PUBLISHERS AND EDITORS

SATURDAY, DECEMBER 28, 1912.

MAY the coming year be your best, in helfulness, good health and prosperity, is the wish of the NEWS.

IT is better to make resolutions and endeavor to keep them, even if they are broken than not to make any effort toward better things.

DON'T be hasty in forming opinions and passing judgment as to candidates for Senator or other offices. The Primaries for Senator take place in November, while the county and State primaries take place in September.

THE familiar paper boxes containing a jug have been plentiful at the express office for a week or more, and although the good thinking people of our county have declared against the saloon and the sale of intoxicating liquor, the city wholesale houses seem to be reaping a pretty good harvest from among us. Are we satisfied to let this practice go on, or shall we have a law prohibiting the shipment into the county. Other states have found this necessary, and a good thing, why should not we?

EGGS AT COST.

As a philanthropic enterprise the egg sale which the women of the Housekeepers' League inaugurated deserves appreciation to the extent that it relieves the immediate pressure of high egg prices. But as an economic remedy or as a demonstration of market conditions possible and to be hoped for, it fails because of the neglect of some important facts and factors of trade. Eggs can't be sold at cost except as a modified form of charity. They can't always be sold on counters which are rent free. The labor of marketing will not always be performed by volunteer clerks who will tendshop for the sake of the cause, without compensation. Eggs and all other commodities must earn in their final sale to the consumer a variety of costs which have been incurred on the [illegible] from the producers' hands, and this [illegible]te and its incidental costs generally [illegible] be found to have been reduced to a minimum as the long experience [illegible]de warrants.

[illegible] person, benevolently inclined, [illegible]o into the wholesole market and [illegible]ase a quantity of any commodity, [illegible]t on the curb, from his own house, [illegible] his time without thought of recom[illegible]se and the use of the capital involved [illegible]haut interest, and, freed from the [illegible]ordinary expenses of rent, interest, [illegible] insurance, clerk hire and the incidental loss of trade, may sell at cut prices. He may succeed by his competition in forcing prices in that particular commodity down to the level which he chooses to establish and which he calls "cost," but his achievement is only [illegible] of temporary effect. Prices will not stay at his level, simply because business is not done and cannot be done in that way. The artificial conditions on which such a market is established rob it of everything but its momentary effect and significance.

The egg sellers did a bargain-counter business, but when they have rid the market of its surplus, then will come the inevitable reaction.

Accident—One of Chestertown's boys thoughtlessly threw firecracker in the road last Saturday night, at about ten o'clock which caused the fine driving mare of Mr. Thomas Toulson, of Quaker Neck, to run away. The carriage was nearly destroyed, but the horse was unhurt.

Mr. Toulson was accompanied by two ladies who escaped unhurt, while he himself was slightly injured.

The vehicle was coming down High street when the firecracker was discharged, the horse immediately dashed toward Stam's Hall.

Mr. Toulson says he was compelled to pull in by the drinking fountain to avoid other teams. Here the carriage was upset and almost destroyed.

The horse of Mr. Charles Keithley, a baker, ran away last Wednesday week and badly damaged his delivery wagon.

An accident occured on High street Monday morning at 8 o'clock, which might have resulted seriously, when the automobile of Mr. Metcalfe, of Metcalfe & [illegible], grain dealers, ran into the carriage of Mrs. Barney Cooper, of Worton, smashing a wheel and hurling the little child to the ground.

Mrs. Cooper was driving down town, while Mr. Metcalfe was coming in the opposite direction. A farm wagon was hitched in front of the store of Messrs. Jefferson & Bro, which obscured the view of both automobile and carriage. Mr. Metcalfe saw the team but a [illegible] hindered him from getting his [illegible] working properly. He turned [illegible]ly, but collided with the vehicle. [illegible]s. Cooper's infant, which was wrapped snugly in a blanket, was hurled to the ground. Dr. Whaland examined the child and found that only a few [illegible]ght bruises were sustained.

THE merchants are giving thanks for a prosperous holiday. They deserved to succeed. Their stocks were large, fresh and varied, while prices were far below city prices. There is one important matter, however, which the Chestertown merchant should weigh seriously, viz., selling fire-crackers before Christmas. We believe there is valuable trade lost to this town because of these crackers. Does it pay, Mr. Merchant, to handle fire-crackers?

WEDDING BELLS

A pretty wedding took place Christmas morning at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James M. Wood, Piney Neck. The contracting parties were Miss Rilla Wood, a teacher in the Piney Neck school, and a popular young lady of Kent, and Mr. James B. Burgess, son of Mr. Vachel Burgess. The bride was tastily attired in a handsome dark blue traveling dress, hat and gloves to match and the ceremony was performed by the bride's uncle, Rev. James L. Elderdice, while sweet music from Lohengrin was rendered by the bride's sister, Miss Alice. Only a few intimate friends and the immediate family were present. The home was beautifully decorated the color scheme being red and green.

The happy couple took the steamer for Baltimore and thence by train to Washington D. C. to spend their honeymoon. They will be back to their cozy home in Piney Neck on Saturday, Dec. 28th, where they will be pleased to receive their many friends.

Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. James M. Wood and family, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. C. Wood, Mr. and Mrs. Jas. L. Elderdice, Mr. and Mrs. Milton Maslin, Mr. and Mrs. James Fitzpatrick, their daughter, Annie, and her husband, of Baltimore, and Mr. D. W. Crosby, who all wished the bride and groom long, happy and prosperous lives.

