MISREPRESENTATION!

The report in the Barroll organ last week from the "ABSOLUTE RELIABLE AUTHORITY"—that I had obtained the endorsement of Congressman Covington and the Organization for the Chestertown postoffice, is another one of that paper's numerous false statements. I have not mentioned my name for that position to a living soul and no one has mentioned it to me, and I would not have the place if it was offered me.

WM. B. USILTON, JR.

ISN'T it rather surprising that in some quarters there comes a wail of opposition to a vote being taken for the office of Postmaster of Chestertown?

ANNOUNCEMENT has been made that a plan for the merger of the Merchants' National and the National Mechanics' Banks of Baltimore had been agreed upon by the directors of each. The new bank will be known as the Merchants and Mechanics' and it will occupy the present building of the Merchants' Bank, South and Water streets.

A DISPATCH from Marion, Ky., says: "A primary election will be held here January 18 to determine the choice of the community among several aspirants for the postmastership. Senator-elect Ollie M. James, whose home is here, has agreed to endorse the candidate receiving the greatest number of votes."

Why not let the people choose this important official? He is the man with whom all the people have business and and a much more lucrative office than Senator, Treasurer or Sheriff.

THE proposition of Andrew Carnegie to pension all ex-presidents and their widows has been unanimously spurned by the press of the country. In the first place there is no occasion for a pension of a man who gets $50,000 every year for four years and in the next place the Government does not want to become a partner in the Steel Trust. If Mr. Carnegie would endow a Hospital or build an orphanage, etc., he would be doing a greater good with his immense wealth.

THE Democrats in Kent who made it possible for Wm. P. Jackson to occupy Senator Rayner's chair in the Senate must feel like licking themselves. Don't do it again. Mr. Gorman may not have been your choice for Governor but there are other matters depending on Democratic success. We are thankful the appointment only continues 14 months. Then Lee, Marbury, Straus, Warfield, Preston, Gorman, or Bruce may be elected.

IN the death of Isador Rayner the nation has met with a great loss, his state an orator of wide reputation and his party a shining light. He was an unusual and important figure in the politics of Maryland. He took little active part in the management or control of the affairs of the Democratic party, and his long and successful political career is therefore extremely remarkable. His repeated elections to office were undoubtedly because of his great name as a political orator and the high regard in which he was held by the people. With his first entrance into Congress he acquired a reputation as a very forceful orator and an able exponent of constitutional questions.

SELDOM is it that the award of an arbitration commission gives entire satisfaction, and the decision of the arbitrators in the great railway case is no exception to the usual rule. The decision, however, is binding only until May, 1913, and it is probable that trouble will break out again. Under the decision some 90,000 locomotive engineers on the Eastern railroads get an increase in wages, although all the demands of the engineers are not granted. It is estimated, however, that the grant means an additional expenditure on the part of the railway companies of more than $7,000,000. Arbitration should be used in every dispute. There is no reason for strikes nor for war. There are always two sides to a question, and there must be a yielding on the part of each.

THERE are ample reasons for believing that the tariff program of the Democratic party, after that organization gains control of both the House and Senate, will lean toward conservative revision.

Fear of radical legislation on any of the big schedules is passing away with the continued assurances from Chairman Underwood and President-elect Wilson to the effect that no industry not now overprotected need fell alarmed.

These assurances apply particularly to the sugar interests of Louisiana as wel as to the lumber production. Both thess sources of domestic wealth have enjoyed a large measure of protection, and each will have its share of such "incidental" protection as may be found possible under a tariff-for-revenue policy. Sugar and lumber are the two Southern products that have asked most persistently for legislation to prevent thefr destruction. Cotton, too, has had a certain degree of protection, but this has benefited the mill interests rather than the growers. Sugar and lumber [illegible] next.

THE Eastern Shore is "it." Governor, two United States Senators, Comptroller, Insurance Commissioner, etc. We can fill every office in the State if necessary. This is the Garden of politicians as well as of Eden!

