LOCAL NOTES

There were three burials in Chester Cemetery Wednesday!

A party of fox-hunters while riding near Corey's woods jumped a fox and Mr. Porter's horse while galloping along at a lively gait trod on a soft place, fell and broke his neck! The horse was a fine animal and the pet of his owner.

E. C. Tolson, of Kent Island, has three ewes which gave birth to ten lambs last week. Two gave birth to triplets and one gave birth to four. Let us hear if any other farmer's sheep in the county can beat it.

Miss Marine, of Baltimore, delighted a fair audience in Firemen's Hall Tuesday night with a splendid entertainment under the auspices of a committee of ladies from Christ Church. The music by the Chestertown orchestra was grand under Prof. Kemp Bordley's direction.

A. M. Culp has rented his Cross street store room to the United Bargain House, of Philadelphia, who will open on Friday, March 7th, with a full line of general merchandise, including groceries and 5 and 10 cts. goods. The manager, Max Cohen, says he will make the high cost of living much less by reason of his low prices in merchandise.

The oratorical contest for the Oates medal took place at Washington College Saturday afternoon. Dr. J W. Cain made an appropriate introduction after which the speakers addressed an appreciative audience. The College orchestra was a pleasing feature. Wendell DeWitt Allen, '13, of Towson, Md., won first prize his theme being ,'Washington and the 20th Century"; Marion Howk Landing, '13 of Marion Station, was second, his theme being "Immortal Washington"; Clyde McCellan Stouffer, '13, of Hagerstown, third, his theme being "Virtue and Courage." The Judges were Hon. James A. Pearce, John D. Urie, Esq., Prof. J. S. W. Jones.

As the winter is now about over, the Tolchester Co. will open up the Port Deposit and Sassafras river line spring schedule March 7th and 8th, as will be seen by advertisement in this paper. This gives a daily boat at Tolchester and Betterton.

The following books have been added to the Chestertown Public Library:

Andrew, The Glad, by Maria T. Daviess.
Bunker Bean, by Leon Wilson.
The Unknown Quantity, by Van Dyke.
The Return of Peter Grimm, by David Balasco.

The Ladies Town Improvement will meet next Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the home of Mrs. W. F. Russell.

Graham and Clements announce in another column their list of free presents. They include Majestic range, sewing machine and 40 other prizes.

Jimmey, the umbrella man, was knocked down by a team on Ringgold's crossing and cut his head, Jimmey says he was dazed for awhile.

Bordley and Sons have installed some beautiful plate glass show cases and counters in their new store on the corner of Cross and High street.

Dr. L. J. Shields, of Philadelphia, gave a practical demonstration Thursday in Chestertown at Fraternal Hall of the first aids to the injured. The C. & P. telephone employes furnished the subjects for the demonstration.

A dispatch from Hagerstown says: "Hagerstown. — The big orchards around Hancock are being overrun with rabbits which are eating and destroying thousands of dollars worth of fruit trees. One large orchard company sent a bill for $600 damages to State Game Warden F. E. Cox, of Baltimore, claiming that as rabbitts are protected by the State game laws the State should pay the damages caused by rabbits."

We would suggest that the State send to Chestertown and get Messrs. Chas. L. Dodd, Edw. Robinson, T. G. Wroth, J. E. Ferguson, Jack Hughes, James Brice and others who could soon clean up the whole bunch.

Inter-Class Meet at Washington College.

The different classes of Washington College will compete with each other in a twelve-event contest in the college gymnasium on Saturday night, March 15, for a fine trophy which goes to the winning class.

The meet will consist of the following events: 1 mile race, 50-yard dash, 100-yard dash, 220-yard dash, half mile race, 1 mile relay race, standing broad jump, running broad jump, standing high jump, running high jump; shot put and a tug of war.

Coach Porter believes that a rare treat is in store for the public in these events since a close and exciting contest is is expected.

ROCK HALL NOTES.

The wrapper factory operatives are highly enthused over the re-opening of the factory under the new management on Monday. Instead of beginning the day's work at 7 a. m. as heretofore they begin now at 7.30 a. m. and what pleases them immensely is the assurance of receiving their earnings promptly.

Mr. Joseph Downey is having the wooded growth cleared off his land on the west side of town.

Oystermen have struck quite a snap in securing floor planks from the Old Grey's Inn wharf which has been partly torn away. The planks are being converted into oyster rake shafts and are far superior to the shafts on sale hereabout.

Citizens of this section are not so anxious to attend the inauguration ceremonies next Tuesday as was the case at the first Cleveland inauguration, as very few contemplate going to Washington. Nearly all of us are so disgusted at the progressive, conservative and other tommy-rot that is constantly floating around to the detriment of good old democracy, that we have lost our enthusiasm over the election of a Democratic President.

Sorry to report our old friend L. C. Ayres on the sick list.
