SATURDAY, OCTOBER 26, 1912

☞ The date on the label on your paper shows the time to which your subscription is paid.

JUDGE CLAYTON and Gov. Ansell are men of big calibre and gave the audience a grand treat.

HON. J. H. COVINGTON, our candidate for Congress, made one of the best speeches ever heard in Chestertown Tuesday night. He merits the votes of every white man.

How can Wilson help from winning? Taft prefers him to Teddy and the latter prefers "Woody" to Taft and as Wilson is willing—how can he help it? Why not make it unanimous?

THE Teachers' Institute held in Chestertown this week was an intellectual banquet and a musical feast. Prof. J. L. Smyth's finely arranged program was superb and Miss Stuart's musical features enjoyable. It was decided to hold the next Institute at the time of Chautauqua in September.

SENATOR JOHN WALTER SMITH recently returned from a visit in New York, and is more confident than ever that Governor Wilson will sweep the country. He said he was convinced that the people of the United States have made up their minds to have a change in the National administration and that Wilson was drawing to his support not only Democrats of every creed, but thousands of Republicans and Independent voters who were aroused on the subject of the high cost of living and that the results in November would show that the people at large appreciated the efforts made by a Democratic Congress to pass laws which would cheapen the living cost of the masses.

ISN'T it about time the tax-payers and citizens generally were taking some steps to inaugurate some method by which cases for sums less than $25, $50 or $100 must be settled without an appeal to the jury term of court. The bulk of the business of the Kent county court has been cases in which small sums of money were involved. One case the suit was for $21.49, another $8, and another $45, etc. Whoever won in most of these cases he would lose more than he recovered besides running the tax-payers to considerable cost. Would not a practical plan be to compel the Judge who sits in January and July to hear these cases and his verdict to be final. Of course this remedy would require an amendment to the Constitution. If this plan would impose too much work on the Bench, then have an extra Judge. This question is one which we commend to the attention of our Granges, and other organizations for consideration.

THE INDIAN SUMMER OF LIFE.

Some one has well said that of all the seasons of the year in our American climate there is none so tender, so beautiful, so weird and unearthly, so fascinating and perfect, as the Indian Summer; after the autumn of fruits and frosts, when the forests are mantled in crimson, fire and gold, when chill winds and vagrant snow squalls warn of the approach of ice-mantled winter, then some invisible hand seizes the galloping steeds of the seasons and reins them up suddenly for a few days, while earth, air and sky weave around the weather-beaten brow of the year the golden crown of Indian Summer. The sun pours down a soft and dreamy golden light; the sky is robed with a delicate, purplish gauze that seems to float everywhere; the air is balmy and caressing. There is a bewitching charm in the unearthly spell that has been cast upon nature.—Exchange.

THE annual meetings and show of the State Horticultural Society and affiliated agricultural associations, which will be held in the fifth Regiment Armory, Baltimore, Md., November 19—23, bid fair to be the largest and best ever held in the State. A special effort is being made to show commercial packs of fruit and vegetables. Many barrels and boxes of apples are already in cold storage, and a large quantity will be shipped direct to the Armory prior to opening of the Show.

A special feature of the Show this year will be club exhibits. Several Farmers' Clubs and Grange Organizations in different parts of the State are planning to make club exhibits of agricultural products. Special prizes for such exhibits are announced;—Best Club Exhibit, $50; 2nd, $25; 3rd, $15; 4th, $10.

To vote the full Democratic ticket only three marks are necessary—one for President and Vice-President, one for Congressman and one for chief judge. No sample ballots will be allowed, the law expressly forbidding any representation of the ballot outside of the polling booth.

Don't forget the supper at Lyrch this afternoon.

ROCK HALL NOTES.

Over One Hundred Conversions at Revival in M. E. Church—Personals, &c.

The oyster business assumed a vigorous boom this week.

A good soaking rain on Wednesday was highly appreciated in this section.

Mrs. Alexander's millinery window display is attracting lots of attention these days.

Mrs. B. F. Sewell has a troublesome pet (a gathered hand) which has caused suffering the past two weeks.

Immense quantities of Keiffer pears are being shipped from Lankford's Bay and other lower Chester river points.