TONIC OF TRUTH NEEDED.

MESSRS. EDITORS KENT NEWS—

THE letter of our State's Attorney that I read in your issue last week was good for the soul, body, mind and strength, because it gave the public timely admonition for the maintenance of a square deal, truth and uprightness.

While it is true he stated plainly and without equivoration that the Transcript Publishing Co. had assailed him and his immediate predecessor, his statement was tempered with the true spirit of patriotism and the straightforward purpose of a gentleman.

He showed conclusively, and yet without hatshness, that the said Transcript Publishing Co. are not at all particular as to their statements, and for such disregard for carefulness and the 9th commandment they have now merited the condemnation of every good citizen of the county, whose fair name is thus being assaulted.

Yes, Mr. Vickers' letter was replete with a tonic (honest truth) that should be voluntarily applied by every Democrat to our party politics. If, however, there should be some who, for political supremacy, still decline to voluntarily make this much needed application, then the same must be administered in one sufficient dose at the next Democratic primary.

May the spirit of obedience to law, justice, truth and integrity hasten the occasion when bitterness, selfishness and intolerance shall be made to vacate all present holdings and that men who are imbued with "honest truth" shall assume every detail in the formation of Kent's official relation and social guidance.

It is not the purpose of the writer to enter into a discussion of the management of the State's Attorney's office; it is needless. The Judges of the Court, the lawyers at the bar and the citizens who have been called from time to time to take part in the proceedings of the court, are living witnesses that both of these gentlemen have performed their duties with signal ability, sympathetic yet fearless, forceful but dispassionate. The things of the Transcript Publishing Co. do not necessarily hurt these gentlemen as individuals from a pecuniary sense, but they do hurt the good name of our county, and there ought to be a stopping place.

This is the Publishing Co. that has succeeded in sucking some of the pap from the Democratic party for several years through its artfulness, its machinations and its diabolical misconstruing of the road question, until the men who are expected and who are actually employed to do road work must go unpaid for such duties until, it may be, they solemnly promise to vote the Anti ticket at the next primary. We predict that this Publishing Co. has well nigh reached its limit along this line.

Their contemplative misconstruing, their resort to abuse of the road supervisor and the school commissioner, has proven to be two beautiful BIG sticks that are now striking back with a vengeance, so much so they have been suffering with a severe case of indigestion or something else, evidently because they have been Hick coughing somewhat; and we notice that the Hick-coughing has been so damaging to their defenseless political maw, that in a recent issue they announced they would take a much needed rest.

But Dr. Sedition would not listen for a moment at a childish petition for a rest, and he administered a double dose to the editorial cranium, and the funny business proceeds with the same old carelessness.

And so the banner of fair old Kent is being dragged into questionable paths; her Judges held up, her grand jury proceedings pilfered, her other county papers indecently nagged, her school commissioners charged with wanting money to build nigger school houses, and now the character of her State's Attorney is being attacked. Isn't it a shame?

In the old countries the subjects joyfully cry out, "God Save the King." Isn't it about time the citizens of the county were crying in every town, village and cross-roads, "God save our dear old county?"

The remedy is to apply the inspiration of Mr. Vickers' tonic—absolute truth.

Name...

EX-GOV. GLENN, of North Carolina, says that the state is entering upon an era of prosperity the like of which it has never known. The state is gaining by leaps and bounds. This prosperity he attributes to state-wide prohibition. Crime has dimished 50 per cent; forty prisons in the state are empty; school attendance has doubled, and attendance on churches has increased one-half.

A GENERAL 10 per cent. advance in furniture is the result of a five-hour secret conference Saturday between furniture manufacturers in the Southern, Northern, New England and Middle Western States, according to a formal statement. Representatives of both the Southern Furniture Manufacturers and American Furniture Manufacturers' Associations were present.

Increased cost of timber, mirrors, labor and materials used in the manufacture of furniture are said to have made the increase necessary. Of course this also includes coffins. Next.
