Order of Publication.

Walter R. McIntyre, Annie Elizabeth Wilmore, colored, versus All Unknown Heirs of Edward Hall, colored, deceased.

In the Circuit Court for Kent County in Equity. No. 1837.

THE object of the Bill is to procure a decree for the sale of the real estate of Edward Hall, colored, deceased.

The Bill states:

1. That Edward Hall, colored, was in his life time indebted unto Walter R. McIntyre, one of the above named complainants, in the full and just sum of fifteen dollars ($15.00) on the balance of an open account for work on well and pump, and was also indebted in his life time to Annie Elizabeth Wilmore, colored, the other of the above named complainants, in the full sum of fifty dollars ($50.00) on an open account for personal attention, nursing, medicine and board, from December 1st, 1911, to February 6th, 1912, and from July 16th, 1912, to October 7th, 1912.

2. That the said Edward Hall, being in his lifetime so indebted as aforesaid, unto your orators and also unto divers other persons, and being seized and possessed of real estate, located in the First Election District of Kent county and State aforesaid, near Galena, departed this life intestate on or about the 25th day of October, 1912.

3. That the said Edward Hall, deceased, left no personal estate of any kind, and no letters of administration have been granted on his estate by the Orphans' Court of Kent county, as appears by the certificate of the Register of Wills, filed herewith, and marked "Plaintiffs' Exhibit No. 1."

4. That the said Edward Hall was never married and that it is unknown to your orators whether or not he left surviving him any heirs at law.

5. That the real estate of which the said Edward Hall died seized and possessed consists of a lot of land situated on the south of the public road leading from Chestertown to Galena, and near said town of Galena, in what is called Lower Branch, and contains about one acre of land, on which is a small frame house.

6. That said real estate formerly belonged to Thomas Hall, colored, whose wife's name was Susan Hall, and that the said Thomas Hall being seized and possessed of said real estate, died in this life intestate about twenty five or more years ago, and that the said Susan Hall, died about the same time, and that the said Thomas Hall left surviving him the following children as his heirs at law, namely: Henry and the said Edward Hall. And that the said Henry Hall being seized and possessed of an undivided one-half interest in said real estate, departed this life intestate about the year eighteen hundred and nine or nineteen hundred and ten, without ever having married, and surviving him as his only heir at law his brother, the said Edward Hall.

7. That so far as your orators know, or have been able to ascertain, the said Edward Hall left surviving him no paternal or maternal ancestors and no descendant of such ancestors or brother of them.

8. That your orators are advised that as there is no personal estate of the said Edward Hall, deceased, for the payment of his debts, that your orator and his other creditors are entitled to have their claims paid out of the real estate of said Edward Hall, deceased.

And therefore this 20th day of November, 1912, ordered by the Circuit Court of Kent County in Equity, that the Plaintiffs by causing a copy of this order to be inserted in some newspaper published in said Kent county once in each of four successive weeks before the 23rd day of December next, giving notice to the said Unknown Heirs of Edward Hall, colored, of the object and warning them to appear in this court, in person or by solicitor, on or before the 6th day of January next, to show cause, if any they have, why a decree ought not to be passed as prayed.

COOKING IN SCHOOLS.

Domestic Science as Taught in The Chestertown High School.

In this ultra progressive age innovations, even of a startling nature, by their frequency of occurance, seem commonplace. Twenty years ago physical and chemical laboratories in High Schools were almost unheard of, and pedagogical methods now in vogue remained to be invented. But once these improvements were commenced rapid strides forward were made until in point of equipment may high schools even exceed colleges. It is claimed by many educators that the result of the present complex system of public education is a boy accomplished more or less in geometry and algebra, but unable to cope with the practical side of life, and a girl able to speak French but unable to cook a meal.

Therefore, in order to counteract this influence, domestic science was introduced to teach the girls to cook and housekeep. An equivalent step, in the form of a manual training department for the benefit of the boys, had been made in the Chestertown High School a number of years before the domestic science was introduced.

Miss Annie L. Copper is the efficient teacher in this department of Domestic Science and in an interview with the News man gave interesting account of her equipment, etc. "No," said she, "we have no gas stoves yet, but we expect to have gas in a very short time, as the range is in the basement and the pipes are laid to the basement and as soon as the connections are made we will be ready to cook by gas. The School Board has given us a splendid cooking table, fitted up with cupboards and drawers to hold the cooking utensils, knives, forks, spoons, etc. Last year the girls worked faithfully and earned a a fine kitchen cabinet and a 100-piece dinner and tea set. These were gotten with a $40 Larkin order.

"The classes range from the 6th to the 11th, over 100 girls in this department. They learn both the practical work and the theory. They study the combinations of foods, their classes, both their chemical and food values, make out menus for one meal, also for one week, giving the cost of same and studying both the combining of foods and the economy of same.