Mr. and Mrs. William G. Evans, of Pittsburg, Pa., formerly of Chestertown, announce the marriage of their daughter, Violet Melbourne, to Mr. Thomas Charles Lowe, on Wednesday, December 18th, 1912, at Pittsburg. Miss Violet is a skilled musician and made many friends while in town as did her parents.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. E. Reed, of Chestertown, was the scene of a beautiful wedding on Wednesday, Dec. 25th at 12 o'clock noon when their daughter, Ollie Warfield, was married to J. Herbert Councill by Rev. J. M. Arters of Portland, Me. Miss Naomi Reed, sister of the bride was bridesmaid and Mr. Clarence M. Newcomb, cousin of the bride was best man. Miss Ruth Lambert rendered the wedding march.

The bride was attired in a blue traveling suit with hat and gloves to match. The brides-maid wore a white silk dress and each carried a bunch of carnations. The groom and best man wore the conventional black with steel-colored gloves. The parlor was trimmed most beautifully with holly, crow-foot, cedar and mistletoe. After the ceremony a sumptuous dinner was served, only the immediate family and a few friends being present.

Mr. and Mrs. Councill left on the afternoon train for a tour and will be at home about Jan. 1st, at Wilmington, where the groom holds a lucrative position with the Diamond State Telephone Company.

Among the licenses issued were these: Benj. R. Cooper, of Del., Sarah Roe; Wm. Melvin Warner, Ida May Kendall; Wallis Ford, Helen Hackett.

PIPPIN—VANSANT.

The wedding of Miss Mary Vansant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. W. Vansant and Mr. Fred W. D. Pippin both of Kent Co. was quietly solemnized at Church Hill Thursday afternoon at four o'clock Rev. W. C. Smith officiating. The bride wore a tailor made suit of blue serge with large black hat. The groom wore the conventional black. They will leave Centreville Friday morning for Balto. and Washington. When they return they will reside at Lankford Kent Co. where the groom is engaged in farming.

KENNEDYVILLE NOTES.

The spirit and inspiration of the joyous Christmastide is seen and felt on every hand. The writer of these notes sincerely wishes for your valuable paper and all its many readers all the good things of the happy season, with many returns of the same.

Many carloids of corn have been shipped from our Kennedyville station during the past few weeks. Mr. Wm. Archibald, the courteous buyer has been a busy man, but he is fully equal to the occasion.

Mr. L. A. Pennington is building new cow sheds and other buildings at Mr. William Whiteley's to replace those recently destroyed by five.

Mr. Wm. Jewell has been suffering recently from rheumatism but is much improved at this writing.

William and George Clendaniel went over to Baltimore Saturday last to see their father at the Dr. Everhart Hospital. George remained over until Tuesday to come home with his father, who spent Christmas day with his family. Mr. Clendaniel seems to be doing nicely and the doctors are much encouraged.

Rev. and Mrs. William Clews, and little Hadley, left Kennedyville Monday afternoon by way the Pennsylvania R. R. for Washington city to spend their Christmas with the parents of Mrs. Clews.

On Tuesday of the past week, the 17th inst., Mr. and Mrs. Edgar R. Pennington celebrated their tenth marriage anniversary. Many of their friends were invited and a most delightful time was experienced by all present. The day was propitious, dinner was served from two to three o'clock. Two large tables were graciously supplied with all the delicacies and good things of the season with a roasted turkey to grace the head of each table. Those present were the following: Mr. and Mrs. Edgar R. Pennington, Mr. Thomas Kelley, Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Pennington, Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Jones, Mr. and Mrs. George Sutton, Mr. and Mrs, Edward Hepburn, Mr. and Mrs. William Baxter, and Miss Helen Baxter, Mrs. Ella Pennington, Mrs. Louise Pennington, Miss Lizzie Pennington, Miss Susie Hill, Miss Elizabeth Sutton, Miss Elizabeth Hepburn, Mr. E. B. Pennington, Jr., Mr. John Sutton, Master Richard Sutton, Master Irving Loller, Master Norman Pennington and Rev. and Mrs. F. H. Mullineaux. Late in the afternoon the guests of the joyful occasion bade their kind host and hostess a hearty "goodbye" wishing for them many happy anniversaries for the future.

Services for the Kennedyville M. P. Church for Sunday the 29th. Sunday school and Xmas treat at 9.30 o'clock a. m., New Year sermon at 10.30 by the pastor. C. E. Service in the evening led by Mrs. L. A. Pennington, topic, "Missionary needs and how we may help." All kindly welcome.

XMAS AT THE LAUNDRY.

Mr. Arno Heller, the bustling and courteous superintendent at the Chestertown Laundry, entered heartily into the spirit of Christmas and gave a big treat to the employes Tuesday evening. The Laundry was transformed into a big kitchen and dining parlors. The latter was beautifully decorated with bells, wreaths and sprays of holly while the table was a sample of artistic taste and expert dressing. The menu served by Isaac and his partner consisted of turkey and cranberries, potatoes white, potatoes sweet, gravy, slaw, celery, olives, pickles, etc., ices, cake, fruit, nuts, cigars, etc.

Besides the employes there were present as guests of Mr. Heller, the following: Mr. Robert G. Nicholson, master of ceremonies, R. Groome Parks, Esq., Mr. Wm. T. Hicks, and the NEWS man. The evening was one which will be long remembered for the splendid supper and for the kind heart which prompted it. The Chestertown Laundry is doing good work, its business is extending and its employes faithful and skilled.