Our well beloved friend, George L. Maslin, is in a precarious condition at this writing and with little hope of his recovery. The best of medical skill and nursing is being given him

Kramer's fall opening on Wednesday was considerably marred by inclement weather and bad traveling. A goodly number of shoppers called, though, and left well pleased with their purchases.

The big revival at the M. E. Church is still in progress with unabated interest. About 107 have professed conversion up to this writing. Revival services began at Wesley Chapel M. P. Church on Sunday evening.

Mr. Clarence Akers met with a serious accident on Monday, while crossing Chester river in the power yacht, Unity Hill. Acting as engineer, the engine kicked back on him, which caused the breaking of his leg. He was taken to the hospital on Tuesday morning.

The State officials of the Patriotic Order Sons of America will visit the local Camp here next Friday evening, when a large class of candidates will be initiated. Besides the initiatory ceremonies and the regular session of the Camp, there will be fine speaking and refreshments. Come down, Bro. J. F. W., and bring others of No. 34, and we will do you good.

THE SORROWS OF A BOSS.

"Answer not a Fool according to his folly lest thou also be like unto him."

MESSRS. EDITORS:

For a few weeks the Transcript delegated its duties to the Boss to the "Great Discoverer" but they seem to think Sam in such bad plight that he must have reinforcement. So they hurried to his aid.

We are told "the wicked flee when no man pursueth." Is it for this reason that the "Constant Black-guard" proclaims in its last attack that they would be called "liars," "gangsters," "assassins," etc? Knowing their proper names did they try to soften their conviction by pleading "guilty" in advance? For it is only the guilty who frame up a defense before they are accused. It does not occur to the innocent that they will need any. Now the Gang having grasped power and ruled the county for several years, largely by the force of denunciation and libel, they seem fearful that the edge of this weapon may have become too blunt to strike the proper amount of terror in the hearts of their critics and enforce silence. So they add the Thug to their active staff to overawe by highway attacks those who have no fear of their newspaper calumnies. Gangsters work along similar lines whether in New York or Chestertown. In New York they employ the Gunman while in Chestertown they use the Thug. The purpose of their activities is the same. TO PREVENT THE PUBLIC FROM KNOWING THE TRUTH.

For they know that with the veil of Hypocrisy stripped from them, the Public will know that all their cant about the Public's interest is used only as a cover to their own greedy and crafty raids on the tax-payers pockets. It is evident from the increased Lying and outburst of Thuggery in the camp of our Boss that he is fearful of the effect of Truth on the voters who have placed the Gang in power. We can well imagine his desperate state as he views the exultation in the organization ranks now slowly reforming for another battle. He is dismayed as he beholds them rising again from the political mire where they were Trampled last year in the "Charge of the Glorious Six Hundred" Doubtfuls. As the reports of discontent and rebellion reach him concerning the neglected and dangerous Highways all such manifestations of disloyalty may be "mauled" out by "My Son Biff" when he is informed that the poorly paid teachers are leaving the county for more liberal and civilized counties such troubles are cured by "Loyal Sam" publishing another Libel on a member of the School Board in "Constant Blackguard." But the ghost of the old Organization, murdered by Slander and buried by Corruption, shaking her gory locks as it stirs again, strikes terror to his affrighted soul.

Sore wounded by the shafts of Truth, the Boss writhes. His organ "Constant Blackguard" having Libelled until discredited and despised he sees no weapon but Thuggery to support his Dynasty now tottering to a fall at the hands of the aroused Organization.

Truly this is a sorrow hard to bear. But let him console himself with the thought that if he is called from this political vale of tears, he will have Faithful Sam to sit on his tombstone and weep. Sam whose affectionate heart was so deeply moved over his severely wounded master that he felt that something desperate must be done to assuage the sufferings of the stricken Boss. Talk about the love of a dog for his master; talk about the love that triumphs over death; but Sam's brand has got 'em all "skinned a mile." So Sam sits even now—poor stricken Sam, bowed in his great grief at the feet of his afflicted master. Should the passer-by on Church Alley be startled by wild shrieks and moans at all hours of the day or night, let him not think it is anything so commonplace as a death occurring; no, stranger, it is only Sam, poor heart-rent Sam, weeping over his flabergasted Boss with a grief that "passeth all understanding."

But Sam's most agonizing thought is that on the Political death of his Boss he will be left an orphan. But the Organization dare not run the risk of prosecution for cruelty to Animals by inflicting such suffering. They will bury him at his Boss' feet and write on the monument erected over his political fragments, TO THE "GREAT DISCOVERER," THE ONLY ONE OF ITS KIND, "THANK THE LORD."