"They not only cook vegetables, meats, bread desserts etc., but this fall they canned tomatoes and apples, made pickles and preserves. This covers the preservation of foods and the sterilization of the jars, bacteria, etc. The girls have entertained the School Board and visitors, also the teachers and this not at the expense of the School Board either, the Superintendent and the girls paying the bills.

"We teach Domestic Art also. Three days in the week the girls sew, making work bags, aprons, under-garments and last year one class made dresses for themselves. We teach neither fancy cooking nor sewing. We do the plain, practical work. The girls seem much interested in both and we have papers on household management, including the keeping of a house on a business basis, furnishing and cleaning the rooms, setting the table and much attention is given to the kitchen. Cleanliness, neatness and order being our motto."

COST OF LIVING "SOLVED."

Cornell Student Gained in Weight On 85 Cents a Week.

The high cost of living problem has been solved by Raymond B. Sanford, a student in the State College of Agriculture, by strict adherence to the following menu daily:

Skimmed milk, buttermilk, stale bread at 3 cents a loaf, peanut butter, raisins, lentils, oatmeal and apples.

Sanford believes he has qualified as the "champion cheap dieter of the college world." By following the above scheme since he entered college last July he has lived on 85 cents a week. He was spurred to the test by reading of a Harvard student who lived on $1 a week. Sanford has gained weight. He is in his first year at Cornell and intends to continue his dietary experiment throughout his four-year course.

"The first week that I tried the experiment my food cost me $1.50," he said. "I had lived on butter, eggs and milk, with a little vegetable stuff added. That $1.50 included my gas bill. The second week I substituted peanut butter for regular butter, believing that it contained all of the fat that butter contained. I cut out eggs—they were too expensive. I went out on the lawns and cut dock and dandelions and ate that for my green stuff. During the last five weeks of summer school my board bill was $4.25. From October 1 to October 28 I had a chance to experiment more with different foods, and their week cost varied from eighty cents to $1. One week it was just thirty-three cents. In those twenty-eight days I gained three and two-thirds pounds in weight.

"My present diet consists of skimmed milk, which I buy at two cents a quart; buttermilk, three cents a quart; stale bread, three cents a loaf; peanut butter, ten pounds for $1.50 (ordinarily twenty cents a pound); raisins, three pounds for twenty-five cents; lentils, ten cents a pound; raw cabbages, onions, peppers, rice, oatmeal and what apples I can forage from the agricultural farm. I have special permission, by the way, for that foraging, so am not subject to being caught. So far I have eaten no meat—not because I do not like it, but because it is too expensive.

COMPLETE SCHEDULE OF RATES FOR PARCELS POST SYSTEM

Which Will Give Farmers, Merchants and Others a Splendid Opportunity for the Extension of Their Trade.

Postmaster M. W. Thomas has received the map and regulations governing the new Parcels Post system which will be put into effect in this county January first. The regulations shows that the system will prove a decided benefit to the farmer.

The map is interesting and at the same time puts the system on a basis where the rating can be made with a single glance. The map received here shows the whole of the United States, divided into states, into squares called "units," which units are numbered from the east to the west from 1 to 5,813

In addition to the units each postoffice unit is surrounded by a series of eight circles, the first circle having a radius of fifty miles, called the first zone, the second zone having a wider range and so on except that the fifth, sixth and seventh zones are about equal in radius, while the eighth includes all the territory from eastern Arizona, Utah and western Wyoming to the Pacific ocean, this series of zones of course applying to this unit.

This system of establishing the cost of transportation gives all the advantage to the home merchants as against foreign importation. For instance, it will be noticed from the table published herewith, which The News publishes for the benefit of its readers which includes Chestertown and its rural routes, the cost for transportating one pound is five cents, and the cost for one pound within the zone is also five cents, the 11 pound rate being 15 cents for local delivery and 35 cents for zone.

It will likewise be noted that the merchant in Chestertown can deliver 11 pounds to any patron within the zone for 15 cents local and 35 cents zone rate, while the Baltimore merchant will have to pay 46 cents for 11 pounds to get his merchandise into this zone.

Parcels weighing four ounces or less are mailable at the rate of one cent for each ounce or fraction of an ounce, regardless of the distance, and parcels weighing more than four ounces are mailable at the pound rates given in the table herewith published, each fraction of a pound counted one pound. The table follows:

| | First Zone. | | | | | | | | |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| | Local Rate. | Zone Rate. | Second Zone Rate. | Third Zone Rate. | Fourth Zone Rate. | Fifth Zone Rate. | Sixth Zone Rate. | Seventh Zone Rate. | Eighth Zone Rate. |
