanne, of Easton; Samuel Gale, who has since died; M. L. Worten, of Baltimore; Allan S. Martin, deceased; Walter C. Hughes, of Easton; William J. H. Wooters, of Easton; and Edward S. Neavitt, of Neavitt.

THE Arlington Hotel, Centreville, is closed for the second time within the last four years, and, while no arrangement have yet been made for its reopening it is not believed that it will be idle more than a few weeks, Mr. H. M. Gilbert, who has been proprietor of the hostelry for the last three years, made a deed of trust for the benefit of his creditors last week and left for Baltimore last Wednesday, where he has accepted a lucrative position. The hotel is now in the hands of the trustee, Mr. James T. Earl, and every effort possible will be made to have it reopened within a very short time.

THE sealed bids for erecting the primary school at Centreville were opened Tuesday by the school commissioners, there were five bidders, whose names and bids were as follows: Geo. E. Lane, Queenstown, $14,813, Culp bros. Chester $14,972. H. B. Pilchard, Pocomoke City, $16158; Pusey & McAllen, Princes, Anne, $16200; C. C. Pippin, Greensboro, $16225. Mr. Geo. THE small schooner Andrew Johnson, bound from Chester river to Baltimore with 400 bushels of oysters, was run into Wednesday night in the Craighill by the schooner Bessie Reed, of Tappahanhock, Va., bound down. The Johnson was sunk, but Captain Burgess and his crew of one man were taken on the Reed and landed at Annapolis Thursday morning. The oysters were for the H. McWilliams Packing Company, of this city.

THERE will be Democratic mass meeting in Chestertown on Tuesday, October 22 and some fine speakers will be on hand to address the meeting, for besides the Hon. J. Harry Covington ex-Attorney General Isaac Lobe Straus and the Hon. Henry D. Clayton, congressman from Alabama, will make addresses.

Auto Attacked by a Cow.—Mr. William McKenney had a very peculiar and at the same time a very thrilling experience Sunday night while enroute from Philadelphia to Centreville in his automobile. Shortly after leaving Wilmington he came upon a herd of cattle in the road and slowed up his machine and ran through them very carefully. Just as he had almost passed them one of the cows, it is supposed, became terrified at the lights, and with a bellow charged head first into the advancing machine with the result that she was knocked flat in the road and the auto got a cracked radiator and her lamps were about put out of commission, but not so the cow, for she immediately jumped up and made off and as far as Mr McKenny could ascertain no serious injury was done her.