Attorney General's

Instructions To Voters

1. To vote. Enter room, step up to guard rail, give name and registered residence to the Judges. Wait until your name is found upon the registers, then get ballot from the judge in charge of the ballots. See that he has written your name and number on the coupon attached to the ballot and his own name or initials on the back of the ballot itself.

2. Upon receiving your ballot, retire to one of the booths or compartments and prepare your ballot by marking with an indelible pencil after the name of every person, or persons, except Presidential Electors, for whom you wish to vote, and to the right thereof, in the blank space provided therefor, a crossmark, for example (X); and in case of a question submitted to a vote of the people, by marking likewise in the appropriate space a cross mark (X) against the answer you desire to give.

In the case of Presidential Electors, you can either make a separate cross-mark (X) opposite the name of each of the candidates for Presidential Electors (not exceeding eight in number for whom you wish to vote; or if you wish to vote for the Presidential Electors of any political party you can make a single cross-mark (X) in the square opposite the surnames of the nominees of that party for President and Vice-President. If you wish to vote for some one whose name is not printed on the official ballot you can write the name of such person in the blank space on the ballot provided for that purpose and place the cross-mark opposite such name in the blank space provided therefor.

3. In marking your ballot you may take with you into the polling place any written or printed memorandum or paper to assist you in preparing your ballot, except a fac-simile of the ballot to be voted, but in the counties of Anne Arundel, Calvert, Charles, Kent, Prince George's, St. Mary's, Somerset, Talbot and Worbester, it is unlawful to take into the polling place any stencil, ruler, measurer or any other mechanical device of any material or form as a means of aid, guide or assistance in marking your ballot. You must prepare and deposit your ballot without undue delay. Before coming from behind the curtain in front of your compartment you must fold your ballot in the same way as it was folded when you received it, so that the marks which you have made upon it shall be entirely concealed. You then hand your folded ballot to the judge at the ballot box, give him your name and registered address and wait until he tears off the coupon containing your name and number, and strings it, and deposits your ballot in the ballot box. You must then leave the polling room and can not again go behind the guard rail during the day.

In Baltimore City and all of the Counties of the State, except Anne Arundel and Worcester; voting for more candidates than there are offices to fill only invalidates the vote for that particular group in which the mistake occurs, but in the counties of Anne Arundel and Worcester, the whole ballot will be rejected in such event.

4. A voter must not go into any compartment occupied by another or converse with any other voter while engaged in a compartment, nor can he occupy a compartment more than (7) minutes if others are waiting.

5. You must not take any ballot outside the guard rails. If you spoil a ballot you must deliver the spoiled ballot to the judge in charge of the ballots and receive another from him. If you spoil three ballots you lose your vote.

6. A voter who is physically disabled from marking his ballot must make affidavit to that effect if he desires assistance. The two polling clerks after such affidavit has been made, can accompany him into one of the compartments and there mark his ballot as he instructs them, marking only the names of the candidates whom he shall name. The clerks are not allowed to read the ballot to him.

7. Any voter who shall allow his ballot to be seen by any person with the apparent intention of letting it be known how he is about to vote; or place any distinguishing marks upon his ballot, or who shall make a false statement as to his inability to mark his ballot, or who shall interfere or attempt to interfere with any voter when inside the enclosed space in the polling room, or who shall mark his ballot, or who shall endeavor to induce any voter before voting to show how he marks or has marked his ballot, shall be punished by a fine of not less than five ($5.00) dollars nor more than one hundred ($100.00) dollars, or by imprisonment in jail for a period of not exceeding (60) days, or by both fine and imprisonment in the discretion of the Court.

TO PROSPECTIVE

Tomb-Stone Buyers

Any one who may desire a duplicate of any of the stones erected in Chester Cemetery by outside parties can get it here at home, and in every instance but one at considerably less. I will save you all the extra expense that a dealer away would have in erecting one here. You will not be asked to pay a penny until the work is completed. Then if it is not as good in every respect as the one now erected, you are not obliged to accept it. You take no chances whatever when you deal with me.

In all classes of Monument and Tomb Stone Work you will find my prices lower than city prices. We are always glad to give estimates.
